

TRAVEL

Panama-Pacific Exposition San Francisco

Tickets on Sale March 1 to Nov. 30. Limit Three Months. $113.70

ST. ANDREWS

Going and Returning via Chicago. Going via Chicago and Returning via Vancouver, or vice versa $17.50 additional.

CHANGE OF TIME

Grand Manan S.S. Company from June 1, Steamer "Grand Manan" leaves Grand Manan via Campbell, Esport and Grand Manan Mondays at 10 a.m., arriving St. John, N.B., on Tuesday at 10 a.m., Tuesday for Grand Manan.

Atlantic Standard Time

L. C. GUYLL, Manager

ARLINGTON STEAMSHIP CO., LTD.

Until further notice the S. S. Connors will run as follows: Leave St. John, N.B., Thorne Wharf Warehouse Co. on Saturday, 7:30 a.m. for St. Andrews, calling at Dipper Harbor, Beaver Harbor, Black's Harbor, etc. on Sunday, 12:00 p.m., returning 2:30 p.m.

CHURCH SERVICES

Methodist Church—Rev. W. M. Connor, B. Sc., Pastor. Services every Sunday, 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. Sunday School, 2:30 p.m. Prayers Services Friday evening at 7:30.

ST. ANDREWS POSTAL GUIDE

ALBERT THOMPSON, Postmaster. Office hours from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. Money Orders and Savings Bank Business transacted during office hours.

RECRUITS ARE COMING ALL THE TIME

FREDERICKSON BUSINESS COLLEGE to call for training as Bookkeepers, Bank Clerks, Stenographers, etc.

Patriotic Stationery

Box Paper - Tablet Envelopes Correspondence Cards Use the RITZELL Fountain Pen

H. O'NEILL

Up-to-Date Market

A. E. O'NEILL'S

FOR MILLINERY AND FANCY GOODS

ST. ANDREWS DRUG STORE

COCKBURN BROS., Props. Cor. Water and King Streets

ST. ANDREWS POSTAL GUIDE

Time of Sittings of Courts in the County of Charlotte: Circuit Court: Second Tuesday in May, and First Tuesday in October.

Charlotte County Registry of Deeds

ST. ANDREWS, N. B. Deo. F. Hubbard, Registrar. Minutes P. Hibbard, Deputy. Reg. Office hours 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Daily notices and Holidays Excepted.

LIBERTY: THE FALSE AND THE TRUE

WE rocked ourselves in balmy sleep. Knowing Britannia ruled the waves. And while her watch-dogs held the deep. Never, oh, no, should we be slaves; Others in less enlightened lands.

By that most comfortable word We claimed, as only Britons may, the right to work, if we preferred, the right, if so we chose, to play; Under that flag we danced and dined, Lifted the lusty patriot chorus.

And now we learn—at what a price, And in an hour how dark and late— That never save by sacrifice Men come to Liberty's estate; No birthright helps us here at need; Each must be taught by stern probation That they alone are free indeed.

HISTORY OF THE FAMOUS CLAN MACLEAN

THE Macleans are literally interwoven with the history of the Highlands. The Clan Maclean is a society which is deservedly popular in Glasgow. Their chief, Sir Fitzroy Donald Maclean, K.C.B., and the tenth baronet of Morvern, Argyleshire, is a gentleman who always draws a big audience when he gathers round him in Glasgow his clanmen.

His son, Sir Hector Maclean, was at the battle of Inverkeithing, 20th July, 1815, when the Royalists were opposed to the troops of Oliver Cromwell. The Macleans on this occasion gave an undoubted proof of their devoted attachment to their chief. In the heat of the battle, Sir Hector was covered from the enemy's attacks by seven brothers of his clan, all of whom sacrificed their lives in his defence.

Among those present, besides the Chiefs and largely attended Grand Lodge convocations, which fittingly celebrated the semi-centennial of that great Maenonic body in the province of Nova Scotia was brought to a close at Halifax to-night by the installation of officers. At this evening's session, retiring Grand Master, Mr. W. C. Foster, was elected as presiding officer, and P. G. Master Colesman as pres. officer.

THE Castle of Duart is one of the most prominent landmarks in the west of Scotland. "Ane stark hand biggit on ane crag," it commands a wide view of every approach.

THE Macleans were among the greatest of the island tribes. Their progenitor was Gillian of the Battleaxe, who lived in the time of Alexander the Third and fought at the battle of Largs, when the way of the Norseman was broken in the Hebrides, which were then annexed to the Kingdom of Scotland. In the Ragman's Roll is found "Gilliemore Makilyn," along with "Malcolm McCullian in Fide de Kintyre," who fought under Bruce at Bannockburn. His grandsons Lauchlan, styled Lubanach, or the crafty, and Hector Reganach, founded the Duart and Lochbuie branches of the clan, receiving grants of territory from King Robert the Bruce, who he bestowed upon Lauchlan the hand of his daughter. Lauchlan was succeeded by Red Hector of the Battles, who fell at Harlaw on July 24, 1411, and his Black Donald with the ferocest warriors-out of the Isles was met by Earl of Mar, son of the Wolf of Badenoch. It was a drawn battle, both sides being maimed almost to death; but the Islesmen withdrew the shattered remnant of their forces, leaving the bodies of their slain behind them. On the downfall of the Lords of the Isles in 1484, the Macleans received from James IV charters for the lands they had previously held in the Hebrides, and in Dr. Johnston's "Tours to the Hebrides" the tradition concerning the heir of Coll is related:—"On the wall of old Coll Castle, was not long ago, a stone with an inscription importing that the record, Gillian, lived in the reign of Alexander III. (1249-1286) and fought against the Norsemen.

AT THE BATTLE OF LARGS. In the reign of Robert the Bruce mention is made of three brothers, John, Nigel and Dufulan, termed MacCollen, or MacGillan, who appear to have been sons of Gilliemore, for John afterwards designated MacGilliemore. The latter fought under Bruce at Bannockburn. A dispute having arisen with the Lord of Lorn, these brothers left him and took refuge in the Isles. Between them and the Lord of Lorn, upon whose lands they appear to have encroached, a bitter feud took place, which led to a most daring act on the part of the chief of the Macleans. When following with the chief of the Macleans, the galleys of the Lord of the Isles attacked the former and slew him, and immediately after this he seized the Macdonald himself and carried him prisoner to Icolmkill, where Maclean detained him until he agreed to view friendship to the Macleans "upon certain terms." These men were used to make solemn vows in those superstitious times, "and granted them the lands in Mull which they have ever since possessed. John Gilliemore, summoned Duu from his dark confinement, appears to have written to Mull about the year 1330. But to proceed. At the date of the forfeiture of the Lordship of the Isles in 1469 Hector Maclean, great-grandson of the "Red Hector of the Battles," the chief of the Macleans. The Clan Gillie, or Clan Lean as it then came to be called, was divided into four independent branches—viz., the Macleans of Duart, the Macleans of Lochbuie, the Macleans of Coll, and the Macleans of Ardour. Duart Maclean, who was chief of Duart in 1502, was killed in Ffoden's ill-fated field. In 1523 a feud of a most bitter character broke out between the Macleans and the Campbells, arising out of an occurrence connected with the "Lady's rock." In 1529, James Maclean joined the Clan Donald of Isla against the Earl of Argyll, and

RAVAGED WITH FIRE AND SWORD the lands of Rosneath, Cragmahel, and others belonging to the Campbells, killing many of the inhabitants. The Campbells, on their part, laid waste great portions of the Isle of Mull and Tiree, and the lands of Morvern, belonging to the Macleans. We must, however, skip some of the many feuds for in those days the clansmen were never happier than when waging war against some foe. In 1831 Sir Lauchlan Maclean, of Morvern, a younger brother of Hector Maclean, of Duart, was created a Baronet of Nova Scotia by Charles I., and on the death of his elder brother he succeeded to the estate of Duart. The Duke of Montrose, in the Civil Wars, the Macleans fought most valiantly for the Royal cause, and at the battle of Inverkeithing, 20th February, 1645, Lauchlan commanded his

CLAN RALLY. Sir Fitzroy Maclean, 20th chief of the Clan Maclean, entered into possession on Saturday, 24th August, 1912, of Duart Castle, in the Isle of Mull, which has again become the family home, after a lapse of 200 years. Members of the clan from all parts of the United Kingdom and from Canada, America, and Germany crossed from Oban to the Isle of Mull, to rally to the call of the venerable head of their name, on the occasion of his formal entry into possession. In vain "Look here, Henry, just you see what these Uns have been up to."

THE Macleans were among the greatest of the island tribes. Their progenitor was Gillian of the Battleaxe, who lived in the time of Alexander the Third and fought at the battle of Largs, when the way of the Norseman was broken in the Hebrides, which were then annexed to the Kingdom of Scotland. In the Ragman's Roll is found "Gilliemore Makilyn," along with "Malcolm McCullian in Fide de Kintyre," who fought under Bruce at Bannockburn. His grandsons Lauchlan, styled Lubanach, or the crafty, and Hector Reganach, founded the Duart and Lochbuie branches of the clan, receiving grants of territory from King Robert the Bruce, who he bestowed upon Lauchlan the hand of his daughter. Lauchlan was succeeded by Red Hector of the Battles, who fell at Harlaw on July 24, 1411, and his Black Donald with the ferocest warriors-out of the Isles was met by Earl of Mar, son of the Wolf of Badenoch. It was a drawn battle, both sides being maimed almost to death; but the Islesmen withdrew the shattered remnant of their forces, leaving the bodies of their slain behind them. On the downfall of the Lords of the Isles in 1484, the Macleans received from James IV charters for the lands they had previously held in the Hebrides, and in Dr. Johnston's "Tours to the Hebrides" the tradition concerning the heir of Coll is related:—"On the wall of old Coll Castle, was not long ago, a stone with an inscription importing that the record, Gillian, lived in the reign of Alexander III. (1249-1286) and fought against the Norsemen.

IN their devotion to the Stuarts the Macleans fell into misfortune. During the Civil Wars they were loyal to the Stuarts. At Killecrankie the clan were with "Black John of the Battles," as the Highlanders called Claverhouse, at Sheriffmuir, in the Fifteen, "and at Culloden, in the Forty-five," by which time they were reduced to 500 claymores. The martial spirit of the Maclean Chiefs endured to modern times. Sir Allan in 1757 raised a company for Montagu's Highlanders. He received in 1773 a visit from Dr. Johnson and Boswell, on their name of the parish of Campbell, deceased.

REVIEWS. Thomas W. Butler, Town of Milltown, Manford Robinson, Town of St. Stephen, Hazen J. Burton, Jr., Town of St. Andrews, W. Messent, Town of St. George, John J. Weatherly, Parish of St. James, William D. Garcelon, St. David, Rev. Frederick L. Leppin, W. N. Caldwell, Charles McCulloch, St. Patrick, J. Greenlaw, St. Croix, G. King Greenlaw, St. Andrews, Elgin McNichol, St. George, W. W. Cross, Penfield, Kirby Penfield, Leppin, W. N. Caldwell, Goldwin Smith, Deer Island, Duncan O. Rice, Campobello, James McDonald, Grand Manan, Robert T. Donald, Dufferin, John A. Grant, St. Stephen, H. I. Washburn, Glarendon.

OFFICER'S GALLANT DEED. A Reuter message from Cairo states that after the landing operations at Sedd-el-Bahr a certain colonel led the men in a gallant bayonet charge up a hill. The men, who spoke of him in the most eulogistic terms, said that all he carried was a small cane, and from a band he wore on his arm they gathered that he was a staff officer. He walked about in the open uniform, a continuous fire, talking to the men, cheering them up, and rallying them together. Armed simply with his small cane he led the charge. The moral effect of the officer's action was great. The men charged up the hill and cleared the enemy from his position, but the gallant officer lost his life.

It is now said that this was Major Doughty-Wylie, and the hill on which he met his death is now known as "Doughty-Wylie's Hill." An officer speaking about the major said that no braver man ever lived. He had no business to be there, as he was a staff officer, but the loss among officers in landing had been so great, and the necessity for making headway quickly was so essential that Major Doughty-Wylie felt that his duty lay in leading the men, and so he went forth fearlessly to his death, and the hill will be a lasting monument to his self-sacrifice and great valor.

CONVENTION OF N. S. GRAND LODGE OF MASONS. Halifax, June 10.—One of the most important and largely attended Grand Lodge convocations, which fittingly celebrated the semi-centennial of that great Maenonic body in the province of Nova Scotia was brought to a close at Halifax to-night by the installation of officers. At this evening's session, retiring Grand Master, Mr. W. C. Foster, was elected as presiding officer, and P. G. Master Colesman as pres. officer.

ST. GEORGE. There is a large three-masted schooner at the wharf loading lumber for the States. Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Kilman returned last week from St. Andrews, where they spent the winter with their daughter, Mrs. Stuart. Mr. St. Hickey and child returned with them for the summer.

ST. GEORGE. There is a large three-masted schooner at the wharf loading lumber for the States. Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Kilman returned last week from St. Andrews, where they spent the winter with their daughter, Mrs. Stuart. Mr. St. Hickey and child returned with them for the summer.

ST. GEORGE. There is a large three-masted schooner at the wharf loading lumber for the States. Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Kilman returned last week from St. Andrews, where they spent the winter with their daughter, Mrs. Stuart. Mr. St. Hickey and child returned with them for the summer.

ST. GEORGE. There is a large three-masted schooner at the wharf loading lumber for the States. Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Kilman returned last week from St. Andrews, where they spent the winter with their daughter, Mrs. Stuart. Mr. St. Hickey and child returned with them for the summer.

ST. GEORGE. There is a large three-masted schooner at the wharf loading lumber for the States. Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Kilman returned last week from St. Andrews, where they spent the winter with their daughter, Mrs. Stuart. Mr. St. Hickey and child returned with them for the summer.

ST. GEORGE. There is a large three-masted schooner at the wharf loading lumber for the States. Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Kilman returned last week from St. Andrews, where they spent the winter with their daughter, Mrs. Stuart. Mr. St. Hickey and child returned with them for the summer.

ST. GEORGE. There is a large three-masted schooner at the wharf loading lumber for the States. Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Kilman returned last week from St. Andrews, where they spent the winter with their daughter, Mrs. Stuart. Mr. St. Hickey and child returned with them for the summer.

SAINT ANDREWS, NEW BRUNSWICK, THURSDAY, JUNE 17, 1915

News in Brief

Level Richardson, one of the oldest men in Canada, will celebrate his 104th birthday tomorrow at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. Charles Young, Northumberland street.

For a man of such an advanced age Mr. Richardson is wonderfully preserved and is enjoying good health.

While admitting that he is not as robust as a few years ago, he still likes to walk in the garden, and reads the papers with unusual interest. He follows the progress of the war and does not retire until he has read over carefully the news of the day.

Mr. Richardson was born on June 13, 1811, the son of Levi Richardson of Vermont and Ellen Stanwood of Brunswick, Me. He married Hannah Young of Oak Bay, and they lived happily on a farm at Lawrence Station for thirty years.

He attributes his long life and remarkable preservation to early rising and strict adherence to temperance, and never being idle when there was something to do. He has lived an honest and upright life and is highly respected in this city, having a wide acquaintance. He allied himself with the Methodist Church during his residence in Charlotte County, and it was at his house that services were held before any Methodist Church was built in the county, some seventy years ago.

He has been living with his children in this province and Maine since his own home was destroyed by fire in his native village; and during recent years has lived with his daughter, Mrs. Young. He has over 80 children, grandchildren, great-grandchildren and great-great-grandchildren. His wife died in 1909 at a ripe old age.

Mr. Richardson's many friends in this city and throughout the province will join in rendering congratulations on this his 104th birthday. —Cleanser, Fredericton, June 12.

ST. GEORGE. There is a large three-masted schooner at the wharf loading lumber for the States. Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Kilman returned last week from St. Andrews, where they spent the winter with their daughter, Mrs. Stuart. Mr. St. Hickey and child returned with them for the summer.

ST. GEORGE. There is a large three-masted schooner at the wharf loading lumber for the States. Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Kilman returned last week from St. Andrews, where they spent the winter with their daughter, Mrs. Stuart. Mr. St. Hickey and child returned with them for the summer.

ST. GEORGE. There is a large three-masted schooner at the wharf loading lumber for the States. Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Kilman returned last week from St. Andrews, where they spent the winter with their daughter, Mrs. Stuart. Mr. St. Hickey and child returned with them for the summer.

ST. GEORGE. There is a large three-masted schooner at the wharf loading lumber for the States. Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Kilman returned last week from St. Andrews, where they spent the winter with their daughter, Mrs. Stuart. Mr. St. Hickey and child returned with them for the summer.

ST. GEORGE. There is a large three-masted schooner at the wharf loading lumber for the States. Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Kilman returned last week from St. Andrews, where they spent the winter with their daughter, Mrs. Stuart. Mr. St. Hickey and child returned with them for the summer.

ST. GEORGE. There is a large three-masted schooner at the wharf loading lumber for the States. Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Kilman returned last week from St. Andrews, where they spent the winter with their daughter, Mrs. Stuart. Mr. St. Hickey and child returned with them for the summer.

ST. GEORGE. There is a large three-masted schooner at the wharf loading lumber for the States. Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Kilman returned last week from St. Andrews, where they spent the winter with their daughter, Mrs. Stuart. Mr. St. Hickey and child returned with them for the summer.

ST. GEORGE. There is a large three-masted schooner at the wharf loading lumber for the States. Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Kilman returned last week from St. Andrews, where they spent the winter with their daughter, Mrs. Stuart. Mr. St. Hickey and child returned with them for the summer.

ST. GEORGE. There is a large three-masted schooner at the wharf loading lumber for the States. Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Kilman returned last week from St. Andrews, where they spent the winter with their daughter, Mrs. Stuart. Mr. St. Hickey and child returned with them for the summer.

ST. GEORGE. There is a large three-masted schooner at the wharf loading lumber for the States. Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Kilman returned last week from St. Andrews, where they spent the winter with their daughter, Mrs. Stuart. Mr. St. Hickey and child returned with them for the summer.

ST. GEORGE. There is a large three-masted schooner at the wharf loading lumber for the States. Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Kilman returned last week from St. Andrews, where they spent the winter with their daughter, Mrs. Stuart. Mr. St. Hickey and child returned with them for the summer.

ST. GEORGE. There is a large three-masted schooner at the wharf loading lumber for the States. Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Kilman returned last week from St. Andrews, where they spent the winter with their daughter, Mrs. Stuart. Mr. St. Hickey and child returned with them for the summer.

ST. GEORGE. There is a large three-masted schooner at the wharf loading lumber for the States. Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Kilman returned last week from St. Andrews, where they spent the winter with their daughter, Mrs. Stuart. Mr. St. Hickey and child returned with them for the summer.

ST. GEORGE. There is a large three-masted schooner at the wharf loading lumber for the States. Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Kilman returned last week from St. Andrews, where they spent the winter with their daughter, Mrs. Stuart. Mr. St. Hickey and child returned with them for the summer.

ST. GEORGE. There is a large three-masted schooner at the wharf loading lumber for the States. Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Kilman returned last week from St. Andrews, where they spent the winter with their daughter, Mrs. Stuart. Mr. St. Hickey and child returned with them for the summer.

ST. GEORGE. There is a large three-masted schooner at the wharf loading lumber for the States. Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Kilman returned last week from St. Andrews, where they spent the winter with their daughter, Mrs. Stuart. Mr. St. Hickey and child returned with them for the summer.

ST. GEORGE. There is a large three-masted schooner at the wharf loading lumber for the States. Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Kilman returned last week from St. Andrews, where they spent the winter with their daughter, Mrs. Stuart. Mr. St. Hickey and child returned with them for the summer.

WHY HENRY WENT

HENRY—for that was what every one called him—was the despair of the village rectors. Everyone tried to induce him to enlist and everyone failed ignominiously. The Vicar, who had conceived the totally erroneous idea that Henry had conscientious objections, proved to him that fighting in a cause like ours was clearly justified by all laws human and divine.

"Don't you go 'pologising' to me for, Sir," said Henry. "I'd never think of blaming you, Sir. I mind my own business."

The postmistress, greatly daring, presented him with a white feather. "Thankee, Miss," said Henry, putting it in his hat, "but I tells you if you goes chasin' Squire's ducks to give young men presents you'll get into trouble."

The Squire himself told Henry that every young man who could shoulder a gun ought to be off.

"It's none o' my business, Sir," said Henry. "Is there a coward in this village?" demanded the Squire.

"Your gamekeepers don't think of it, your swore true at petty sessions," replied Henry.

And certainly it was a fact that Henry on one splendid occasion had tackled three gamekeepers and thrashed them horribly.

Not even the news that his step-brother Albert had been taken prisoner moved Henry.

"Why should I go botherin' about 'im bein' in prison? I'd never want to fight no one when I'm done' three weeks in even o' payin' five pound and costs."

Even Mr. Bates of "The Bull" used his best influence in vain. "Look here, Henry, just you see what these Uns have been up to."

"They never done nothing to me," persisted Henry. "But one morning the postman handed Henry a postcard over the garden hedge. Henry read the postcard with difficulty, put his spade in an out-house, took down Minard's Lignum Lumberman's Friend.

PROVINCIAL APPOINTMENTS IN CHARLOTTE COUNTY. The following appointments in Charlotte County have been announced in the Royal Gazette:—

Rev. Frederick Talmege Wright, of Seal Cove, Grand Manan, has been registered to solemnize marriages.

J. William Richardson, Barrister, to be Judge of Probate, pro hac vice, in reference to the estate of Cadwallader Campbell, late of the Parish of Campbell, deceased.

REVIEWS. Thomas W. Butler, Town of Milltown, Manford Robinson, Town of St. Stephen, Hazen J. Burton, Jr., Town of St. Andrews, W. Messent, Town of St. George, John J. Weatherly, Parish of St. James, William D. Garcelon, St. David, Rev. Frederick L. Leppin, W. N. Caldwell, Charles McCulloch, St. Patrick, J. Greenlaw, St. Croix, G. King Greenlaw, St. Andrews, Elgin McNichol, St. George, W. W. Cross, Penfield, Kirby Penfield, Leppin, W. N. Caldwell, Goldwin Smith, Deer Island, Duncan O. Rice, Campobello, James McDonald, Grand Manan, Robert T. Donald, Dufferin, John A. Grant, St. Stephen, H. I. Washburn, Glarendon.

OFFICER'S GALLANT DEED. A Reuter message from Cairo states that after the landing operations at Sedd-el-Bahr a certain colonel led the men in a gallant bayonet charge up a hill. The men, who spoke of him in the most eulogistic terms, said that all he carried was a small cane, and from a band he wore on his arm they gathered that he was a staff officer. He walked about in the open uniform, a continuous fire, talking to the men, cheering them up, and rallying them together. Armed simply with his small cane he led the charge. The moral effect of the officer's action was great. The men charged up the hill and cleared the enemy from his position, but the gallant officer lost his life.

It is now said that this was Major Doughty-Wylie, and the hill on which he met his death is now known as "Doughty-Wylie's Hill." An officer speaking about the major said that no braver man ever lived. He had no business to be there, as he was a staff officer, but the loss among officers in landing had been so great, and the necessity for making headway quickly was so essential that Major Doughty-Wylie felt that his duty lay in leading the men, and so he went forth fearlessly to his death, and the hill will be a lasting monument to his self-sacrifice and great valor.

CONVENTION OF N. S. GRAND LODGE OF MASONS. Halifax, June 10.—One of the most important and largely attended Grand Lodge convocations, which fittingly celebrated the semi-centennial of that great Maenonic body in the province of Nova Scotia was brought to a close at Halifax to-night by the installation of officers. At this evening's session, retiring Grand Master, Mr. W. C. Foster, was elected as presiding officer, and P. G. Master Colesman as pres. officer.

ST. GEORGE. There is a large three-masted schooner at the wharf loading lumber for the States. Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Kilman returned last week from St. Andrews, where they spent the winter with their daughter, Mrs. Stuart. Mr. St. Hickey and child returned with them for the summer.

ST. GEORGE. There is a large three-masted schooner at the wharf loading lumber for the States. Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Kilman returned last week from St. Andrews, where they spent the winter with their daughter, Mrs. Stuart. Mr. St. Hickey and child returned with them for the summer.

ST. GEORGE. There is a large three-masted schooner at the wharf loading lumber for the States. Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Kilman returned last week from St. Andrews, where they spent the winter with their daughter, Mrs. Stuart. Mr. St. Hickey and child returned with them for the summer.

ST. GEORGE. There is a large three-masted schooner at the wharf loading lumber for the States. Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Kilman returned last week from St. Andrews, where they spent the winter with their daughter, Mrs. Stuart. Mr. St. Hickey and child returned with them for the summer.

ST. GEORGE. There is a large three-masted schooner at the wharf loading lumber for the States. Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Kilman returned last week from St. Andrews, where they spent the winter with their daughter, Mrs. Stuart. Mr. St. Hickey and child returned with them for the summer.

ST. GEORGE. There is a large three-masted schooner at the wharf loading lumber for the States. Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Kilman returned last week from St. Andrews, where they spent the winter with their daughter, Mrs. Stuart. Mr. St. Hickey and child returned with them for the summer.

ST. GEORGE. There is a large three-masted schooner at the wharf loading lumber for the States. Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Kilman returned last week from St. Andrews, where they spent the winter with their daughter, Mrs. Stuart. Mr. St. Hickey and child returned with them for the summer.

WHY PATCH UP CRACKS In Plastered Walls?

So long as plaster is used, so long will it crack, and try as you will, you can't hide those cracks permanently, no matter how much money you waste trying to do it.

BEAVER BOARD

Makes permanent, beautiful walls, is easily applied without dirt, or litter, doing away with lath, plaster and wallpaper. Soft tone colors in paint offer numberless pleasing effects in decorating schemes. Nail it to joints and studding in new rooms, over plaster in old rooms.

W. H. THORNE & CO. Ltd., St. John, N.B.

KENNEDY'S HOTEL

St. Andrews, N. B. A. KENNEDY & SON, PROPRIETORS. Beautifully Situated on Water Front. Near Trains and Steamboats. All Rooms Steam Heated and supplied with Hot and Cold Running Water.

RATES—$2.00 to $2.50 per day. Special rates by the week.

The Best Place to Buy Your Suit.

We are Acknowledged the leaders in the Tailor Trade. We are still growing in popularity. Why? Because our methods are practical, our work satisfactory. Call and give us a trial order. Fit and Workmanship Guaranteed to be Equal to any Make in Canada or United States.

E. B. STINSON, Merchant Tailor, ST. ANDREWS, N. B.

DINNER SETS

From $4.90 to $175.00

When in need of a Dinner Set at any Price, call on us or drop us a line and we will tell you about our stock. We have sets from $4.90 to $175.00. Our sets, which are for common use, will make a table look nice, and will give good service, we can sell for $13.50. We have them in white and gold; white and gold with black line; border patterns and sprays. Something to suit all tastes.

R. D. ROSS & CO.

ST. STEPHEN, N. B. NEAR POST OFFICE

Cleaning Up?

Here Are a Few Suggestions: Ramsay's Paint for all good painting. A large assortment of colors to select from. 3 Pts.—Gallons. Wall Paper, a large and well assorted stock at reasonable prices. 5 per roll and up.

J. A. SHIRLEY

WATER STREET ST. ANDREWS

RECRUITS ARE COMING ALL THE TIME

FREDERICKSON BUSINESS COLLEGE to call for training as Bookkeepers, Bank Clerks, Stenographers, etc.

Patriotic Stationery

Box Paper - Tablet Envelopes Correspondence Cards Use the RITZELL Fountain Pen

H. O'NEILL

Up-to-Date Market

A. E. O'NEILL'S

FOR MILLINERY AND FANCY GOODS

ST. ANDREWS, NEW BRUNSWICK, THURSDAY, JUNE 17, 1915

News in Brief

Level Richardson, one of the oldest men in Canada, will celebrate his 104th birthday tomorrow at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. Charles Young, Northumberland street.

For a man of such an advanced age Mr. Richardson is wonderfully preserved and is enjoying good health.