THE INDUSTRIAL WAR.
The industrial war between the rival nations for supremacy is attracting a great deal of attention on the continents of Europe and America. A very noteworthy contribution to the industrial race has been supplied by Dr. Alexander Von Peez in the Munich Allgemeine Zeitung.
He says:

"Not China and not the Transvaal war, but the race between the great industrial countries—England, Germany and the United States—forms the highest interest of the future. Slightly less important consequently, not so rapidly has Germany risen after gaining political unity and establishing the protective system; but like a storm is the forward movement of the United States. The three competing countries now suffer from obstacles which hinder their free movement—Germany has China, England the Transvaal, America the Philippines, from which appearance the United States will be the first to throw off its burden. After that country shall be free from the Philippine war, its industrial advance upon Europe will be fully manifested."

We fear that even with the evacuation of China by the German troops that industrial prosperity will not return to Germany. The failure of several large banking industries is rather indicative that a period of general industrial depression has set in for Germany. The European commercial treaties of the European nations, noting the defective features of each, and arrives at the conclusion that, as each treaty terminates, the nations should arrange a reciprocal tariff among themselves which would operate against the United States.
The United States feel more confident of industrial success owing to their peculiar position. Great Britain and Germany are both large markets for the agricultural products of other countries, and therefore commercial treaties with the United States in this field would be valuable. The European nations already realize what the United States can do with its agricultural products and the present unsatisfactory state of European agriculture is entirely due to the competition of the American.
What the Americans have done in farm produce they propose doing in manufactures. The advance guard of this attack has already reached Europe, in the form of coal, iron, steel and machinery, and is causing a general uneasiness among the industrial nations. The Americans are going further and making themselves felt in the financial circles of Europe, and are exercising an important influence on the rate of interest on the continent. Dr. Von Peez in his pessimistic communication, has carefully compiled the manufactured wares which the United States is sending to different parts of the world. In closing he says:

"And with all this the United States has not yet unburdened one piece of her armor in which she is encased, while demanding open doors of others everywhere.
Our opportunity comes with the commercial treaties. What should first be done is to follow the example the United States has set for us. At the European seashore (England is included herein) a tariff should be established counter to that of the Union, while the European nations should arrange tariffs touching each other which would not materially differ from those now existing."

The industrial classes of the United States are awakening to the fact that such a combination is quite possible and as one nation after another in Europe erects a small barrier against the United States the people begin to realize that they cannot continue to maintain a closed door to other nations which afford them an open door.

SILENCE IS GOLDEN.

The neighboring province of Prince Edward Island at present rejoices in cabinet representation, and Sir L. H. Davies, its representative in the Laurier administration, has been a credit to Canada. But if well defined rumor is to be credited, Sir Laurier intends to accept the vacancy on the Supreme Court of Canada bench, caused by the untimely death of the late Hon. George E. King. The question as to who shall succeed him seems to be unduly exciting the various sections of the maritime provinces, for if Dame Rumor be correct in regard to Sir Louis' retirement, it may also be correct in reference to the well-formed decision of Sir Wilfrid Laurier to invite the Hon. H. R. Emmerson to succeed him. The people of P. E. I. if his press represent public opinion truly, have a natural ambition to retain a cabinet minister from among their representatives. And certainly no one can find fault with their desire. The claims of that province for representation in the cabinet are, however, not very strong from a political standpoint. Out of five members representing P. E. I. in the House of Commons, three are supporters of the present government. Without professing to know the premier's views or, indeed, the views of any of his ministers on the subject, we can well understand that he will not feel free to leave P. E. I. without cabinet representation, more especially if he were inviting the Hon. H. R. Emmerson to a cabinet seat, as the latter is the member of the constituency nearest to P. E. I., and easily accessible to the members and people of that charming "garden of the gulf."

In the meantime it would seem in better taste for the friends of Sir Louis Davies to leave his seat unoccupied until he is invited to return, than to have him himself announced his decision to retire. It is taking too much for granted to fill his position in the cabinet until he has vacated it, and after all the premier, with whom the matter of the choice of Sir Louis Davies' successor ultimately lies, can be safely relied on to choose the best man for the position from the standpoint of the public good. Even Sir Wilfrid Laurier's enemies, if he can be said to have any, admit his power to choose good cabinet timber.

DISLOYAL TORY PRESS.

The Tory press are continually allying to the disloyalty of the Liberals, and seize upon every word or sentence and pervert it to suit their own purposes, to establish the fact. Probably the most disloyal attention ever made by a prominent politician, in recent years, was delivered by Sir Herbert Tupper. Had the speech in question been made by a Liberal, the words would still be reverberating from Pacific to the Atlantic, through Canada, as an example of the disloyalty of the Liberal party.

The recent refusal of the British parliament to endorse a motion favoring a differential duty on Colonial sugar, has incensed the Tory press of Canada. It is practically the death blow of the Tupper-ian preferential tariff scheme. The Halifax Herald, which is the chief organ of the new Tory leader, in its disappointment, says:

"Moreover there are two things, in this connection, that it is high time for the motherland and her government to reconsider: (1) That if the motherland is unwilling to risk foreign trade for the sake of her colonies, she is unworthy of the title of 'Empire.' (2) That foreign countries do not buy goods from Great Britain because they love her, but because the goods suit them, and that they would therefore continue to buy even though Great Britain exhibited the moral courage to govern her Empire intelligently."

What does the Herald mean by the phrase, "Then she is unworthy of the title of 'Empire.'" Is our Tory contemporary abandoning the axis of the motherland?
The phrase almost reads like a portion of an independence or annexation manifesto.
If a Liberal journal in Canada had published such a statement the whole party would have been held responsible, and it pointed out as disloyal. The Halifax Herald is continually referring to the disloyalty of Sir Wilfrid Laurier and other members of the cabinet, but no such disloyal utterances have ever fallen from any of their lips as this one penned by the editor of the Herald. The Tory press employ the race, religious and loyalty crises for political purposes, and when they believe it will best advance their interests.
The people of Canada are slowly but surely awakening to this fact and the reaction, which will follow, is certain to destroy the party which adopts such undesirable political methods.

WAR PENSIONS.

Canada has been luckily free from wars and as a result the national pension list is in its infancy. No better time, therefore, could there be to guard against the "pension evil" which has proved a real burden to more than one country, for an ounce of prevention is better than a pound of cure. While the taxpayers of a country are willing to pay reasonable claims for injuries received by those who have battled for the national honor or national safety, yet the experience of the United States in this pension matter is one worth studying.

It is an experience of which Canada can well afford to allow the republic to enjoy a monopoly, for in that country, rich as the pension payments have become, a serious question and one that is becoming worse as the nation gets older.

In a sensible editorial statement entitled "The Plain Truth," Leslie's Weekly has this to say of the American experience with the pension list:

"The pension list is larger by 2,000 names than it was a year ago in spite of all the death losses, and the appropriation of $150,000,000 for pension payments during the year will fall short of the amount needed to meet all demands by at least $100,000,000. In the most significant statement in the report is that 43,874 claims have been filed at the department on account of the war with Spain. These figures seem almost incredible when it is remembered that the war actually lasted only thirty days and that the number of men engaged in hostile action on land and sea was only a few thousand. It does not follow, of course, that all the claims filed will be granted, and probably a large portion will be rejected. During the eleven months ending June 30th, 2,399 pensions were granted to invalids coming out of the war, and to 1,199 Spanish-war widows and orphans. But the enormous number of claims filed shows an inclination on the part of the persons who served their country in that war period not altogether pleasing to contemplate. It looks very much as if patriotism was not an inspiring motive in many cases so much as a desire to get a chance for a steady pull at the cash-drawer of Uncle-Sam. Fortunately the pension department, as now administered, may be depended on to make proper discrimination between the unworthy and the worthy applicants for national bounty."

A NEW SWINDLE.
Peddlers Offering Spurious Pills Representing Them to be the Same as Dr.
Williams' Pink Pills—A Reward for Such Evidence as Will Lead to Conviction.

The latest device for swindling the public is now being operated in various parts of the maritime provinces, where a couple of peddlers are going door to door selling a pink colored pill which they represent to be the same as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. It is needless to say that this is a swindle of a serious nature, as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are made from a secret formula known only to the proprietors. We strongly advise readers of this paper to be on their guard against peddlers of this class, no matter what representations they may make, and also to remember that medicines of such sterling reputation as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are never hawked from door to door by peddlers, are never sold in any form except in the company's boxes wrapped around with a seal which will be found broken if the whole enclosed in a wrapper bearing the full name "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People." It is also to be remembered in this connection that the bottle in mind that imitations are always worthless, and in many cases positively harmful to those taking them. Your health is too valuable to expose to such a risk, and peddlers of medicine should be promptly shown the door.

Offering an imitation pill and representing it to be the same as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills constitutes a felony under the Criminal Code, and the seller can be prosecuted for obtaining money under false pretences. The Dr. Williams' Medicine Company have a standing offer of $50.00 reward for such information as will lead to the conviction of persons who by such regulation trade mark in any form.
Such information can be addressed to the Company at Brockville, Ont.

FOUNDER OF DAWSON CITY.
Plattsburg, N. Y., June 27.—Joseph La Due, the founder of Dawson City, in the Klondike, died last evening at his home in Schuyler Falls. He had not been well since his return from Alaska, and spent in a vain search for health. He fell a victim to consumption, contracted in the severe northern climate. He leaves a widow and one son.

JOSEPH LA DUE WAS BORN ON A FARM NEAR THE NORTHERN END OF LAKE CHAM-PLAIN.

In his early manhood he went to the far North west, and finally located on the upper Yukon, where he bought 100 acres of land, but, in 1871, he returned to an embryo trading post. It was upon his land that gold was first discovered in the Yukon region, and the La Due trading post became the prosperous market town of the Klondike region, with the property that he has sold, are said to be worth several millions of dollars.

Mr. La Due was 46 years old. He was a typical miner in speech and dress. Uneducated, but naturally of great intellect, he was a leader in each mining camp that he visited.

THE POINTS OF A GOOD CIGAR.

Color, taste and texture are the three things which the tobacco grower has chiefly to consider. At present the trade calls for a very light, cinnamon-brown shade, which must be uniform, not mottled. The leaf must roll on a cigar and smoke, must leave a white or light-gray hard ash, which does not get hot and fall into one's lap over his coat, and it must not "cool," i. e., have a black, charred ring left behind on the burning cigar.

This is sure to give a bad flavor and taste.
The leaf must be soft, juicy, and when lighted hold firm for a reasonable time. It must have a soft, silvery texture, glossy surface and the elasticity of a piece of kid, so that it may be drawn smoothly and easily

Thus the service is rendered inefficient and useless. In the discussion in the reichtag, it was pointed out that in the majority of instances these civil servants could neither write French nor read English, two accomplishments which were almost absolutely necessary for men of their position. Baron von Richthofen was of the opinion that all candidates for the colonial and foreign service, besides being educated in law should be compelled to work an apprenticeship in some of the large commercial houses to obtain not only a theoretical knowledge, but also practical experience in business.

It is believed that as a result of the debate the German government will make arrangements that a certain number of
large commercial houses in order to get practical information.

ST. JOHN A SUMMER RESORT.

Good Words in Montreal Herald for City and Attractions.

The Montreal Herald, in a very handsome summer resort edition, has this to say about St. John:

"The city of St. John is an ideal summering place—a pleasure house of delightful surroundings to the visitor with pleasant environments that have rare attractions. It is one of the great commercial ports of Canada, and its coast, showing its importance, the city is well laid out with wide and well-kept streets and ample sidewalks. The
