entertained at the Secunash ^{members} of the Young Liberals under whose auspices we appeared. The audience was not as large as expected but were very appreciative and were well seconded in their applause by a contingent of medical students from the Western University, who occupied 'the gods' in a body. Human bones, alarm clocks and a line cat were among the ~~res~~ ^{let down} ~~turned from the~~ ^{by means} of strings. The singing of "the cat came back" in reply to Varsity's "I lost my daisy" was very laughable.

We arrived at St. Mary's on Thursday afternoon and
