

Intramurals back in business

by Stew Duncan

Men

After a week of studying and reading (?), the world of Intramurals resumes.

Our badminton tournament concluded before Reading Week under the able supervision of Wolfgang Jeske and Nelson Raas. Winner included: "A" singles - Francis Cheng (Theta Chi); "B" singles - Roland Aver (Medicine); "C" singles - Alphonse Roberts (Education); "A" doubles - Vernie Yee and John Horna (Arts and Science); "B" doubles - John Ip and Joseph Tang (Chinese Students' Association); "C" doubles - Randy Edgar and Robert Thompson (Commerce).

At the end of Reading Week, our field hockey tournament concluded, thanks to some dedicated work by Hashmuk Kanjee and Bruno Bavaro.

In an exciting "A" event final, Larry Filipow led his upstart Physics crew to a 2-1 championship victory over a "never say die" Upper Residence squad.

In "B" event, the Deke's unit claimed the championship laurels by eliminating Dentistry.

Many activities are upcoming and entered participants are urged to check with the Intramural Office for starting times.

Are you an avid table tennis buff? Our ping-pong tournament happens Sunday, Mar. 9 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the Education Gymnasium.

Don't forget the final co-recreational inner tube water polo tournament with action commencing at 7 p.m. on Wednesday, Mar. 5 at the Main Pool.

All participants in hockey and volleyball are encouraged to check with the Intramural office for information regarding the play-off structure of these two major activities.

Racquet sports enthusiasts, who concluded the season on the first rung of our challenge ladders - please report to the Intramural office immediately. Information about scheduled times of play-off matches will be provided.

Present unit standings have Medicine in first place with Law closely trailing in Conference "A". In Conference "B", Kappa Sigma is resting comfortably in first place, with the Theta Chi fraternity in second spot.

We salute Gary Dupuy of Geology as our "Unit Manager of the Week." Gary has been providing a great service to his fellow rockhounds and is very deserving of the tribute. Keep up the good work!

Our Intramural "Participant of the Week" is Tony Lambert of the Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity. Tony is presently participating as a finalist in both the racquetball and squash play-offs. Tony has also displayed his prowess for Intramural participation in many other activities this past year!

Women

The Women's Intramural program has only a few activities left for you to participate in. 5-on-5 Basketball will be played on Thursday, March 6 in as we know it is created, but is created in the terms of the Eskimo people. In its moving eloquence, Land Before Time captures in full, the way of the "children", from their joys to their sorrows, the ways of their gods and the ways of their people.

The performance starts at 12:10 p.m. (noon) and admission is a dollar ($1.00).

At the Hovel

Songwriter/performer Bruce Miller will appear at the Hovel Friday, March 7 through Monday, March 10. Playing acoustic, electric and bottleneck guitar as well as a 150 year old fiddle, Miller should provide some fine country and bluegrass music.

Pool Pandas triumph

by Mike Morrow

The Pandas won the CWIAU swimming championships for the second straight year at Thunder Bay last week.

They triumphed over the Lakehead U team by a score of 272 to 240. The teams for Calgary and UBC also placed in the top five to give a convincing demonstration of western power. The meet was the best to date in terms of quality swimming.

Dianne King was the only event winner for the Pandas, as she took the 100 and 200 breaststroke and 200 butterfly races, all in record time. However, every member of the team scored points by placing in a final or a consolation, and this depth provided the winning margin.

Here are the Canadian Champions.

Kim Browning - 100 back 5th, 200 back 6th;

Mary Jane Henning - 100 free 6th, 200 back 7th, 100 back 8th;

Dianne King - 100 breast 1st, 200 breast 1st, 200 fly 1st;

Wendy Kruger - 100 breast 7th, 100 free 7th, 50 free 9th;

Rae Lightbody - 299 back 12th;

Pat McKinley - 400 IM 6th, 400 free 9th, 800 free 9th;

Karen Nelson - 400 IM 3rd, 400 free 3rd, 800 free 3rd;

Lynn Purdy - 200 IM 2nd, 100 fly 4th, 200 fly 4th;

Myrna Spilde - 200 IM 4th, 200 free 6th, 100 fly 10th;

Shelia Zieper - 1 m diving 12th.

The Bears wish to extend their thanks to the Pandas for their share in winning the unofficial combined (men and women) Canadian Championship.
