An avalanche has destroyed the workmen's shelter in the Pongu District of Salsburg killing twenty-seven persons. Fifteen bodies have been recovered.

A deliberate attempt to burn the Trinity Hotel was made on Sunday night by the discovery of fire in three distinct places in the building.

In New York on Saturday, the train service was still badly tied up. Trains were few and far between, running generally from five to six hours behind schedule.

A blizzard which raged with tempestuous fury around Montreal all day Saturday produced a general demoralization in the railway service east to Montreal, but the region north of Lake Superior escaped.

Rod McKenzie, Yardmaster of the Nova Scotia Steel Company at Sydney Mines was instantly killed by being crushed between cars while coupling cars. He was forty years of age and leaves a wife and eight children.

New Yorkers got their first glimpse of a portion of the "Round the World Battleship Fleet" when the battleships Rhode Island and New Jersey steamed into port and anchored at Tompkinsville, N.Y., where they will stow powder shot and shell.

Important developments are understood to be under way between the G. I. and the Government, involving the loan to the G. I. P. of $10,000,000, to help tide over financial difficulties. The Government will bring down legislation authorizing the loan at an early date, the company giving security for the loan.

Ottawa advises say that Mr. Borden, Leader of the Opposition will introduce into the Commons a resolution providing for the adoption of the British method of having the estimates submitted to select standing committees of the House, for examination before being dealt with by the House. This system, he believes, would facilitate passing the estimates and would prevent great waste of time in the Commons.

Arosha and Sheppell on Saturday, were sentenced at Andover N. B. to hang May four for the murder of Edward Green. The scene in court was intensely dramatic. Sheppell remained silent, but Arosha in broken English pathetically maintained innocence protesting "I no kill anybody I go die like good little boy, everybody pray for me." All in the courtroom wept.

A seven year-old girl of Dan Dunn, Caledonia Mines C. B. was burned so badly Sunday that death ensued about two hours after the accident. The mother had left the children alone, but only intended being away a few moments. The little one attempted to remove the blow from the fire and her clothes caught, and she lay in flames which burned all the flesh from her body.

Two men for whom the police of Buffalo are searching the City best into insensibility William J. Lowe, of Saskatchewan and a diamond ring. They failed to find in his pockets letters of credit for $10,000 on the British Bank of North America. Lowe was found in an unconscious condition on Delaware Ave., by a patrolman. He was hurried to the nearest Police Station. His injuries are not serious.

The house of John McNeill, at Florence, near Sydney N. S. caught fire, and two children, a boy and a girl, aged two and three years, lost their lives. The father was at work in the pit and the mother went out for a few minutes. When she returned she found the house on fire and filled with smoke. The children were found in a corner suffocated and partially burned. The fire originated in a lounge. The house was gutted.

President Taft on Thursday last took the oath of office in the Senate Chamber Washington, the stormy weather compelling a change in the arrangements. The Capital was crowded and mighty cheering greeted the completion of the oath. The inaugural parade route was shortened but otherwise the day was a gala one. In his address President Taft declared for lower tariff, for protection of combinations lawfully carried on and for noninterference with court injunctions. President Roosevelt expressed pleasure at being relieved of the onerous duties of the Presidency.

The special Lenten sermon on Sunday evening in the Cathedral was preached by Rev. Dr. McEllan. His theme was religion and society, and his text was from Ecclesiastes XLIII. 34. He pointed out that our powers; what ever we possess, are from God, and therefore we should return to God as far as possible a homage of recompense. Our habits are infused or acquired. We should worship God with all our strength, and with all the powers of our soul, and then we cannot go far enough. Prayer and sacrifice were means by which to manifest our religious worship. This religious worship should be universal; no one is exempt from it.

It is said in particularly well informed London quarters that the Prime Minister, Mr. Asquith, intends as soon as possible to visit the principal centres in Ireland. Such a proceeding would be almost without parallel and its political significance at the present time cannot be overestimated. It may however, be assumed that Mr. Asquith will be reconciled beforehand to a more advanced policy of home rule than his whig colleagues in the Cabinet have seen their way to support hitherto. In other words the Irish vote, both inside and outside the House, has yet to be gained and even though the spectacle of a Premier making a grand tour through Ireland may be strange, its party usefulness will hardly be denied in the present circumstances.

As will be seen by advertisement in this issue, great preparations are making for the celebration of St. Patrick's Day, Wednesday next under the auspices of the Benevolent Irish Society. The celebration this year bids fair to eclipse any similar celebration of the day in this city. The morning religious celebration, the parade and the evening entertainment in the Opera House make up a program that cannot fail to attract, to edify and to entertain.
