We mention this subject now because there seems to be a prospect of the various matters arising out of the peculiar conditions existing on the coast being taken up for adjustment between the two governments. As parliament had complete control in church affairs, all their work had to receive its approval. The members of the assembly were the extremists of Calvinism and Puritanism, and the standards which they framed were a compromise, and take up the middle ground between the extremes, where truth, in all controverted points, is always found. For clearness, strength and logical connection, there are no ecclestical slways found. For clearness, strength and logical connection, there are no ecclestical documents equal to those prepared in the Westminster Deanery, and this, one might expect it, being the work of one hundred and fifty-six men for nine years, many of whom were distinguished theologians and celebrated mathematicians, and had also to pass through the firey ordeal of both houses of parliament before it was approved.

After the death of Cromwell and the restoration of the despotic and semi-Popish Stuarts these standards were abolished from England and Ireland, but the historic Church of Scotland refused to retrograde to the time of Laud, and adhered to the Standards, to which to-day Scotland owes more than to anything else.

steamer "Amur," or by some other suitable vessel, leaving Victoria about the 15th February.

At Wrangel it is proposed to transfer to the Stickeen River and continue the jour ney on the ice via Stickeen River and the villages of Gienora and Telegraph Creek, thence by snow road to Teslin Lake.

At Teslin Lake boats and scows will be built to convey the party and their outfits: to Dawson City as soon as the Hootalingua opens; that is, the expedition will follow the ice down that fine navigable stream, thereby avoiding the dangerous White Horse rapids, and arrive at Dawson City at the earliest possible date thereafter in the spring.

The plan of the Corporation is to provide shelter and good substantial food for the parties accompanying the Expedition from the day they leave Victoria until they reach the destination. While waiting at Teslin Lake for the ice to break up they will have the opportunity of prospecting the very promising ground in that vicinity. The price of theticket covers transportation, food, shelter and the free carriage of 400 pounds baggage.

Early in January an advance party with horses will be sent up the Stickeen River to build shelters with stoves for cooking and warmth and establish supply depots.

After the Coast Range on the Stickeen River has been passed the expedition will go through a country where the snowfall is generally light and along the greater portion of which a white population has been living for some years.

The Corporation will establish trading posts at Teslin Lake, Dawson City and other Yukon points and will furnish supplies to purchasers at reasonable prices.

The price of a ticket covering the accommodations above mentioned is $500, one-half of which must be paid into the Bank of Montreal at Victoria at the time of signing the contract for transportation, the balance to be paid before the sailing of the steamer from Victoria.
