

INTERNATIONAL LABOR LEGISLATION NOW MOOTED

WILSON IS DRAWING UP LABOR LEGISLATION.

Included are Child Labor Law and a Universal Work Day.

AND PROTECTION FOR WOMEN WORKERS

PARIS, Jan. 20. (By Robert J. Bender).—President Wilson was rounding out his program for international labor legislation today. The President's position is said to be that no peace is possible until the threat of economic competition, which might destroy the safeguards of labor, is ended.

regulation of working conditions and an agreement on the hour of labor to constitute a universal work day. In his speeches in Italy, the President emphasized the importance of the influence of labor on world opinion and made plain that labor must be fully recognized in the peace negotiations.

The "league of nations" plan of the American delegation is based on a careful study of its own and allied ideas. Allied authorities, familiar with the plan state it is the best yet promulgated. It embodies many of the features of General Smut's program and includes many of the details of the British plan.

The American plan, it is understood, provides that the present associated powers shall constitute the nucleus of the league and that every free nation shall have the right of membership.

would prevent the outbreak of war pending reports from the arbitrators. The memorandum prepared by the American delegates outlines the possibility of new world thought, action and spirit, designed virtually to prevent future wars.

Germany and Russia would be taken into league when they have stabilized their governments, and the league would afford every possible aid to both nations because the President feels that peace would be useless with half of Europe aflame with the spirit of jealousy and revenge.

Premier Lloyd George is said to be unreservedly in agreement with this principle.

After the formation of the league there would be a meeting of special delegates to formulate a new international code. In view of the attitude of the allies, it may be stated that the president feels the outlook is favorable for prompt consummation of the league.

American Seamen's Act

MAY COME UP AT CONFERENCE

PARIS, Jan. 20. (By Lowell Mellett).—America's position as a strong maritime nation depends upon the ability of its peace delegates to uphold the high standards of working conditions affected by the American Seamen's Act. Andrew Furuseth, President of the American Seamen's Union, declared today.

Believing that while freedom of the seas is occupying the conference's minds, freedom of the seamen may go by the board, Furuseth had brought his long, lean, angular frame here to haunt the Quai d'Orsay. He fears that other nations, particularly Great Britain, may attempt to obtain international legislation that would abrogate the American Seamen's Act but is confident that the American delegation will oppose any such move.

Settling Small Nation Representation Now up

MUST PRECEDE ACTUAL DELIBERATIONS

PARIS, Jan. 20. (By William Philip Simms).—President Wilson met representatives of Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan in a closed conference this morning to take up the contest for the right to take up the credentials of some of the small nation delegates. These contests must be settled before the peace conference can get down to business on the league of nations.

While nothing has been made public concerning any conflict in regard to representation, it has been known that the Balkan situation provided opportunity for just such a tangle. The status of the Montenegrin delegate has been held in abeyance until the formation of the new Jugoslav nation has been definitely accomplished. It is clear that the course of the peace congress will not be smooth until all questions of the eligibility of the delegates are amicably adjusted.

No date has been set for the resumption of the general peace conference, but it was understood it was expected to get under way to-morrow.

Meanwhile the memorandum on the league of nations, international labor legislation and responsibility for the beginning and continuance of the war, were to be submitted to-day.

President Wilson and Senator Bourgeois, the French authority on the league of nations, conferred this afternoon. They exchanged views on the league for the first time. A special report on the result of this conversation was made to the conference.

M. Sazimoff, former Russian foreign minister held numerous conferences with the associated representatives of the form and manner of Russian representation would be determined this week.

The oldest weather of the winter was prevailing in Paris to-day.

There were at least one or two women running on each ticket in every district.
