JAP VICTORIES AT YALU

The Opinion of a Paris Paper on Possible Intervention by Great Britain.

Russian Telegram Says Operations on a Large Scale Will Not Begin Till September

THE JAPS HOLD THE CARDS.

LONDON, April 30.—The Paris correspondent of The Times says—The Times in a leading article entitled "The Russo-Japanese War and Anglo-Russian Relations" says: "There is no reason to believe that early intervention is either probable or possible on the part of England, and there are a hundred thousand reasons why it should never take place, but there is no ground for rejecting the idea that in the more or less distant future the settlement of certain questions partially affecting Asia may pave the way to a better and more durable understanding between the greatest naval power and the greatest continental power in the world. The appointment of a new Ambassador is a propitious moment for the inauguration of new relations. If it be the instrument of the entire fresh understanding by the tone of the English press, and the frame of an understanding which it is not imprudent to anticipate, the future peace of the world can only gain thereby."

St. Petersburg, April 30.—The Japanese troops are still concentrating in the neighborhood of the Yalu river, but nothing of particular moment has thus far been reported. The Emperor received a telegram from General Kurapatkin under today's date, as follows: "General Sasauchi reports that on the nights of April 29 and 30 small bodies of Japanese were moving on the right bank of the Yalu, at the mouth of which steamers are arriving. On April 28, at about two in the afternoon, Japanese columns were seen going from Yongampo towards Wiju, and a force of Japanese scouts were seen on a mountain to the southwest of Sinsai. The Japanese have not yet undertaken any active operations."

Foreigners Refused. St. Petersburg, April 30.—An official announcement is gazetted today explaining that the emperor, regarding all applications of foreigners for permission to serve as volunteers in the east, because he considers that the lives and strength of the individual being above all to his native country.

WAR MEDALS

For Second Canadian Mounted Rifles Will Soon Be Issued.

MONTREAL, April 30.—The Star publishes the following cable today from London: "The war office intimates that the Queen's South African war medals for Scottish Horse and Second Canadian Mounted Rifles will shortly be ready for use."

BRITISH ADMIRAL

Gives His Opinion on Big Battleships and the Turbine Engine.

NEW YORK, April 30.—Admiral Sir Cyprien Bridge, G. C. B., of the British navy, who before his retirement on March 11th was commander-in-chief on the China station, regards turbine engines, if found practicable for large ships, one of the greatest says the Sun. She lost the stick in a hurricane off Madagascar last winter and sailed the remaining thousand miles of her voyage under her fore-mizen and jigger masts. In the China Sea she picked up two Malays and a Chinaman who had been for 12 days in an open boat, after the foundering of their own vessel, a native coaster. The shipwrecked men were transferred to a steamer bound for Singapore.

CURZON GOES HOME.

BOMBAY, April 30.—Lord Curzon of Kedleston, Viceroy of India, sailed for home today on board the steamer Arabia. He was given a great send-off. The city was decorated and large crowds gathered in the sea front to bid him farewell. The Viceroy appeared to be in excellent health.

KRUGER'S HEALTH.

MONTREAL, France, April 29.—While it is difficult to ascertain the exact state of the health of Mr. Kruger, former president of the Transvaal, it is reported on good authority that symptoms of cerebral affection are apparent and that a consultation of physicians has been held. Mr. Kruger is now extremely weak and constant care is necessary.

VISITING AMERICA.

NEW YORK, April 30.—Among the passengers who arrived today on board the steamer Lucania from Liverpool and Queenstown were Sir Jas. Bell Bert, owner of the cup challenge, which was defeated by the Volunteer, and Rev. Donald McLaren.

Miss M. Gould, who has been visiting Mrs. E. J. Payson for some time, returned to Chatham yesterday.

Great Fight on the Yalu.

KAUFMAN, Tel. Manchuria, April 30.—The first battle of the war is persistently reported to have occurred on the Yalu river. Sixteen thousand Japanese crossed the stream Thursday and attacked thirty thousand Russians who were strongly fortified. It is rumored this morning that the Japanese were repulsed and that the battle continued. The Japanese sharpshooters killed many Russian officers whose uniforms were conspicuous.

WASHINGTON, April 30.—Reports have reached the state department, the source of which the officials do not care to divulge, to the effect that a great battle has been fought on the Yalu river, resulting in a complete Japanese victory. Details are unobtainable.

LONDON, April 30.—The officials of the Japanese legation expected news of the fighting on the Yalu river early next week. There information, despite Russian statements to the contrary, leads them to believe that General Kurapatkin will vigorously oppose the Japanese advance in Manchuria in its earliest stages.

Not Till September.

A telegram from Mukden says that, paradoxical as it may appear, it is necessary to accustom oneself to the idea that military operations on a large scale cannot begin before September, that is, of course, unless the Japanese invade Manchurian territory, which hereafter will be a very risky proceeding. At headquarters the foreign officers are said to contemplate an immense flood of Slavs, which flows by slowly but incessantly like a river tide. This movement is accomplished with the greatest celerity, there is nothing to equal the sangfroid of the Russian in the east. He is stated that the wounds inflicted by the Japanese bullets in the first skirmish have had a relatively favorable course. Thus an officer of Canada wounded by a bullet which passed through the umbilical region was able to take a ride of a hundred kilometers a week later.

ALL ON BOARD LOST

Schooner Strikes on a Ledge Near Halifax.

Heavy Seas and the Darkness of Midnight

Crew Launched a Boat but It Was Found Against Rocks.

HALIFAX, N. S., April 30.—The schooner Onond, twenty one days out from Porto Rico, bound to Halifax, was wrecked off Dunce's Cove, 16 miles from this city, last night, and all on board were lost. The wind was light but a heavy sea was rolling when she struck the reef. It is thought the sea must have carried the vessel further toward the shore than the officers thought as the reef she struck is very close. The night was intensely dark, otherwise those on board might have saved themselves. When the steamer Whitely reached the wrecked vessel today, she was standing on the ledge with the deck out of the water, but a little later she lurched and her after deck sunk. Not a soul was visible. It was impossible to board her. A ship's boat was seen slapping about the belges and two bodies were washed ashore. It is surmised that the crew finding the vessel filling with water launched the boat, but the heavy sea smashed it against the rocks and all perished. The crew consisted of Captain John Atkinson, New Brunswick; H. Lang, mate, Germany; John S. Bowen, cook, Nova Scotia; Archibald Baird, Newfoundland; John Laing, Ritchie, N. B.; and H. H. Hayward, of Portland, Longley and Co., Halifax, were the owners.

REPORTED BY POLICE.

Police Officers Biddart and King have reported John H. Reid for allowing his horse to run at large around the public streets.
