J.I.Case plow supremacy

Up to the minute In the Plow Building Art

J. I. Case Plows enter the season 1906-7 absolutely supreme. The J. I. Case Self-leveling, High Foot-lift Sulky has captured the entire country It is a marvel to farmers everywhere. It has brought out many advantages that were heretofore thought impossible. It is the only real High Foot-lift and more nearly approaches the ideal than any riding Plow ever built. One movement of the foot-lever raises the bottoms from six inches in the ground to six inches above the ground. You do not need to operate a hand-lever, in addition to the foot lever, in order to complete this operation as in other makes of Plows. This single lever feature, for raising and lowering the bottoms and leveling the frame in one operation, is original with J. I. Case Plows and is a labor saver.

And remember, one movement of foot-lever not only raises the bottoms way up high in the frame, out of the way of the trash. but the same operation levels the frame. Two results with one operation. Other so called foot-lift Plows require the handling of a hand-lever, in addition to the foot-lever, in order to level the frame, or the operator must ride in One Movement an uncomfortable position. of the Foot

It stays in no matter how hard the soil. It plows straight on the roughest ground.

It is light draft because the friction of the bottoms are carried on the wheels instead of on the ground.
