AMATEUR BILLIARD CHAMPIONSHIP.

Flynn and Skinner the Victors.

The billiard games, to decide the Amateur Championship of Newfoundland, competed for night at the Star rooms, is proving very popular, and an even greater audience was present last night than on previous occasions. The first game was played between Flynn and Johnson and resulted in a very easy victory for the former by a margin of 176 points. Flynn put up an excellent exhibition. His breaks of 34, 37, and 42 showed that he has lost none of his old time form and he is to be reckoned with as a likely winner in the series. Johnson appeared to be in difficulties all through the game and lacked the confidence which materially helped him in his win over Edwards. The breaks were:

G. Flynn—400—10, 24, 23, 37, 10, 20, 12, 22, 42, 11—221.

E. J. Johnson—224—12, 17, 23, 19—75.

Time of game—1 hr. 45 min.

Scores at Intervals.

Flynn—67, 120, 134, 311, 400.

Johnson—38, 63, 137, 178, 224.

The game between Rabbits and Skinner proved to be the most exciting and the best played match since the tournament began. The result, though somewhat of a surprise to many, ended in a victory for Skinner by 47 points. The exhibition throughout was clean and hard-fought. A feature was an excellent run of breaks by both players. The breaks were:

W. B. Skinner—400—16, 10, 11, 13, 17, 29, 18, 15, 15, 10, 23, 11, 11, 10, 13, 10, 11—243.

G. Rabbits—333—11, 11, 21, 17, 13, 11, 10, 13, 23, 15, 13, 17, 22—197.

Time of game—1 hr. 50 min.

THE PASSING HOUR

"What would you say," began a visible prophet of woe, "if I were to tell you that in a very short space of time all the rivers of this country would dry up?" "I would say," replied his patient friend, "go thou and do likewise."

EQUALLY INNOCENT.

A story is told of a Missouri lawyer who used an unusual expedient to get a client out of trouble. This client was charged with stealing a hog. When the man came to the lawyer's office to engage counsel the lawyer took him into his private office.

"Now if I take your case you will have to be perfectly honest with me," the lawyer explained. "Now tell me, did you steal this hog or not?"

"Well, yes, sir, I did," the man admitted. "But I have a big family and no money and I sure was in need of meat!"

"That's all right," the lawyer assured him. "You bring the half of that hog and I'll take your case."

Then when the case was being tried the lawyer obtained a verdict of not guilty by saying to the jury:

"Gentlemen of the jury, this man did not get any more of that hog than I did!"

At a local concert a young lady began a song, "The autumn days have come; ten thousand leaves are falling." But she began too high. "Ten thousand," she screamed, and stopped. "Start her at five thousand," cried an auctioneer present.

The Majestic Fine Show

"NEGLECTED WIVES" A PHOTO-PLAY OF MERIT.

The large audience at the Majestic Theatre last night was delighted with the splendid programme. Mr. Cameron Geddes' songs were enthusiastically applauded and encored. "The Floral Dance" is a very pretty old time Cornish ballad which provided ample opportunity for the vocalist to display his unusual musical capabilities. "For You Alone" is also a very pleasing selection which proved very attractive to his listeners. Last, but not least, "Daddy's Wonderful Pal" evoked continuous applause. This song has been but a short while published and already it is the popular hit in the big music halls in Canada and the United States and like many others will find its way into the hearts of all the English speaking countries. Mr. Geddes sings "Daddy's Wonderful Pal" in fine style and his three renditions provided a musical treat which those who had the good fortune to hear will not soon forget. "Neglected Wives" is all that the title implies, a splendid photoplay, a strong emotional feature that impressed the audience. "Beating the Cheaters" is one of those farcical two reelers which will make you forget your trouble and everything else. To-day the same bill is repeated. To-morrow afternoon there will be a series of comedies that will make the children laugh without a let-up. The community singing will also be a feature and Mr. Geddes will lead the way and help them to sing a number of popular choruses, the words of which will appear on the screen.

The Royal Tournament

THE SERVICE'S GREAT LONDON SHOW.

The Royal Tournament in London this year will be of special interest to Overseas visitors. It will be opened at Olympia on May 22nd and will close on June 7th.

In addition to the Pageant showing the history of the Royal Navy in all the stages of its association with the development of our Commonwealth of Nations, there will be several units giving displays whose service overseas is memorable. The 131st Hussars give two rides. Before these Regiments were amalgamated they had put in some historic service together. Their association in Natal will be remembered as the 15th were defenders of Ladysmith while the 13th—Baden-Powell's old Regiment—were with the relieving force. The first regiment numbered the 15th is now the 17th Lancers, distinguished in India, South Africa and America, and whose badge is a commemoration of Wolfe at Quebec.

The Royal Horse Artillery Musical Drive will be given once again and "Q" Battery, well known in India and at the Cape, will be responsible for it.

The Brigade of Guards is to give a drill display without word of command. The Royal Air Force carry out an attack on very realistic lines. Seamen and Marines have contributed a gun display.

The Skill-at-Arms competitions have drawn entries from all over the world. Last year there was no chance of obtaining seats once the Tournament

A large number of spectators tried their luck from the position of the balls last played. Mr. Charles Ryan was the best for the night making a score of eighteen. "Bill" Cooney's break of 25 still remains unbeaten.

To-Night's Games.

The games for to-night will no doubt be witnessed by a record attendance. Newbury and Moakler will try conclusions at 7.30, followed by Ryan and Rabbits at 9 o'clock.

A REMINDER.

A meeting of the Amateur Athletic Association will be held in Columbus Building at 8.15 this evening, when matters pertaining to the forthcoming Boxing Tournament will be discussed. A large attendance of members is requested.

Exciting Photoplay at the Crescent

SENSATIONAL FIGHTS BETWEEN MEN IN FLAY OF THE WEST.

The man who remarked that there wasn't a good fight left on the American screen had better take a look at "Shadows of Conscience" when it makes its appearance in town at the Crescent Theatre to-night. There is one scene in this stirring melodrama that will restore anyone's faith in the power of real acting when directed toward making a hand-to-hand fight between two super-men seem realistic that the temptation to any spectator is to forget that it is drama and get right into the scrap himself.

This occurs when Jim Logan (Russell Simpson) meets Wade Curry (Russell Stevens) in his sister's cabin and learns how she (Barbara Tennant) has been tricked by Wade into a false marriage. Then for the first time in his crooked career, Wade feels the fist of a man whom he can't bluff. Realizing that he has been matched for the first time, he resorts to the method typical of the bully. He pulls a gun. But before he hits Logan, the unexpected occurs—a supremely dramatic moment which startles because of its suddenness and tenacity and which paves the way for the rest of a very exciting story. If for no other reason than the inclusion of this one tremendous scene of combat, "Shadows of Conscience" should not be missed.
