

AFRAID SHE WAS DYING

Suffered Terribly Until She Took "Fruit-a-tives"

St. Jean De Matha, Jan. 27th, 1914.

"After suffering for a long time with Dyspepsia, I have been cured by 'Fruit-a-tives.' I suffered so much that I would not dare eat for I was afraid of dying. Five years ago, I received samples of 'Fruit-a-tives.' I did not wish to try them but, seeing my husband's anxiety, I decided to do so and at once I felt relief. Then I sent for three boxes and I kept improving until I was cured. While sick, I lost several pounds, but after taking 'Fruit-a-tives,' I quickly regained what I had lost. Now I eat, sleep and digest well—in a word, I am completely cured, thanks to 'Fruit-a-tives.'

MADAM M. CHARBONNIER.

"Fruit-a-tives" is the greatest stomach tonic in the world and will always cure Indigestion, Sour Stomach, "Heartburn," Dyspepsia and other Stomach Troubles.

FOR YEARS TO COME.

While the ultimate object of fox ranching is to supply the market with this most valuable skin, a yet more profitable business is that of selling the increase for breeding purposes. The enormous profits of the last three years have made in this way. The prices offered for the 1914 increase months before they were born, ranged from $10,000 to $12,000 per pair for class A stock. The demand for breeding stock is in excess of the supply; and though the time will come when the business must proceed on a petit basis, the price of the living animals of the incomparable breed developed in Prince Edward Island must assuredly remain at a very high level for many years.

During the week just passed many visitors from the United States have been in Prince Edward Island, securing first hand information in regard to the fox farming industry. Many of the visitors are prospective investors and every facility has been given them for studying the conditions as they exist.

FUR FARMING IN CANADA

Walter Jones' Book into second edition.

The second edition of Fur Farming in Canada, by Walter Jones, B.A., B.S.A., has just been issued by the Canadian Commission of Conservation. The second edition of 6,000 copies, has about 100 new pages and the statistics given are fuller and in a few particulars corrected. It will be remembered that the first edition was exhausted within a short time, and the demand for the new edition, even before its publication, was such as to necessitate a larger edition than had been provided for by the parliament. It was therefore decided to charge a nominal price to supplement the original grant. The price, fifty cents per copy, does not by any means represent the value of the book.

Of the information given in this new world-famous book, which ranks with the best works on animal life, it remains only to congratulate our esteemed fellow Islander, Mr. Jones, on his achievement. The book is a credit to him and an invaluable authority on that now most important topic fur farming.

There is much in it we would gladly reproduce did space permit but the following quotations will give the reader some idea of its style and value especially to the fox breeder:

"Stated in general terms, fur has become scarce because less is produced and more is used than ever before. The remarkable increase in the demand for costly furs in the past twenty years is due to a combination of causes. The population is growing. The relative number of people in the world is increasing. Commerce and more efficient seamanship have introduced furs all over the world so that their admirers and users are multiplied. Dame fashion, whose influence is predominant everywhere is responsible for a very heavy demand for the best and only the best and scarcest are in high favor with her. Then, too, our growing cities which multiply the opportunities for the well-to-do classes, engender competitive habits in choosing personal ornaments."

"The every expanding areas of human settlements have caused some kinds of fur-bearers to retreat farther into the woods and the clearing away of the forests and the grazing of the natural covers by domestic animals have destroyed their haunts and exposed them to their enemies."

Most interesting statistics are given showing the decreasing number of pelts and the increasing prices. The former ranging in the case of the silver fox, from ten per cent to 50 and 65 per cent; the latter from ten to 150 per cent.

Five pairs of 1914 Silver Black Foxes, selected from the highest grade of class A Stock. Particular care was taken by the promoters in securing foxes having prolific parents, some of which were among the season's earliest litters.

This Company guarantees that in the event of more foxes being added they will be from Island foxes of class A. The number already secured are of the Rayner, Tuplin and Oulton strain.

The Directors have entered into a contract with the Maritime Silver Black Fox Co., of Central Bedeque to ranch their foxes for a term of five years at the low cost of seven and one half per cent of the yearly increase. This includes all incidental expenses.

Considering the low capitalization and the moderate charge for ranching the directors look forward to a dividend in 1915 of at least from 60 to 80 per cent.
