

Appendicitis

How to Avoid It and Escape a Surgical Operation, Told By One Who Knows

A Simple Method That is Always Efficacious. Trial Package Free

It has only been a few years since it was discovered that a surgical operation would cure appendicitis...

The older doctors used to call this inflammation of the bowels, and were puzzled to know the cause.

Every now, with all the knowledge we have of the disease, no medical man can tell you why we should have an appendix, why we find it where it is, or what are its functions, if it has any.

The disease for which the operation is a cure is usually caused by indigestion, and in many cases follows a large and indigestible meal.

Physicians have until recently recommended an operation, but now, as it is known that it is caused by indigestion, or dyspepsia, a cure without an operation is assured.

Where the patient is treated with Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, the stomach conditions prevailing rapidly disappear, the stomach and intestines are placed back in their normal condition, every organ of the body operates as it should, and the inflammation is reduced and the operation is avoided.

Conservative physicians, who are looking after the best interests of their patients, will always keep a supply of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets handy in their office, where in cases of sudden attacks of indigestion they can relieve the patient at once.

There is no record of a case of appendicitis where the stomach and bowels were in a healthy condition and properly digested the food from meal to meal.

No better advice can be given to any one who has attacks of indigestion, or who has been threatened with appendicitis, than to tell him to go to the drug store, pay 50 cents, and take home a package of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Whenever heartburn, gas in stomach or bowels, heart disease or stomach troubles, sour eructations, acidity or fermentation are present, act at once. Take a dose of the Tablets and get relief as soon as possible.

At all druggists—50 cents. Send us your name and address today and we will at once send you by mail a sample package free. Address F. A. Stuart Co., 150 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

NO SYMPATHY IN CAUSE OF WOMAN SUFFRAGE

Andrew Carnegie Has no Great Enthusiasm Over Woman's Rights.

Pittsburg, Pa., April 5.—Neither Mr. nor Mrs. Andrew Carnegie have much sympathy for the cause of woman's suffrage. "Pick for your wife the girl who takes care of her mother, the girl who is useful in the household and does not make the most show in the ballroom," counselled the latter of the young men at the Technical school.

The steel master also gave the boys the epigrammatic counsel, "Woman raises man to the highest standard, my mother and wife made me all I am, all depends on the proper kind of man and woman. The ambition to become a millionaire is to be of service to your fellowman is the grandest ideal. Honest parentage is the most valuable heritage. Don't let money be your god. I don't expect to fly until natural wings sprout from my shoulders. It is good to develop the body as the mind."

Society Event in Macleod Macleod, April 5.—The event of the season in society circles was the At Home given by Mrs. A. F. Grady, in honor of her daughter. The function took place on Monday, March 28, at their home, from 4 to 6 p.m. Mrs. Grady, dressed in pink and white, looked a charming hostess. Miss Jessie Grady in white, received with her mother, and the throng of callers filled the spacious parlors and were made to feel at home. The tables were rich in white and red carnations, dazzling cut glass and fine china. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. Struthers, Mrs. A. Young, Mrs. J. McDonald, Mrs. S. Heap. The young ladies in waiting were Miss Nina Miller, Miss Harrison, Miss Dobbin, Miss Sanderson, while Misses Margaret McNeill and Miss Constance Heap did the honors at the door. Music suitable for the occasion was provided to the delight of the guests.

Hotel accommodation is at a premium. Every available space is taken. Rooms in all parts of the town have been leased, and every night finds many without a bed.

Had Weak Kidneys For Two Years.

Doctor Failed to Help. Doan's Kidney Pills Cured Him.

Mr. Edmund Assels, New Carlisle, Que., writes: "I feel it my duty to let you know of the great cure I have obtained by using Doan's Kidney Pills. I was troubled with my kidneys for two years. I tried a doctor, but he failed to help me. I read in the B.B.B. Almanac about Doan's Kidney Pills, and began using them. After the first box began to feel better. I only used four boxes and they completely cured me. I am very thankful to have found so speedy a cure, and would advise everyone suffering from kidney disease to try them."

Perhaps no other organ works harder than the kidneys to preserve the general health of the body and most people are unable to see what kind of kidney complaint, but do not suspect it. It may have been in the system for some time. There may have been backache, swelling of the feet and ankles, a burning sensation of the urinary organs, such as brick dust in the urine, highly colored, scanty or cloudy urines, itching, burning or suppressed urination, burning when urinating, etc.

Do not neglect any of these symptoms, for if neglected they will eventually lead to Bright's Disease, Dropsy and Diabetes. Price 50 cents per box, 3 boxes for $1.25, at all dealers of The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto.

In ordering specify "Doan's."

PERU IS HOSTILE AGAINST NEIGHBOR

The Government Has Decided to Demand Immediate and Full Satisfaction From Ecuador

Lima, April 5.—An imposing demonstration by 5,000 persons excited by events at Guayaquil, took place last night. After removing the arms of the Ecuadorian consulate the crowd proceeded to the principal square in front of the palace and called for the president to speak. President Leguia came out on the balcony and addressed the assemblage. He recommended that the people retire in orderly manner, and hoped that the spontaneous demonstration of patriotism would be converted into a reality in case of necessity.

The cabinet council has decided to demand immediate and full satisfaction from Ecuador for the insults against the Peruvian legation at Quito and Reconquista and Quayaquil and the attacks made upon Peruvians in Ecuador, and their property.

In case of a negative reply from the Ecuadorian government, it is proposed to send troops against that country, and a squadron to block the river Guayas, on which Guayaquil is situated. The government has called up the army and within a month can muster 40,000 men.

REPUBLICANS ASK FOR LOWER TARIFF

The Indiana Members of The Party Entirely Ignore The Payne-Aldrich Tariff Law

Indianapolis, Ind., April 5.—The Indiana Republican convention today adopted a platform that ignores the Payne-Aldrich tariff law, and declares for only a protective tariff that covers the difference between the cost of production here and abroad. The convention met to name a full state ticket except for governor and lieutenant governor. The following nominations were made by acclamation, there being but one candidate for each office.

Secretary of state, Ellis Gully of Danville; auditor of state, John F. Reed, of Muncie; clerk of supreme court, Edward V. Fitzpatrick, of Portland; judge of supreme court, second district, Oscar H. Monticomey of Seymour; appellate judges, Ward H. Watson, Charlestown and C. C. Hamley, Danville.

WOMEN WHO WILL HELP IN WAR TIME

New Scheme of Training for British Red Cross Society

London, April 5.—Patriotic women who desire to serve their country in an active way have the same impulse that leads men to join the territorial forces. But it is more difficult for women to find suitable organizations for the outlet of their energies, as the authorities realized when they instituted the Voluntary Aid detachments last year, which would be mobilized in time of war. As these will not technically exist except in war time, women are joining a number of corps for training so that they may learn the work and be practically efficient when the occasion shall arise.

One of these, the women's sick and wounded convoy corps, which meets weekly for instruction at the London Scottish drill hall in Buckingham-gate, has already some 50 members who are eager to learn their duties under as nearly as possible actual conditions. This corps is authorized to provide voluntary aid detachments numbering about two dozen trained women for the British Red Cross society, for the purpose of serving the sick and wounded in national emergencies at home and abroad.

The members all drill side by side and are instructed in the mysteries of stretcher-bearing by a sergeant of the R. A. M. C. The rules are few and simple. There is an entrance fee of ten shillings and an annual subscription of 2s for privates and 2s for officers. The uniform is a dark green tunic and skirt, and a helmet of similar color. The skirt is so constructed that it may be divided if necessary. The woman who joins the corps with no previous experience first goes through a course of first-aid and home nursing, and at the same time attends lectures in physiology and anatomy.

Practical Training But she is not trained to be a nurse and nothing more. To be of active use in time of emergency a woman must know more than the mere handling of bandages. She must necessarily be able to supplement by her own efforts the work of the ambulance men.

So the woman who joins the sick and wounded convoy corps is taught stretcher drill. Six women are told off to form a stretcher squad and instructed how to lift a wounded man on to the stretcher in the proper way and convey him to the ambulance wagon without unnecessary discomfort to the patient.

In order that the members of the corps shall have practical experience in attending the injured, it is arranged that they shall from time to time take up positions in the accident wards of the great London hospitals, where they will serve an apprenticeship that will augment their theoretical instruction. They will become inured to the sight of suffering so that should they ever be needed in war they can enter at once upon their duties without having to serve any probation.

Besides the ordinary duties of a hospital nurse, the corps is instructed in flag signaling. With each detachment are a woman telegrapher, dispenser, and carpenter, so that they may be prepared for any emergency.

All the members are also taught to ride, side saddle and astride. Riding serves two purposes. It is necessary first of all, because circumstances might always arise in war time when it would be of the greatest service, and in the second place because riding encourages pluck and independence, steadiness of judgment, and quick decision, all qualities of immense service and necessity in times of emergency to women, as well as men.

In a few months' time the work of the corps in the drill hall and hospital will be supplemented by outdoor operations, during which war conditions will be reproduced as far as is possible. It is proposed that detachments of the corps shall go down into the country and there carry out under supervision, all the various duties which might conceivably arise in case of war, including even the work of bearer parties and field hospitals, to which in warfare women's activities are generally confined.

The supposition is that an engagement has taken place and there are wounded men to be attended in villages and country folk will be sent

Work of the Corps As their base the convoy corps propose to take the buildings at some remote railway station and the women will be shown how to convert them speedily into a temporary hospital. Packing cases will be transformed into waiting rooms and operating tables and washing room couches into hospital beds. Farm carts will be utilized as ambulance wagons, and the women are to be taught to make the transformation by fitting up the interior suitably, providing a tilt, and hoisting the Red Cross. In every way possible things are to be done on as practical a scale as possible. Theory, if necessary, will be discarded, and the women shown how to make the best use of the meagre materials at their command. Stretcher squads will be sent out to bring in the "wounded." They will put "wounded" legs and arms in temporary splints, bandage "wounds," and apply restoratives to the "unconscious." Then with their patients properly hoisted, upon the stretchers they will make their way back to the ambulance wagon, lift their charges in, and the wagon will drive off to the base hospital (otherwise the converted railway station). It will be seen that the members of the corps are earnest in their desire to make themselves efficient in all branches of nursing in warfare, so that should the emergency arise they will not prove to be the circumstances to the operating force that pessimists think they would.

ANADIAN REFERS TO SENATE IN IMPERIAL HOUSE OF COMMONS Donald McMaster Says The Lords Should be Strengthened. London, April 5.—In course of the debate on the veto resolution in Commons yesterday, Donald McMaster, former Montreal barrister, and now Unionist member for Chertsey, argued that the proposals of the government amounted to something more than delimiting the powers of the lords. If the lords were deprived of their power to refer any question to the people, one of the greatest safeguards of the people's rights, would be destroyed. They should endeavor to improve the second chamber, said Mr. McMaster, not destroy it. Mr. McMaster also showed that the Canadian senate had co-extensive power with the Commons except in origination of financial measures. Earl Gray in London. THE CABLE COMMUNICATION SHOULD BE MUCH CHEAPER. Such is The Opinion of The Under Secretary of The Colonies. London, April 5.—Sir Charles Lucas, assistant under secretary for the colonies, publishes a white paper on the result of his recent visit to Australia. He says the importance of cheap communications profoundly impressed him and need therefore is still pressing. The lack of detailed cable information of what is occurring in Great Britain results in a perpetual half knowledge which he anticipates may some time prove dangerous. Price of Consumers Gas Stock.
