Quality in Telephones Very Important

Our Latest Bulletin

For all of up-to-date information about modern telephones for rural party line systems. When writing, ask for Bulletin No. 6. It's free.

IN hardly any other line is QUALITY so important as in telephones.

To transmit a voice clearly and naturally requires high quality in a telephone.

To hear without straining to catch a word requires high quality in a telephone.

To maintain a completely satisfactory service year after year requires high quality in the telephones, switchboards and construction materials comprising the telephone system.

Canadian Independent Rural Telephones have earned a reputation for high quality. They are, we believe, the clearest-talking and easiest-hearing rural telephones yet devised. They are the very latest in design, and constructed of high-grade materials with the very best of workmanship. Furthermore, they are guaranteed 10 years against defects in material and workmanship.

Canadian Independent Switchboards are also of the very highest grade. All our construction materials are guaranteed first quality, and if wanted in a hurry we can supply them promptly.

Use Canadian Independent Equipment, and you will have a modern, efficient telephone system, one that will give the highest class service at the least cost for maintenance.
