

RED SOX WILL NOT TRAVEL QUITE AS MUCH AS OTHERS

Ticket Agent, President Nelson, Doesn't Care, However.

President T. J. Nelson and Secretary Roy Brown of the local ball club returned last night from the Canadian League meeting field yesterday in Toronto well pleased with their success in changing the schedule. By the new draft made yesterday Brantford will have 1,000 miles less to travel than any other team in the league and 5,000 miles less than some of them.

The draft of yesterday's schedule makes the circuit more compact. Big jumps are infrequent and on a whole it is more satisfactory than the first one.

The opening dates are all the same. Hamilton opens here on Thursday, May 7th and will have six home games before leaving the city. After Hamilton's visit Toronto will be here for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, May 11, 12 and 13 and then the Red Sox will go to Hamilton to open the season there. The new schedule gives London six games here instead of three. Ottawa will take the dates of one of the St. Thomas series namely, July 9, 10, 11, the latter date being a Saturday. Brantford will have Hamilton here for the morning of May 24th and will go to Hamilton for the afternoon game. On July 1st, Peterborough will be here for a double header, while Eric will be here for a double header on civic holiday. The Red Sox will close with a double header in Hamilton on Labor Day.

It took the magnates all the afternoon to settle upon a draft but the meeting was on the whole, harmonious and little wrangling took place. The schedule will be published in the Courier in a few days.

LEAGUE STARS PLY FOR PLACES IN FED. LEAGUE

CHICAGO, March 12.—Eleven big league players have telegraphed President Gilmore, asking for a chance to join the Federals, according to a despatch from Shreveport.

Among them are four of the Boston Americans, and players on the Chicago Federal League team are also saying that they are Walter Lewis, Collins and Leonard. It is understood the Federal League had to accede to Wagner's demands, which were for $7,500 a year's reported terms may be added, it was said, and if so he will sign for the Brooklyn team.

The specialists say that President Gilmore of the Chicago Federals, made a new offer to Ty Cobb, George Stovall, manager of the St. City Federals, is reported to offer Wilbur Good, of the Cincinnati Nationals. Both Good and Cobb are under contract with their respective league teams.

President Gilmore Silent
SHREVEPORT, La., March 12.—President Gilmore, president of the Federal League, here with the Chicago Federals, refused to confirm or deny reports to the effect that terms had been reached for the signing of any of the fifty players of the American and National leagues who have been reported to have been negotiating for Federal League contracts.

All the clubs in the league have the players they need with the exception of Brooklyn and Buffalo. President Gilmore. "We probably will sign two more players for each of these teams. We have all the players we need to which we may add players not retained by the Federal League, and we are not worried over farms."

President Gilmore said he would be in to-morrow for Chicago.

BY THE WAY.

Sunderland's positions in the League tables have so far been as follows: 4, 14, 15, 9, 8, 9, 8, 7, 9, 6, 5, 4, 3, 2 and 3—Manchester City have won all their matches this year. Seven games off the reel is like championship form.

—Trougher Milton, Cringan, and Danks were all injured in the replayed Cup-tie at Hartlepool on Wednesday and not able to play this afternoon. Sunderland are again training at home for the Cup-tie. Crossley the latest acquisition to Sunderland's list of forwards, made his debut with the Reserves today. Mellor and Smith City, have been registered by Newcastle up to the end of April, 1915. Shea of Blackburn Rovers, heads the list of goalkeepers in both Divisions with 25 to his credit. Elliott of Middlesbrough comes next with 21, and Barnes, Derby County, and Stevens, Hull City have 20 each. Since 1883 Aston Villa and West Bromwich Albion have played 104 matches. The Villa gained their fifteenth victory on Saturday, the Albions having 25 wins and 10 games being drawn. Meredith makes a constant practice of sprinting 30 yards every morning of the year, and thinks other forwards will be well advised to adopt the same plan. All the critics speak highly of Martin's display in the Inter-League match. To-day he got his first International cap. The Wearers have now four International forwards. South Shields are increasing their capital to £2,000. Like a good many more clubs they are going to get a team that will win the English cup. There is nothing like trying. The booking of seats is proceeding merrily at Roker. The Prestonsians seem pretty confident of at least qualifying for a replay.

Charlie Thompson, popular captain of Sunderland took a benefit and was guaranteed $2,500. He got $3,500, joining the team in 1908, he has been a regular player ever since and is likely to continue so for some time.

ALEXANDRA'S ARE CHAMPIONS '13-14

Defeated Dufferin School and Won Hockey League Championship.

Yesterday afternoon at the Alford Street rink Alexandra school won the championship of the Hockey section of the School Athletic League, defeating the Dufferin School.

The game was fast throughout the Alexandra boys showing their superiority over the boys from the Dufferin school in team play. Referee Ed. Slattery handled the bell to the satisfaction of both teams. The Alexandras have gone through the season without a defeat. While the Dufferins and the Centrals each lost one game. The hockey league has been a splendid success, considering the lateness in drawing up the schedule. All the teams have played good hockey and close games have been the feature.

Much credit for the success of the league is due to Mr. Roper, physical director of the Y.M.C.A. who has been putting in his efforts in building up the league and looking after its operation.

The original intention of the league was to run two series, a senior and a junior, but the committee in charge thought it wise to abandon the junior series for this year and run the senior only. Five junior teams were entered and next year the league will run both divisions. Five out of the six schools were entered in the league. Ryerson school being the exception as this school did not have boys large enough to enter the senior series. However next year they will in all probability enter the junior series.

The Eclipse Came On Schedule Time

Brantford people had an excellent view of the partial eclipse of the moon last evening, the night being dark and the air clear. The eclipse proper began at about a quarter to 10 o'clock, and ended at 12:45 this morning, the middle point occurring at 11:13 p.m., when only a narrow streak of silver was illuminated on the right-hand side of the moon. The magnitude of the eclipse was 0.916, which means that about nine-tenths of the moon was plunged in shadow.

The darkened part of the moon was clearly visible throughout the eclipse, the obscurity not being complete. This light shed on the moon's surface phenomenon was accountable to from other sources than the direct rays of the sun, which, of course, were cut off by the earth's shadow. Such illumination would include starlight and a small measure of sunlight which would be refracted in the direction of the moon by filtration through the earth's atmosphere. No further eclipse will be visible in Brantford this year.

TARZAN OF THE APES

By EDGAR RICE BURROUGHS

Copyright, 1912, by the Frank A. Munsey Company

CHAPTER V. The Death of Kala.

THREE miles west of Kulonga, son of Mbonga, the negro king, slept the tribe of Kerchak.

Early the next morning the apes were astir, moving through the jungle in search of food. Tarzan, as was his custom, prosecuted his search in the direction of the cabin, so that by leisurely hunting on the way his hunger was appeased by the time he reached the beach.

The apes scattered by ones and twos and threes in all directions, but always within sound of a signal of alarm. Kala had moved slowly along an elephant track toward the east and was busily engaged in turning over rotted logs and logs in search of esculent bugs and fungi when the faintest shadow of a strange noise brought her to startled attention.

For fifty yards before her the trail was straight, and this leafy tuft was steadily advancing straight at the stealthily advancing figure of a strange and fearful creature.

It was Kulonga.

Kala did not wait to see more, but, turning, moved rapidly back along the trail. She did not run, but, after the manner of her kind when not roused, she sought rather to avoid than to escape. Close after her came Kulonga. Here was meat. He could make a killing and feast well this day. On he hurried, his spear poised for the throw.

At a turning of the trail he came in sight of her again upon another straight stretch. His spear hand went forward, the muscles rolled, lightning-like, beneath the sleek hide. Out shot the arm, and the spear sped toward Kala.

A poor cast. It but grazed her side. With a cry of rage and pain Kala turned upon her tormentor. In an instant the trees were crashing beneath the weight of hurrying apes, swinging rapidly toward the scene of trouble in answer to Kala's scream.

As Kala charged, Kulonga unslung his bow and fitted an arrow with almost unthinkable quickness. Drawing the shaft far back, he drove the poisoned missile straight into the heart of the great ape.

With a horrid scream Kala plunged forward upon her face before the astonished members of her tribe. Roaring and shrieking, the apes dashed toward Kulonga, but that wary savage was feeling down the trail like a frightened antelope. They followed him, racing through the trees for a long distance, but finally one by one they abandoned the chase and returned to the scene of the tragedy.

On the far beach by the little cabin Tarzan heard the faint echoes of the conflict, and, knowing that something was seriously amiss among the tribe, he hastened rapidly toward the direction of the sound.

When he arrived he found the entire tribe gathered jabbering about the dead body of his slain mother.

Tarzan's grief and anger were unbounded. He roared out his hideous challenge time and again. He beat upon his chest with his fists, and then he fell upon the body of Kala and sobbed out the pitiful sorrowing of his lonely heart.

BURNLEY WON DESPERATE GAME

Over 35,000 Watched Football Struggle in the Old Land.

NEW YORK, March 12.—A London cable to The Tribune says: The replayed English Cup tie between Burnley and Sunderland took place on the ground of the former before 35,000 excited persons here yesterday. Each side scored a goal at half-time, but Burnley secured the lead soon after resuming, and playing desperately to keep their powerful rivals out beat them amid tremendous excitement by a score of 2 to 1.

The replayed cup tie between Sheffield United and Manchester City will be played this afternoon.

One first and one second association league game was played, Preston North End beating Manchester United at 4 to 2, which Clapton Orient put a severe damper on Leeds City's hopes of promotion by a score of 3 to 1 before their own supporters.

HUSBANDS AND CATS NEED TO BE PETTED

So Declares Woman Lecturer, While Speaking on the Subject of Eugenics.

PHILADELPHIA, March 12.—Dr. Maude L. Dunn, the lecturer on eugenics after "shooing" all the men out of Witherspoon Hall yesterday, told to an audience of women about the evils of tight corsets.

"You can't be a smiling sunshine in your home when your corsets presses against your body," Dr. Dunn told the several hundred women present. "Husbands are just like big cats. They want lots of petting, and if they don't get it at home they will go elsewhere—and your worst enemy will be the woman who hasn't any petting corset."

She also said there was but one way to put on a corset, and that is while lying down.

ANOTHER ONE GONE.

GLASGOW, Scotland, March 12.—Militant suffragettes to-day set fire to and burned a large, unoccupied mansion belonging to the Free Church of Scotland at Stewarston, in the northern part of Ayrshire. A message was left in the vicinity stating: "Revenge for the brutal arrest of Mrs. Pankhurst."

Death Sentence, With A Stay of Execution, Declares Ed. Carson

London, March 10.—The one question everyone asks this morning is—"Will Ulster accept?" The first impression is not hopeful. Sir Edward Carson calls the offer "a sentence of death for Ulster, with a stay of execution for six years." The Ministerial Daily News admits that hope of a compromise is faint.

The immediate fight will rage round the Ulster demand that the time limit be removed and that the Ulster counties which exclude themselves shall remain excluded until Parliament otherwise orders.

To this Mr. Redmond replies:—"The Nationalists have gone further than most limits of concession."

The widespread Ministerial feeling, which some back-bench Unionists share, is that Mr. Asquith's unexpectedly generous proposals make civil war unthinkable. The Freeman's Journal says:—"It is impossible for even insane partisans to argue that it is necessary to use the bullet for getting what is obtainable by the ballot. The Orangemen must now argue his case upon his merits and along constitutional lines."

One comment which especially pleases the Ministerialists comes from the Paris Journal Humanite, which says:—"Mr. Asquith's concessions seem such as to disarm any opposition which is not dazzled by egotism or willing to provoke civil war in order to save privileges."

The Paris Figaro adds: "All the friends of England hope that the violent crisis of civil war may now be successfully avoided, but experience proves that you cannot argue this way about Ulster."

Hamilton Fyfe, writing in the Daily Mail from Belfast, says the military preparations have fanned a flame which it will be difficult to blow out. Only by incessant drilling and the fixing of men's minds on the future is an outbreak now avoided. Mr. Fyfe adds:—"Ulster oppresses the Englishman with a sense of unreality. When one hears Nationalists sing of a desire to wade deep in British blood, or listen, as I did yesterday, to an elderly gentleman of commercial eminence, and undoubted business acumen, declaring that a Dublin Parliament would be certain to govern Ireland, not in the interest of the King of England, but in the interest of the Pope of Rome, one feels like Alice through the looking-glass. One seems slipped back several hundred years."

A valuable palaeontological discovery has been made in German East Africa.
