LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

LONDON Wednesday, April 26. Loss of the DEERFOOT .- Captain Mc-Oulloch, of the steamer Fideliter, informs us that the sloop Deerfoot, formerly the property of the notorious highwayman Dulligan, alias Brockie Jack, which left two or three weeks ago on a trading voyage to the North, has been wrecked and her crew supposed to be killed or drowned. She was first discovered on the rocks at Entrance Island, near Nanaimo Harbor. On proceeding to the spot it was found that her hatches were open and the vessel stripped of everything. No signs of the crew were observed, and the indications warranted the surmise that she had been plundered and her crew (unknown) killed. The sloop was got off with but slight damage and taken into Nanaimo. She had sea-weed clinging to her, and is there-fore supposed to have been some time

FROM NANAIMO-The steamer Fideliter, Cart. McCulloch, arrived yesterday from Nanaimo with 20 passengers and a cargo of soal and produce. The Aquila had 1150 tons of soal in her hold. The John Jay was discharging ballast. The surveying steamer Beaver and the steamer Emily Harris were on the ways.

Monday, May I. SUDDEN DEATH-A man named Moses Alway, a Caribooite, died suddenly on Saturday night in a small tenement adjoining the St. Nicholas Saloon. Deceased, who had been drinking heavily for some days, passed through the saloon about nine o'clock at night and asked for some one connected with the establishment, but not finding him went on to his room. An acquaintance who entered about half an heur after found him lying on the bed, and beard the death-rattle in his throat, but imagining he was snoring did not disturb him, and cautioned another persons the came is not to make a poise, as a sleep who came in not to make a noise, as a would do him good. A short time afterwards, ered that the unfortunate man was cold and stiff. A doctor was at once sent for, but it was found that life had fied. An inquest will be held to-day at 10 a.m. by Goroner

HILL DIGGINGS AT LEECH KIVER .-- W were shown on Saturday, by Mr. Richardson, formerly of Colwood Farm, about $10 worth of beautiful coarse gold, which he had taken last week from his claim on the hill-side, in the immediate vicinity of Leech River. One but the evidence was not strong enough to ef the nuggets was worth $2 50, and was convince the jury of his guilt. Miss Quinton of the nuggets was worth $2.50, and was mixed with quartz. The precise locality is at mixed with quartz. The precise locality is at present known to only a few, but Mr. Richardson is fully convinced that extensive and valuable diggings exist. He intends to commence working his claim as soon as accordingly separated. She was placed in present known to only a few, but Mr. diate steps to have her made a ward of chancery, and applied for an injunction to separate her from her bridegroom. They were accordingly separated. She was placed in possible. A number of other claims had also been taken up in the same locality. There is every probability that we are on the eve of a gold excitement in this colony.

LERCHO RIVER - We learn from a person who arrived yesterday from Leech River, that the river is now higher than it has been all through the winter, and has put a tempos rary stop to all operations in the bed of the stream, though many continue to work in the banks. A requisition, signed by over 70 miners and storekeepers, will be presented to Governor Kennedy to-day in favor of the appointment of Thomas Harris, Esq., as Gold Commissioner. The number of men at present at the mines does not exceed 250, though every day now witnesses fresh arrivals.

FACETIOUS-On the stem of an oak tree leading to the public Park is a notice board bearing the name of the Acting Surveyor General very properly warning all parties against the pains and penalties of wilful damage to the public property. Some wag has recently been amusing himself by supending two defunct "purps" from the board in question to which the names of two officials were attached. It is fortunate for the individual that he was not detected in the act for he could have expected but little leniency from the two gentlemen whom he intended to hold up to ridicule and into whose hands he would have fallen.

ALARMING !- Maggins was coming from Beacen Hill yesterday with a friend, when he observed a couple of dead dogs hanging from a tree. Muggius passed, gazed intently at the suspended snimation, and at last exclaimed :

"Fearful shipwreck!"
"Shipwreck! Where?" said Smith.
"Two barks lost for ever!" alghed Mag-Smith growled, and doggedly assisted hi

THE WEATHER—The refreshing showers dispensed by old Pluvius during the past week, and the genial sunshine that has succeeded, is causing all the vegetable kingdom to burst its hibernal bonds and to clothe itself in gay vernal garments. Beacon Hill and other places of resort in the suburbs were yesterday throaged with people. The various groups disporting themselves on the green sward and the carriages and equestrians exercising on the race course, gave the park quite an animated and picturesque appearance.

THE WRECKED SLOOP DEERFOOT We earn that this little vessel was at Nanaimo about two weeks ago bound it was supposed for Stekin and the North West Coast with considerable stock for the Indian trade. The names of the men who left with her were Murphy, Kean, and Ben Spain. Messrs, Bolton & Clark picked up the wreck and brought the sloop into Nanaimo.

NANAIMO LITERARY INSTITUTE-In reply to a Nanaimo correspondent we have to state that we are in possession of no further infornation on the matter alluded to than has already been published. A letter from Governor Seymour on the subject was published in the Columbian about the same date.

BOAT RACE FOR £100 .- In chronicling another scullers' race in this early part of the season, we have great pleasure in again introducing Tom King, the ex-champion of the prize ring, to our readers, and it will be seen that within a fortnight he has won two races of £100 each. His opponent yesterday was Frederick M'Mahon, attendant at the row, and the race was from Putney to Hamand with whom he once rowed a dead heat for £50. He is 24 years of age, and weighs than from 12 to 18 menths.

ADMITTED TO PRACTICE.—Hen. Geo. E. Walkem, of British Columbia, was yestered day admitted to practice as a barrister in the aw courts of Vancouver Island.

ADMITTED TO PRACTICE.—Hen. Geo. E. Willes 24 years of age, and weighs about ten stone, while King, four years his senior, weighed yesterday 13 st. 4lb. The Citizen P, Captain Turner, accompanied the view was obtained from beginning to end. Mr. J. Ireland was referred, Mr. Willcox um-Mr. J. Ireland was referee, Mr. Willox umpire for King, and George Kippen for M'Mahon, who won the station. Betting was three and four to one on King, which increased as half a gale from the N. E. sprang up, making chances strongly in tavor of the heavier man. After a little dodging, M'Mahon dashed away with a strong lead, and cleared himself well at the Star and Garter. Here, herever King had settled to his work, and however, King had settled to his work, and, gradually coming up, they were level at the London boat-house. A good race ensued to the point, but on rounding, the wind broke out in all its force, the labor was very severe, and King's weight told. He went gradually away, and though M Mahon rowed a game stern wager, the ex-champion won by six lengths, in about 13 minutes, on a bad tide. Neither appeared distressed.—Eng. Paper.

> An IRISH MARRIAGE .- Our readers may ecollect that great interest was excited about a year ago by the marriage, under very mysterious circumstances, of Miss Quinton, a young Protestant heiress, most respectably connected to a man named Peterson, the son of an innhesper at Huniskillen, and a Roman Catholic. They were married in a dark lebby of Peterson's house by some Roman Catholic clergyman, who was as intangible as Pepper's ghost; and the young lady was immediately afterwards baptised by the parish priest, against whom a prosecution was instituted for having celebrated the marriage, charge of some relatives in Dublin, and he went to Liverpool where he is lat present employed in a solicitor's office. The flight of time, in bringing round her 21st birthday, has released Miss Quinton from her legal thraidom and in the Rolls Court, last week, she applied by counsel to be discharged from the wardship, and permitted to marry Mr. Peterson, who had, by letter, expressed a de-Peterson, who had, by letter, expressed a desire that her property should be settled upon herself. It was originally £800 in the funds, but the various legal expenses have reduced it nearly one half. Her uncle yielded a reluctant consent, and the Master of the Rolls observed that, as a marriage de facto, though not de jure, had taken place, the lady's moral character could not be impeached, directed a settlement to be drawn up giving her the legal control of her fortune, with remainder to her children, but with power to bequeath it her children, but with power to bequeath it to her husband should she die without issue.

ANCIENT MINES .- The Atlantic Monthly, for March, refers its readers to the well known fact that the old mines have been opened in the copper district of Lake Superior, over which trees five hundred years old ad grown. When the debris was cleared away, the cavities were found full of grooved and handled stone hammers, and in one instance a leather bag for carrying ore, which has been identified as part of a walrus skin. These ancient mines are very extensive, showing that many thousands of tons of copshowing that many thousands of tons of copper must have been taken out and carried away—whither is all conjecture, and by whom quite as much a mystery. The only thing that appears to be well established in the premises is, that the miners were not of the present race of American Indians, but of some more civilised people, who preceded the Indians, and migrated to the South—perhaps the mound builders of the Mississipperson the mound builders of the mound builde perhaps the mound builders of the Mississippi and Ohio, or the pyramid builders of Mexa pi and Ohio, or the pyramid builders of Mexico. The copper mines of Superior were probably worked at the time Solomon sent his ships to California for gold, and raked the coasts of South America for apes and peacocks. The gigantic fossilized "What is it?" recently unearthed in Nevada, was then a calf feeding on the tender grease wood of Mount Davidson. There is nothing like being able to account for things.

COMING WEST .- The Hon. Schuyler Colfax, speaker of the House of Congress, will it is stated, visit California and Oregon this summer, should the overland journey be considered safe from Indian depredations.

SUPREME COURT. BEFORE CHIEF JUSTICE CAMERON AND

Hoffman vs. Drummend.—The plaintiff in this case, Abraham Hoffman, sued the desfendant, James Drummond, for $2,000 for goods alleged to have been sold and delivered to the defendant's wife from March '64 to September, the period of her departure from the colony. A special jury was empannelled with Mr.

Fardon as foreman.

Mr. McCreight, instructed by Mr. Drake, appeared for the plaintiff, and Mr. Cary, instructed by Mr. Green, for the defence.

The defendant paid into Court a sum of $46 37 ½, and as to the residue of the sum claimed pleaded "never indebted."

The evidence adduced in the case went to The evidence adduced in the case went to show that the defendant's wife, now absent from the colony, had been in the habit of purchasing freely at the plaintiff's store, and defendant had in consequence requested the plaintiff to give her no further credit. In September, Mr. Drummond casually entered the plaintiff's dry goods store about 9 o'clock at night, and was surprised to find his wife there, apparently engaged in purchasing there, apparently engaged in purchasing goods. Plaintiff stated that the parcels were goods. Plaintiff stated that the parcels were selected for the defendant's servant, who had just been married. Defendant and his wife proceeded to their home, accompanied by the plaintiff with the parcels, and on entering the premises Plaintiff handed a parcel to the servant girl saying that they were her goods. Defendant's suspicions were aroused, and he subsequently found the parcels hidden away. On proceeding to plaintiff's store a bill amounting to $1300 or $1400 was handed to him. He searched for but could not find the goods charged for which plaintiff pro-mised to take back if not rendered unmerchantable. They were taken by a drayman from another house to the steamer.

Mrs. Moses who was in the service of the defendant deposed to certain facts which led to the conclusion that Mrs. Drummond had secretly purchased and converted a quantity of goods to take away with her and which she surreptitiously removed from the house. Something like a collusive understanding was stated by the witness to have existed between plaintiff and defendant's wife, and she further alluded to matters of a scandalous nature not necessary for publication.

After hearing Mr. Cary for the defence and a lengthy reply from Mr. McOreight, the Judge charged the jury in favor of the defendant, and the jury after retiring for a few minutes returned a verdict for the defendant.

HOFFMAN V. DRUMMOND.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE BRITISH COLONIST Sir,-In your report of the trial of Hoffman vs. Drummond you omit the main feature in the case, which was that Mesers. Hefman refused to deliver the goods ordered by Mrs. Drummond without a written authority from her husband. The order was immediately given, and admitted by Mr. Drummond at the trial. The order was in very general terms, to the effect that Messis. Hoffman were to supply whatever Mrs. Drummond re-

We, as the Attorneys for Messrs. Hoffman, think it necessary to draw your attention to this omission, as the verdict does not affect them, but the creditors, on whose behalf the suit was presecuted.

a map of Athens county, Ohio, which exhibits the working of oil wells in that region, some sixty or seventy of which are referred to as belonging to different companies. We were also permitted to copy the following from a letter received from our fellow citizen Thomas Carter, written in St. Louis on the 20th of February, which shows in part the state of excitement and speculations in coal oil. Mr. Carter writes : "It is remarkable to see what an excitement is now raging in the State in relation to the new oil discoveries. Capitalists from New York, Chicago, Boston, Philadelphia, and from Liverpool, England, are investing extensively in the oil interests. A company of these monied men paid for one farm, upon which a good oil well was found, $3,500, which, after the company had sunk five more wells upon it, sold for 500,000. Another farm was purchased $6,000, which was afterwards sold for $15,-000. One well sold for $50,000. James Carter was offered for his farm $150,000, or for the oil under it $100,000. Geo. Carter was offered $60,000 for three hundred acres of oil land. Their farms are in Athens county, Ohio. The excitement on the Pacific in relation to new gold fields, is no comparison to that created by the recent discovery and speculation in eil. It has been found extensively in six counties in Ohio, and doubtless extends all over the great coal region, one hundred miles along the Ohio river, spreading into Virginia and Pennsylvania. The oil is being shipped to Europe in large quantities, bringing in an enormous revenue to the country."—Am. paper.

THE "JENNY JONES."-The captain of this little steamer, after eluding the vigilance of the myrmidons of the law on both sides of the Straits, has succeeded somewhat cleverly in placing himself and his property altogether beyond the pale of authority of either Government, and is now probably on the high seas steaming away for the coast of Mexico. The Jenny Jones, after coaling at Newcastle Island and Fort Rupert, would pass round the north end of the island. She was seen last week by the Otter in Johnson Straits bound north.

In Jail .- Dan Copland, who was arrested for shooting and wounding a Chinaman on board the steamer Hope, has been lodged in the New Westminster jail, and will be taken up to Yale for trial at the Circuit Court. Wright has been released.

A LARGE INCOME -The income returns o Mr. Alexander T. Stewart, the well-known princely Irish merchant in New York, for the last year was $5,000,000, upon which he paid taxes amounting to $250,000.
