

THE FOLLY OF PRIDE.—I takesome quiet, sober moment of life, and add together the two ideas of pride and man; I behold him a creature of a span high, stalking through infinite space in all the grandeur of littleness. Perched on a speck of the universe, every wind of heaven strikes into his blood the coldness of death; his soul floats from from his body like melody from the string; day and night as dust on the wheel, he is rolled along the heavens, through a labyrinth of worlds, and all the creations of God are flaming above and beneath. Is this a creature to make for himself a crown of glory, to deny his own flesh to mock at his fellow, sprung from that dust to which both will soon return? Does the proud man not err? Does he not suffer? Does he not die? When he reasons, is he not stopped by difficulties? When he acts, is he never tempted by pleasure? When he lives, is he free from pain? When he dies, can he escape the common grave? Pride is not the heritage of man; humility should dwell with frailty, and atone for ignorance, error and imperfection.—Rev. Sydney Smith.

WAITING FOR THE NEWS.—A Sunderland shipowner, the other day having sent a new ship to London without naming her, was asked the reason for his doing so. "Oh!" said he, "I'm waiting for the next licking the Rooshians get, and then I'll call the ship after the victory."

Two men, named Oakey and Oragher, have been arrested at Southampton, for having committed a fraud in the following ingenious manner:—They induced a Mr. Emanuel, a pawnbroker, to receive in pledge casks represented to contain polish of considerable value, but what has since turned out to be a worthless article.

The London Daily News says that the majority of the French cabinet think Russia will accept the terms proposed. The majority of the English ministry think not.

The English government is said to have demanded explanations from the Court of Vienna as to the intention of Austria in reducing the army. The Army Board is selling no fewer than seventy thousand horses.

POWER OF STEAM UNDER GREAT PRESSURE.—It has been remarked by very able chemists that gunpowder is one thousand times denser than the atmosphere. If, therefore, one thousand cubic inches of atmosphere were compressed into one inch, the one inch will be of the same strength as one cubic inch of gunpowder. Steam possesses about one-half the gravity (or weight) of the atmosphere; therefore, if 1,728 inches of steam; which can be generated from one single cubic inch of water, were compressed into one inch, it would become nearly twice the strength of one cubic inch of gunpowder. This fact will illustrate the great expansive force of steam. From these data approximately, according to the size, contents, and area of the boiler, its explosive power may be estimated; therefore we need not be surprised that those results ensue, wherein tons weight of material are driven to great distances by the explosions of steam boilers.

SOVEREIGNS.—Nearly half a million of sovereigns are struck off weekly, at the eight coining presses of the mint.

A ROSE IN THE WINDOW.—Put a rose in the window. if you are in grief, the care and the pleasure of attending to its dials wants will lead your thoughts from your dark ness into the light as gentleness and beauty. If you are happy, it will be greater joy to watch the unfolding blossoms; if innocence attend your footsteps, you will hold sweet communion with the emblem of innocence.

SUICIDE BY THE EMPEROR NICHOLAS.—At an inquiry, held before Mr. Wakley, into the circumstances attending the death of a person who had suffered from the affection of the pulmonary organs, the disease to which the late Emperor of Russia's death was attributed, the coroner, in remarking upon the case, observed: "In the case of the Emperor Nicholas, his death was put down to paralysis of the lungs and bronchitis, which, according to the symptoms described, was known by us medical men to be impossible, and to have been stated only to deceive the public mind. The official document describing the Emperor's death stated that, at the last, he took leave of his family with a firm voice, a proceeding physically impossible, if he was suffering from the disease stated in the certificate of death. The belief, therefore, on the minds of the medical men in this country was, that the Emperor was poisoned; and that in my own opinion—not at the same time, that he was poisoned by these about him, but that he committed suicide."
