ANGLICAN SYNOD

"Ne Temere" Decree and Book of Common Prayer are Discussed-New Ecclesiastical Provinces

Vernon-Monday, October 23.

LONDON, Ont., Sept. 13 .- The "ne temere decree" occupied the attention of the Anglican synod yesterday. Hon. S. H. Blake, who moved the original notion to have the matter referred to a committee of the two houses, had it

Canon Kittson of Ottawa said that he had great respect for the Roman Catholie church and people, for he had been rought up in a Roman Catuolic environment, had been baptised by a Roman Catholic and in later years he had married a Protestant. According to he attitude of the Roman Catholic hurch, this marriage could be annulled nd his children declared illegitimate. Lawrence Baldwin of Toronto was the member supporting the decree and address met with strong dissent.

e synod yesterday passed a recomdation of the committee on the doption of the book of Common Prayer. By so doing the first step was taken in remodeling the prayer book to meet the views of the Canadian church and the equirements of the Canadian associations, something that one wing of the church has been agitating for in many synods for years. The recommendation was not passed without bitter opposition, however. The evening session was devoted to the business end of the new prayer book and finally it was adopted that the Cambridge Press would have copies of the new amended prayer book ready for the next general synod The synod has separated the dioceses in Ontario from the ecclesiastical province of Canada and formed them into eccelsiastical province It also conented to the construction of an ecclesastical province of British Columbia Each province will have as a presiding officer a metropolitan with the title of archbishop.

Alleged Horse Thief. WINNIPEG, Man., Sept. 13-Sam Gondrey, who is said to have been wanted for years by the Montana authorities on charges of horse-stealing, was arrested by the Northwest mounted police near Calgary last night, after a desperate fight. Gondrey is alleged to have been the terror of stockmen on both sides of the border for a long time.

Lumbermen Organizing

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 13.—First steps oward the closer linking of the lumber nterests of Oregan and Washington were aken tonight at a private dinner, where ienry J. Pierce, of Spokane, presented his proposal for the merger into one company of the lumber mills of the two states, to expresentatives of western Oregon sawmill companies. Neither Mr. Pierce nor any chose present would discuss the mpanies. Neither Mr. Flerce not any ners of those present would discuss the finite results of the conference, which upon that of the western shington lumbermen at Aberdeen last according to particulars which reached Victoria yesterday, and a feature of the disaster was the action of the foreigners among the crew, who rushed the boats. The vessel put in at Port Elizabeth in leaking condition and after undergoing repairs set sall for Cape Town. On August 23, when 50 miles south of Fish Point, an explosion occurred followed by fire. Seventeen of the crew, all foreigners, took posses sion of the port lifeboat and left the ship while the remainder got out the starboard boat under great difficulties and after getting onto it, stood by till daylight. The flames shot up to a great height and the masts broke off close to the decks. The flames were observed by the British steamer Clan Maclaren, which came to the rescue and picked up the crew, taking them into Mossell Bay The Lyndhurst burned to the water's edge and as she was a danger to navigation, H.
