

Cholera Infantum is one of the Most Fatal Diseases of Young Children

Mothers should look well after their children during the hot summer months, as this is the time of year this trouble is most prevalent.

If any of your children become troubled in this way it will not pay you to experiment with some new and untried remedy.

Get one having stood the test of time. Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry has been on the market for over 65 years and we have yet to hear of a case of cholera infantum it has not cured.

Mrs. S. S. Johnstone, Ochre River, Man., writes:—"About four years ago I gave Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry a good test."

"My oldest son, five years old, got very bad with cholera infantum; two days after my next son took it; and the third day my little girl also took it. I doctored with all kinds of things but they kept on getting worse and the doctors could do them no good. I then started the Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry and after two or three days could see a difference, so kept on with the treatment, but they were so bad it took about two weeks to complete the cure."

Different people have asked me how I saved my children's lives that time, and I always say it was Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. I am, now, never without it in the house."

is my tobacco." The merchant, turning upon his heel, with a vision of the bank notes turned to ashes upon his own lips, and, I doubt not, with a sudden thought of longer draughts and deeper potatoes, remarked: "James, you are a wise boy."

As we contrast the filthy weed which God never made so, with the fragrant flowers, the expression of his own love of the beautiful, we can but feel that the son was worthy of the mother. His breath had never been poisoned by tobacco, nor his brain fired with alcohol; but, instead, though only a clerk, a bank account of which any young man might be proud.

The Bar.

A poet has said of the saloon that it is appropriately called a bar:

A bar to heaven, a door to hell,
Whoever named it named it well;
A bar to manliness and wealth,
A door to want and broken health;
A bar to honor, pride and fame,
A door to sin and grief and shame;
A bar to hope, a bar to prayer,
A door to darkness and despair;
A bar to honored, useful life,
A door to brawling, senseless strife;
A bar to all that's true and brave,
A door to every drunkard's grave;
A bar to joy that home imparts,
A door to tears and aching hearts.
A bar to heaven, a door to hell,
Whoever named it named it well.

The Gambler's Kindergarten.

A converted gambler and ex-publian, of Ohio, recently made a profound impression while giving an address at a Sunday afternoon service:

"I have been in the public-house business, with gambling room attached, for the last four years, and claim to know something about what I am going to tell you. I do not believe that the gambling den is nearly so dangerous nor does anything like the amount of harm as the social card-playing in the home. I give this as my reason: In the gambling room the windows are closed tight, the curtains are pulled down; everything is conducted secretly, for fear of detection, and none but gamblers, as a rule, enter there, while in the parlor all have access to the game, children are permitted to watch it, young people are invited to partake in it. It is made attractive and alluring by giving prizes and adding high social enjoyment."

"Where does the gambler come from? He is not taught in the gambling dens. When he has played in the parlor, in the social game in the home, and has become proficient enough to win prizes among his friends, the next step with him is to seek out the gambling room, for he has learned and now counts upon his efficiency to hold his own."

T. A. Edison: How many people realize the fact that without iron the world would in half a century have drifted back almost to the status of primitive man?

Lord Kelvin: Modern prophets have robbed the sun of his heat, or frozen us to death, or made us collide with a comet: they have annihilated us times without number.

Dr. Hart: Open-air recovery schools are part of the great movement in favor of preventive medicine; they must necessarily lead to the greater efficiency of the individual.

Professor Leacock: When you sit at home studying your guide book, Italy appears far more beautiful than the country you become acquainted with quarreling with cabdrivers and guides.
