TWENTY-SEVEN BURNED

Fire Breaks Out and the Inmates Find Themselves Without Means of Escape-Five Sisters and Twenty-Two Pupils

BELLEVILLE, Ill., Jan. 5 .- St. Joseph' Roman catholic convent was burned to the ground about midnight. Five nuns jumped from a fifth story window. One, Mary Campbell, is dead and others are likely to die. The loss is from $100,000 to $125,000. There were sixty pupils, all girls, from 10 years to an adult age. After the fire started an attempt was made by the sisters to extinguish it. Failing, efforts were made to remove the pupils. The flames spread so rapidly that no order could be preserved. A panic seized both the child-ren and the sisters, who made a wild con-fused rush to escape. Forty or more pupils are known to have got out, but several in their fright jumped from the windows and were either killed or badly injured. Miss Mary Campbell, teacher, leaped from the third storey and died in a few minutes. Another elimbed to the roof of the portieo and either fell or was blown off and fatally injured. Among the others injured by ground about midnight. Five nuns jumped and either fell or was blown off and fatally injured. Among the others injured by jumping are Daisy Eberman of Belleville, III., Agnes Schneider, Lou Mott, East St. Louis; Fanny Ranker, Washington, Mo.; Sister Reparat, Sister Stylita, Sister Manussa, and fifteen to twenty smaller pupils. The fire department was of little avail against the flames and in an hour the entire building was a mass of ruins. It is reportd the fire started from a furnace in the basement. The flames spread upward, cutting off most of the exits. xits.

When the ruins were sufficiently cooled a volunteer corps went to work to bring out the bodies. At times, the searchers found two or three charred masses huddled close together, seemingly seeking protec-tion in one another from the advancing flames. Two bodies were found in the rear part of the building burnt into an un-recognizable mass, but the major-ity were found beneath where the dormitory was situated. The to-tal known deaths are twenty-seven, twenty-two of whom were pupils and five sisters. Among the latter were Sister Su-perior Mary Jerome. THE BOND STREET PULPIT BOTHWELL ELECTION CASE. Final Decision Postponed until Saturday Next at Osgcode Hall. CHATHAM, Jan. 6.-Proceedings in the Bothwell election case terminated to-night with some points remaining for final de cision. All Saturday was spent in investigating the 36 charges of corrupt practices referred against Mr. Mills. The charges, iowever, fell flat one and all, and they only served to show how very discreetly and properly the election had been carried on. The recount of the ballots on Thurs-day gave Mr. Mills a majority of nine, but whether some of the ballots which go to make up that majority are proper ones to be counted in yet remains open for final whether some of the ballots which go to make up that majority are proper ones to be contacd in yet remains open for final decision. For instance in No. 1 division Sombra, 45 ballots were cast for Mr. Haw-kins and 69 for Mr. Mills. It is claimed, however, that these ballots cannot be counted because they were uninitialed by the returning officer. If they are decided to be improper ballots and the whole of them consequently left out of the compu-tation there will be a majority for Haw-kins; or it may be decided that the irreg-ularity was such as would cause the hold-ing of a new election. There also remains for decision a question concerning some other ballots against which irregu-larities are set up as a bar to their being received. Judge Galt has reserved de-cision till Saturday next. The case in-volves some new points in the election law and presents some fine points for argument. Another branch of the case involves the returning officer, Mr. Stephens. It is con-tended he is liable for the costs on account of his being the canse of these proceedings

The utterances of the doctor a week ago Sunday evening on the question of the attig tude of the trades-unions towards immi grants, deluged him with a host of letters, some joining with him in his position, others denouncing him roundly. Instead of replying to them last evening he announced the subject of "Trades-unions and Immigration" for next Sunday evening.

The text was taken from the 20th verse of the 2d chapter of acts: "The sun shall be turned into darkness and the moon into blood before that great and notable day of the Lord come." This "notable day" means a period of
