MUTT AND JEFF—At Times It's Very Discouraging To Be An Inventor.

PT. HURON MAY LAND BERTH IN
M.-O. LEAGUE WITHIN FEW DAYS

Battle Creek Practically Annexed by Central League—Shag Still Has Eye On Mint, But Prospects Dull-Looking.

Advises from Detroit last night declared that President George Mainer of the M.-O. League had stated a matter of ten days would probably decide the ultimate result of the battle between the Central League and the M.-O. League, and that a group of Port Huron men already had an option on the Health Club building for that city.

President Mainer further stated that Battle Creek owners had asked that no negotiations be held with other cities until Port Huron interests had done their best to place the franchise there.

Battle Creek is less secretive than regarding its Central League leanings, giving as the reason that they are the extreme end of the M.-O. circuit, and believe they would fit in better with the new eastern addition to the Central organization, which would include Kalamazoo, Jackson and Lansing.

Good Location. Port Huron is especially favored by the M.-O. because of its geographical location and its reputation as a base center. Port Huron also has the advantage of drawing from Sarnia, a whole-hearted baseball fans, who will regard the American border team as their own.

Frank Shaughnessy has still an eye on the Mint League, as well as keeping a keen eye on the direction of the International, and a communication dated no later than February 21 from the former Ham Pilot asks how many players go with the Battle Creek franchise.

However, Montreal included in the M.-O. would mean the placing of another franchise in the east for balance, and as at the present there are more franchises available, it looks as though Shag would have to place all his personal power on the Akron club owners, and some cash as well.

The schedule committee of the Mint have worked diligently on the 1921 program, and the general effect is to give Ontario more Saturday and double-header Wednesday afternoon bills as a counter against more Sundays in Michigan. Battle Creek has been included, but if the franchise goes to Port Huron the switch can easily be made.

Providing the border city lands in the Mint, the adjourned meeting of the league will be held in that city within two weeks, declared the president.

Most of the excitement in last night's game in the Manufacturers' League came at the top of the heap, with McClary, through their 5-1 win over Perrins, slipping into a point in the standings where they share honors with Standard and Drug for the circuit lead. The other two teams have all possible contestants in the defeat of the Bell Telephone by the recent winless wonder under the colors of Terry's Garage, by a 3 to 0 score, and Taylor-Campbell's scattering of any loose hopes the Civil Service might have with a close 1-0 victory.

First Game. Davenport, playing for Terry's, was a wonder at both stick-handling and shooting. He was the really responsible for the 1-0 win. Fourteen minutes of the first period had elapsed before a corner was registered. McIntyre accepted a pass from Davenport, and shot time. W. O'Rourke got the second quarter after ten minutes of play in the second period. The third period opened with teams checking hard and the Bell Telephone out to score. Davenport and McElroy took the puck from the back of their goal and went through the whole Bell team and McElroy scored. The Bell's body-checker, but on no nearly every occasion came out on the worst side of the affair.

Second Game. The McClary-Perrins game was one of the best that has been witnessed on the Westminister ice this year. "Bud" Kelly and "Buck" Buchanan played wonderful combination, and their checking was very effective. Gillies started the first period by scoring immediately after the puck-off and kept his good playing up during the period, but after that seemed to divide. Buchanan in goal for the losers was an easy mark. The winners scored three goals in the first period through Gillies' hands. Dick Campbell's playing. Campbell notched the fourth counter after eight minutes of the second period, and two minutes after Dickson, defence for Perrins, stepped in front of a shot of Buchanan's and rested nicely in Perrins' net. Kenny, in centre for the losers, had been playing a good game and accepted a pass from Loughheed and scored three minutes after the puck-off for the third period. Harry May and Loughheed showed up well for Perrins.

The line-up: Perrins. Position. McClary. Chantler. Goal. Watts. Loughheed. R. Defence. Buchanan. Dickson. L. Defence. Kelly. Kenny. Centre. D. Andrews. Wilcox. R. Wing. Campbell. May. L. Wing. Gillies. Bryant. Subs. R. Campbell. McNeil. Subs. R. Campbell.

Both the Taylor-Campbell and the Civil Service played wonderful hockey last night. Colwell and Cooney for the losers had a combination that only good luck on the checkers' part broke. However Cooney made a dash three of the Taylor-Campbell players rushed ahead to stop him, and the result was that body-checking on the winner's part was not as free as it was

Three Thistle rinks were considerably mauled by a trio of St. Thomas fours last night, and the silverware collection of the north-enders depleted to the extent of the recently won Just Wright trophy and the Malahide medal.

W. K. Cameron was one shot up on Bert Heaman's Just-Wright defenders in a game that ended 13-12.

Bob Emmie piloted his four to a 12-11 win over Fred Allen, and F. Spangbury completed the devastation with an 18-11 win over Norman Keene's hand-picked rink.

Work With Small, But Costly,
Yacht Models For Next Races

BOSTON, Feb. 24.—Defence of the America's Cup against the next foreign challenge has already begun. Forward-looking yachting interests affiliated with the New York Yacht Club have gone farther to anticipate another international effort to lift the cup than previous known attempt to work out yachting strategy or design.

Two model yachts built to a size and in details unexampled by the models known were the medium of research tests the results of which will probably be reflected in the next races for the classic cup. The models representing different theories of construction and rig were matched against each other under all kinds of wind and weather in the isolated waters of Cape Cod Bay, Provincetown, in a series of races that extended through several months of the fall and early winter.

The results are not now divulged nor is the source of the large sums that were spent on the construction and operation of the miniature yachts made known, but the models have been shipped to the New York Yacht Club for sea-testing and exhibition. The data is held by W. Starling Burgess, the naval architect and builder who designed the boats and supervised their building. He says the less one learned in the tests will be held against the time that the United States' possession of the cup is again challenged. He would say further only that they were extremely interesting.

The models were nine feet long, the masts stood fifteen and feet high and the boats were built under dimensions proportionate to America's Cup sloop specifications. In length they were approximately one-tenth the size of the Resolute. The models cost $3,000 each to build. They weighed between 200 and 300 pounds.

The trial races which were held over a three-mile course attracted much attention among the fishermen of Provincetown. The models were so keenly drawn that they spend on reaches fast enough to require use of a motor boat by those conducting the tests. Fishing captains who turned out to criticize the points of sailing marvelled at the realistic manner in which the research work was done.

Actual operation was stimulated to a degree that made it seem human hands were at the wheels of the miniature yachts. Instead of mechanism controlled by a clock adjustment worked out the movements of tack and jibe, swinging rudder and shifting sail. Designer Burgess said that so far as he knew nothing of the kind had been built before. He aims now to perfect the device by installation of gyroscopes. While the expense of such a device is only a few yachting enthusiasts, the designer said that the interest in America's cup defence was such that he felt certain of continuous support.

Lacrosse On Boom in All
Towns Round LondonLondon Club To Be Organized Early Next Month, With Both Intermediate and Junior Teams—Good Group First Requisite.

Lacrosse will be put in London again next summer with probably a junior as well as an intermediate team, despite the little support the game has had in past years.

All round London, lacrosse is on the boom, but this city remains untouched with any great demand for the game except among the few enthusiasts who are willing to keep at it until they show that the game is not only worth the effort, but that it is among the best games played in the world.

Mr. E. H. Johnston, who has done much to keep lacrosse alive in London, states that an organization meeting will be held early next month, and that an effort will be made to have junior lacrosse introduced, again so that the future of the game will be built up.

SOCCER IN FOR BIG YEAR IN LAMBTON COUNTY

SARNIA, Feb. 24.—With the opening of the London and District Football League season within the next month, or two, soccer football, according to all advance indications, is in for the greatest boom throughout the whole country in the history of the sport. Already there are two Sarnia teams and one from Point Edward and one from Petrolia, with every indication of another hard squad taking the field before the season starts. This makes a five-team group, with the old enemies, Petrolia and Sarnia, meeting again, and pitting the Point Edward squad against the Sarnia Imperials, their foot-ball foes for years past.

TRIM SARNIA C. I. AGAIN

SARNIA, Feb. 24.—Port Huron High School basketballers took the measure of the Sarnia Collegiate five for the third time this season in one of the hardest-fought battles of the year in the High School gymnasium this afternoon in Port Huron. The final score was 22-18.

OTTAWA TO HAVE BIG ARTIFICIAL ICE RINK

Ottawa, Feb. 25.—The Journal today says: Optin has been taken on the property of the corner of King and York streets, with the purpose of building an artificial ice rink. It is expected that the proposed rink will be ready by next winter. The amount involved is said to be in the neighborhood of $400,000, and a large amount of stock has already been subscribed. A limited liability company is being formed quietly with a number of Ottawa financiers in the interest of the project. It is said that the rink will accommodate 8,000 when completed.

St. Marys will be represented by both junior and intermediate teams again this year. The Stone town can always be depended on to put out a talented aggregation, even if calls have to be made on the veterans.

To the west, the game is booming, as it never has in the past. Sarnia, Windsor and Chatham, having already organized and with splendid prospects.

Superior teamwork and shooting won for the American team, the Sarnia team showing a wonderful lack in the shooting line, passing up several chances of sure scores through shooting that was sometimes erratic and often worse. The Port Huron forward line was good, but had nothing on the Canadians in speed, their wide margin being in their shooting. Sarnia, as a rule, blew up in the pinches. McGillibon, Lebel and Robinson were best for Sarnia with Ackman, Hubbar and Matthews the pick of the winners. The teams:

Sarnia. Port Huron.
Lebel. Guard. Hubbert.
McGillibon. Guard. Lavery.
Spoule. Centre. Ackman.
Petrolia. Forward. Maricle.
Currie. Forward. Matthews.
Brown. Sub. Starle.

Smoker and Excellent Program Arranged For Presentation at A. and N. Rooms.

The winners and runners-up of the bouts held at the armories last Friday will receive their caps and medals next Tuesday evening at a smoker to be held in the Army and Navy Veterans' club rooms over the Parisian Laundry, 71 Dundas street. An attractive program has been arranged for the occasion, including three exhibition boxing bouts. Bobbie Bell, the 12-year-old lad, whose performance with the gloves at the tournament made him a favorite, will be seen in action at the smoker. Bell's opponent, Clifford Smith, will also appear.

Open New Class. Sergt. Tommy Wallace reports that it has been necessary to open a new class, the influx of boxing aspirants since the establishment of the veterans' club has been so great that the popularity of the sport in this city is fast becoming a fact.

Through a typographical omission of a few words the account of Bobby Bell's great showing at the last tournament described the little 12-year-old as "taller and rangier than his opponent," while as a matter of fact he was the overcoming of Smith's superiority in this respect that won him the decision and the wonder of the crowd of fans.
