ELECTION AT HAND

Premier Murray has at length dissolved the local house of Parliament and will again appeal to the people on Oct. 2nd or less than a month from the time being announced.

At present the local government is strong, the opposition only having three members. But Premier Murray has done nothing to justify the people in again placing him in power and as the Conservatives have already made public a policy that commends itself to the mass of the people and strong candidates are being nominated in different counties who would be capable men to carry out a progressive policy. So with a short and vigorous campaign the result will be doubtful.

The people generally are adverse to allowing a government too long a lease of power. This drove the Conservative government from power at Ottawa and placed Laurier as premier. The same idea prevails that the Liberals have ruled in Nova Scotia too long and they now act as if they owned the country and could do as they like, independent of the middle class of people who work our farms, pay our taxes and are the backbone of the country. Only those who have paid out money to purchase elections and have a string to pull on the government have any show with the Murray administration and the rest of the people must submit to party bosses and dyed-in-the-wool politicians.

No candidate has yet been nominated in Kings, but it is generally accepted that H. H. Wickwire will be a candidate and that B. H. Dodge will also be induced to run. It was considered as almost certain that the latter had earned a right to and would drop into the office of Registrar of Deeds but that office appears to be a political football to squabble over as much now as it has been in the past. The names of W. E. Roscoe and I. B. Oakes have also been mentioned, while many of the party would like to have C. F. Rockwell enter the contest.

The Conservatives have been considering candidates for a while but as yet no definite announcements can be made as to when the convention will be held or what names will be submitted to that convention. But a move will be made right away and a sharp contest may be expected in Kings.

Schools Not Yet Opened

It is required by law that each teacher shall notify the Inspector of Schools, on the day of opening of his school. 1. Of the date of opening. 2. Of the name of the section in which he is engaged. 3. Of his Class of License. 4. Of the name of the section in which he last taught. 5. Of the period of his engagement. Failing to do this he is not entitled to any grant until this duty is discharged. Some of the larger schools, such as Kentville and Windsor are just opening and so have not yet sent their notices. The following, however, which were supposed to open August 19th inst., not having sent such notices, it is taken for granted that they have not opened because they could not find suitable teachers. It will therefore be in order for teachers wanting schools to write the secretaries of trustees for any of those vacant schools. Kings County: Greenwood, Clermont, Harborville, West Halls Harbor, Baxters Harbor, New Minas Greenfield, Pine Woods, North River, Lake Paul, South Tremont, White Waters, Kingsport, Garland, Dalhousie Road and Delhaven. West Hants: Vaughan, South Waterville, Cogmagun, Greenhill, Five Mile Plain and Mount Summerville. East Hants: Upper Rawdon, East Unisacke, Rines Creek, New Dublin, Noel Road, Tenecape, South Noel Road, Five Mile River, Georgefield, Milford and Grand Lake. Colin W. Roscoe, Inspector of Schools.

CENTREVILLE

September 2nd.—The farmers are busy harvesting, the grain on an average light. Late potatoes going to be a good crop.

Mr. Fred Woodworth has in a threshing machine doing good work.

The day school is progressing finely, under the new teacher, a former resident of Centreville, Miss Prue Parker.

R. S. Thorpe and H. B. Bowles are in the apple trade and sent some away, receiving fair prices.

The month of August has been a busy one; a number of tourists visited here. Picnics, drives and parties being the order of the day and evening.

Miss Irene Eaton and Mrs. Hugh Manson entertained a number of guests recently. Games and music the order of the evening.

J. H. Williams and wife of Worcester, Mass., spent a few days at Scotts Bay and Centreville enjoying the cool breezes that blow through our lovely valley and enjoying seeing old friends.

Mrs. C. E. Lewis and Miss H. L. Gilman of Boston, Mass., were the guests of Mrs. Gertrude Eaton for a few weeks. Miss Gilman an American spoke very highly of the Valley and enjoyed her visit very well.

The Misses Marr of Windsor, are guests of Miss Irene Eaton.

The Club of Busy Workers are still busy and later will please the eyes by their fine display.

Mrs. Daisy Kinsman who has been in Centreville the past year, is now staying with her mother, Mrs. Harding Forsythe of Biltown.

Mrs. Hennessey of Wolfville, spent a few days with Mrs. Starr Griffin.

Mrs. Alice Whitney of Northville and Mrs. Geo. Alward of St. John, were visiting friends for a few days.

The boys are getting ready for regular drill at Aldershot. We need such to defend our country, we wish them a pleasant time.

Ami.

Among the notable engagements with Gorton's Minstrels this season are the Elliott Brothers, the "Fashion Plate Dancers," producing, without doubt, the most graceful and finished dancing act before the public. They are accomplished vocalists, and their act is most magnificently costumed, which produces an effect which meets with the heartiest approval from their audiences.

GRAND PRE

At the dyke meeting Saturday it was decided to turn on, Friday the 13th. The afterfed on School Lands sold at auction from 75 to 90 cents per acre. Feed was sized 3 acres for a cow, 4 acres for an ox and less for young cattle.

Chas. S. Hamilton has built one or two boats and a yacht in which he sailed from New Haven to Digby last week. He spent a few days in Wolfville and then took his son to Digby to cruise around a few days in the yacht.

Telephone men have passed through here staking out a new line of posts for a copper wire. It is difficult to locate posts near houses and other buildings, and the men were willing to oblige owners as far as possible.

The death of Dr. Miller, Canning, removed the oldest M. D. in Kings Co. F. B. Curry, a student at Mt. Allison, who has been supplying a pulpit in Yarmouth, preached in the Methodist church last Sunday evening.

W. H. Chase is buying Gravensteins, Emperors, etc., for shipment at $2.50 and $3 per barrel. These varieties will be picked next Monday.

Sept. 4th, 1901.
Miss Jennie Beardsley of St. John, spent Monday night in town returning to St. John on Tuesday. She was the guest of her cousin, Mrs. Hanson.
