ALD. JONES FOR MAYOR

A WORD ON COUNCIL MEETINGS

In the Mayor's absence I was asked by the Council to preside at one of the Council meetings this year. There was an unusually large volume of business dealt with that night, and finished by 10.30. At the conclusion of the meeting. Ald. Symons, the popular representative from Ward Five, congratulated me on the way business was handled, and remarked that it was the first meeting of the year in which the slate had been wiped clean. The reason for this is that because of my long municipal experience I am thoroughly conversant with the rules of debate, the neessity of holding discussion strictly to the subject in hand and the elimination of a lot of unnecessary rigmorale on formal matters. The function of the Mayor is to preserve order, not enter into debate on any question from the chair. short of a terse summing up. Some of the meetings of Council during the year have been of the bear garden variety. Aldermen have been allowed to cross fire at each other without addressing the chair, and the Mayor has delighted in riding rough shod over the rules of order.

If elected mayor the business of the Council will be dealt with in a business-like Elected Alderman 1915, appointed Chairman of Manufacturers' Committee. Initiated, under Mayor Spence, the first Soldiers' Aid Commission in Canada. This later became absorbed by the now Provincial Soldiers' Aid Commission in 1916. The Brantford Branch is the greatest avenue of assistance and service to our returned soldiers, also to their anxious friends. Over wto years personal attention freely given. Re-elected Alderman 1916, appointed Chairman of Finance. Active in every department of the government of the city. Re-elected Alderman 1917, appointed Chairman of Finance. Carried on the city's business on business principles only.

I think I have merited your votes for Mayor because of services rendered as Alderman for the last three years, serving entirely in the city's interest.
