THE LAW OF SUPPLY AND DEMAND UNDER CONTROL.

The Manchester Union says that in all this talk about maintaining wages and prices where they are "let us remember that water runs down hill. There is a somewhat forgotten law of supply and demand that is going to resume its functions one of these fine days." Quite true, water does run down hill according to the natural law. But most important streams are very much under control and are made to do the will of man while they run. It is so with the law of supply and demand. It no longer operates as a free river. It is dammed, diverted and otherwise controlled and made to contribute to the wealth and power of those fortunate enough to "own the works" on the "water front."

He is base who receives favors and renders none. In the order of nature we cannot render benefits to those from whom we receive them, or only seldom. But the benefit we receive must be rendered again, line for line, deed for deed, cent for cent, to somebody. Beware of too much good staying in your hand. Pay it away quickly in some sort.—Emerson.
