

THE ACADIAN

WOLFVILLE, N.S., March 4, 1887.

DECLARATION DAY.

Declaration day, Monday, passed off quietly at Kentville. At 10 o'clock Sheriff Belcher opened his court of declaration and declared Dr. F. W. Borden to be the successful candidate in the late Dominion election. The following is a summary of the votes:

Table with 2 columns: Candidate, Votes. Lists names like Sheffield Mills, Kentville, etc., with corresponding vote counts.

FOR THE ACADIAN.

In the afternoon a large number of the friends of both candidates assembled at the Court House and were addressed by Dr. Borden and Mr. Woodworth. Every thing passed off in a quiet, orderly manner and all appeared to be in the best of spirits.

AFTER THE BATTLE.

Now that the heat and dust of the great political battle has subsided and we are able to look back over the events of the past few weeks with deliberation, we cannot but regret that some things in connection with our elections could not be conducted in a different manner.

OUR PARTY PAPERS.

For unparliamentary and misleading statements on the part of party stand prominently to the front. Ever since the opening of the recent election campaign the country has been flooded with newspapers filled with political nonsense calculated to catch votes from the uneducated and easily convinced masses in political affairs.

OUR PARTY PAPERS.

It is interesting to note what little and apparently unimportant events have changed the whole character of some well-known persons. It is said that Voltaire when he was five years old learned an Italian poem, and he never was able to free himself from its effect.

OUR PARTY PAPERS.

This we see that human nature is not entirely rigid, but becomes susceptible to great changes by the influence of surroundings. So the life of a student and the feeling he entertains toward his contemporaries will depend largely upon the influences with which he has associated during college life.

RECIPROcity.

A bill has been introduced into the United States Congress by Congressman Butterworth which sets forth, that whenever and as soon as the Government of the Dominion of Canada shall by act of Parliament permit all articles of trade and commerce of whatever name or nature, whether the products of the soil or the waters of the United States, or manufactured articles, live stock of all kind and its products, minerals, or coal, the product of the said Dominion of Canada free of duty—then all articles manufactured in Canada and all products of the soil and waters and all minerals and coal, the products of Canada, shall be permitted to enter the ports of the United States free of duty, &c.

THE INFLUENCE OF SURROUNDINGS.

It is a common expression of many, that it takes all kinds of people to make a world, and certainly there are all kinds of people in this world. So diversified are the natures of men, that, after having been brought up and educated under circumstances quite similar, their minds tend to choose different vocations in life.

IMPROVED FARMING.

One cannot visit the farm of Messrs. E. & O. Chase, Church St., Cornwallis, without being impressed with some of the advantages of improved stock and improved methods in farming operations. During the past season these gentlemen have erected a new barn, which presents many features worthy of consideration and imitation.

REMINISCENCE.

Our country home! how many different thoughts flit through different brains, as these words are mentioned. Some are the memories of bygone days are recalled. As we turn backward the leaves of our own memory, we see an old brown school house, a rollicking crowd of schoolmates, a teacher of inexhaustible knowledge in our eyes, of our own abundance of knowledge—you know (confidentially) we knew more in those days than ever since—the juvenile carving on the desks, and wonderful drawings on its walls, a vivid remembrance of the fun-enjoying youngsters staying to have a merry time being punished by themselves and a chum, of the ultimate discovery, of the punishing punishment (but let the curtain drop on the sad scene).
