IRISH AFFAIRS.

The Public Mind Absorbed in the Budget and Parnell's Handwriting.

The Tribune's London despatch says: Hardly anybody finds time to consider the fisheries question. The budget and Mr. Parnell's handwriting absorb the mental energies of the British public. The surliness of the Times is due perhaps less to dislike of Lord Salisbury's new proposal than to resentment at American-Irish demonstrations. The Times's misquotation from Mr. Phelps's despatch was a very gross one. It accused the American minister of denouncing the seizure of a fishing vessel as a violation of the principles of natural justice and common law. Reference to Mr. Phelps's despatch proves that this language refers to the Canadian act which casts on the person accused the burden of proving his innocence. The Times' blunder was in an editorial. It corrected it in an obscure paragraph in small type.

A special London cable to the New York Star says Mr. William O'Brien, editor of the United Ireland, who together with Mr. Kilbride, one of Lord Lansdowne's evicted tenants was to leave on the steamship Aurania to-day en route to Canada with the avowed intention of fomenting an agitation against Lord Lansdowne, has decided to postpone his trip in consequence of a new offer being made by the latter to all his tenants on the Luggacurran estate. The offer is extended to all the tenants, including those who have been evicted. Mr. O'Brien has postponed his departure for a week pending negotiations on the basis of the new offer between Lord Lansdowne's agent and the tenants. Three evictions took place Saturday on the Luggacurran estates. The evictors met with no resistance. Before negotiations were opened Mr. O'Brien said the accusations made that he was going to Canada to stir up riots and bring about the assassination of Lord Lansdowne, were too groundless and absurd to be worth any answer. The murder of Lansdowne would be a good thing for Ireland's enemies, but not for Ireland. Lansdowne, says O'Brien, has taken advantage of his circumstances to use the utmost rigor in the eviction of his Irish tenants. His far off residence removes him from the effect of popular opinion, while his salary of £10,000 a year enables him to sacrifice the rents of his Irish estates in order to carry out his vindictive plans against his tenants. "I shall," said Mr. O'Brien, "speak in Montreal, Ottawa, Toronto, etc. I go as one intimately acquainted with the land struggle in Ireland to tell the Canadians the part which is being played by their governor general, and what outrageous cruelties are rendered possible by the salary paid him. I shall do everything in my power to stir up public opinion against him. I know false reports have been spread about me and the object of my journey, but I trust to the Canadians, when they shall have seen me, and heard me, to form their own opinion."

WIT AND HUMOR.

"What is the Interior of Africa principally used for?", asked a teacher of a pupil.

"For purposes of exploration," was the reply.

Head of the establishment: "David, you are a fool."

David: "Well, sir, I can't help it; when you engaged me you told me to imitate you, and I've done the best I could."

A negro, about dying, was told by his master that he must forgive a certain darkey against whom he seemed to entertain very bitter feelings.

"Yes, sah," he replied, "if I dies, forgib dat nigga; but if I get well, dat nigga must take care."

A blind man was sitting in company with some visitors, when one of the company suddenly left the room.

"What white teeth that lady has!" said the blind man.

"Why," said a friend, in great surprise, "how can you tell?"

"Because," answered the blind man, "for the last hour she has done nothing but laugh."

A little squint-eyed Chicago boy pranced up to his mother and said:—

"Ma, hain't I been real good since I've begun goin' to Sunday-school?"

"Yes, my lamb," answered the maternal, fondly.

"And you trust me now, don't you, ma?"

"Yes, darling."

"Then," spoke up the little innocent, "what makes you keep the cookies locked up in the pantry the same as ever?"

There is a time to laugh and a time to sing, and a time to be merry and a time to weep; but there is no time in this wide, wide world to button a brand-new, four-ply linen collar on a celluloid collar button without wishing that some one had invented a few words of heavy calibre to fill a long-felt want.—Puck.

"It's a boy!" young Mr. Happiday gleefully shouted, as he rushed in and planked a ten-dollar note on the bank counter; "the daisiest little feller you ever saw. Here, just put this on deposit in his name, will you? I'm going to add to it every year and call it the Fresh Heir Fund." It is apt to be that way with the first.—Boston Journal.

A lady was walking along Main street very rapidly. A gentleman was walking behind the lady at an equally rapid pace. The lady saw a pin on the sidewalk and stopped suddenly to pick it up. The gentleman failed to put down brakes and took a header over the lady. Neither party secured the pin.—Rockland Gazette.

The following is credited to Professor Webb, of Mississippi College. He was interviewed by a young man who wanted to go to school. "Well," said the president, "what do you know?" "Nothing," was the response. "Well, you are just four years ahead of some of the other pupils. It takes them four years to learn what you know to start with. Your prospects are fine, sir."

It is said of the Chicago girl that when she faints away she throws a third of herself upon the ground. The other two-thirds are already there.—Boston Budget.

FRANCE AND GERMANY.

Some Trouble that May Have a Very Serious Result.

PARIS, April 22.—M. Schnaebels, a special French commissary at the Pagny-Sur-Moselle depot, has been arrested by the Germans. He had received several letters from the German police commissioner at Ars, asking him to come to that place and confer with him regarding the frontier service. He finally agreed to do so. The Germans requested him to set up one of the posts which mark the frontier line. The commissary crossed the boundary and advanced a few yards on German soil, when he was seized by German police agents, who were disguised in gray blouses. He knocked the agents down and escaped into French territory but he was seized again, handcuffed and sent to Metz, where he was placed in the prison in which accused persons are confined before trial. The warrant for the arrest emanated from the public prosecutor of Metz, who acted under instructions from Strasburg. The French procurator at Nancy has gone to Pagny to inquire into the affair.

The arrest is regarded as a serious matter in official circles, Mr. Goblet, the Prime Minister, and M. Flourens, Foreign Minister, were in conference until midnight for the purpose of determining what action to take in the premises and met again this morning to further consider the subject. The government will not complain to Germany of the arrest of Schnaebels until full inquiries have been made into the case. The Intransigeant, of which Henri Rochefort is editor, is the only paper that is rabid in its comments on the affair. The other papers are moderate in reference to it.

Later despatches confirm the statement that M. Schnaebels was arrested on French territory. M. Flourens will await the result of minute inquiry on the spot before demanding reparation from Germany for the arrest.

The performance of Wagner's opera Lohengrin, which was to have taken place at the Eden Theatre in Paris tomorrow, has been postponed owing to the feeling aroused by the frontier occurrence.

The Paix says the government has demanded an explanation from Germany. The French newspapers generally regard the occurrence as a direct provocation on Germany's part, and exhort the people to be calm and not to play Prince Bismarck's game.

BERLIN, April 22.—The activity shown in military circles during the past few days, and the fact that large numbers of soldiers have travelled over the various railways en route to join their respective regiments, have given rise to fresh war rumors, and cause much uneasiness. It is semi-officially explained, however, that all this activity is due solely to the fact that the reserves have been called out for the usual spring drill.

LONDON, April 23.—The French government has ascertained that Schaebles was arrested on German soil. Reports of the German police are to the same effect.

BERLIN, April 24.—The commission at Metz in the investigation of the case of the French Commissary Schnaebels, reports that the arrest was undoubtedly made upon German soil. There are numerous charges of high treason against Schnaebels and the evidence against him is overwhelming.

The French government has sent to Berlin documents relating to Schnaebels affair, including Commissary Gautsch's two letters inviting Schnaebels to meet him.

The North German Gazette says that Schnaebels tried to escape back to French territory when seized by the German agents, but that he was overtaken before he could cross the frontier line.

The Montogsblatt declares that Schnaebels had six subordinate agents, who were acting as spies from Gen. Boulanger, French war minister. One of these agents, a man named Kulm, was dismissed by Schnaebels and subsequently entered the German service. He made a revelation which led to the arrest of the other agents and much evidence was collected thereby against Schnaebels, who was notified some weeks ago that a warrant had been issued for his arrest and would be executed if he crossed the frontier.

PARIS, April 25.—There has been found a letter from Commissary Gavtsch addressed to Schnaebles, written last Tuesday. It begins "My dear colleague," and says: "I have a communication to make to you which concerns neither the French nor the German governments, but to make it we must be alone, and if you think fit we can profit by a blown down frontier pole to talk there. Commissary Gavtsch, in his second letter to Schnaebles, offers excuses for his failure to meet Schnaebles and concludes as follows: "The communication is so interesting that I am anxious to make it to you without informing the German authorities of the fact. I beg you to come alone to the rendezvous." Schnaebles was visited in prison at Metz, yesterday, by his wife and son. They were allowed to converse through the bars in German for 25 minutes. They were stopped by the warden when they began to talk of the arrest. The authorities handed to the wife the articles found in Schnaebles' pockets. It is reported in some quarters that it was with the object of seeing his pocket book and other papers containing memoranda useful in Germany that the arrest of Schnaebles was ordered.

The Gladstones.

The second is the Vicar of Hawarden, Mr. Stephen Edward Gladstone, who was last year married to a Liverpool lady. The third Mr. Henry Neville Gladstone, is resident in Calcutta; and the fourth is Mr. Herbert Gladstone, born in 1854, M. P. for a division of Leeds, and distinguished in political life.
