Riderless cavalry horses, at many a battle, have been seen to come together and go through their customary evolutions at the sound of the bugle-call. Most trained domestic animals, dogs and oxen and omnibus and car horses, seem to be machines almost pure and simple, undoubtingly, unhesitatingly doing from minute to minute the duties tally doing from minute to minute the duties tally doing from minute to minute the duties tally assked to be readmitted after being once set free. In a railroad accident to a traveling n engerie in the United States some time in 1884, a tiger, whose care had oroken open, is and to 'have emerged, but presently crept back again, as if too much bewildered by his new responsibilities, so that he was without difficulty secured.

back again, as if too much bewildered by his new responsibilities, so that he was without difficulty secured.

Habit is thus the enormous fly-wheel of society, its most precious comervative agent. It alone is what keeps us all within the bounds of ordinance, and saves the children of fortune from envious uprisings of the poor. It alone prevents the ha dest and most repulsive walks of life from being deserted by those brought up to tread therein. It keeps the fisherman and deck-hand at sea through the winter; it holds the miner in his darkness, and mails the countryman to his log-caoin and his lonely farm through all the months of show; it protects us from invasion by the natives of the desert and the frozen zone. It doons us all to fight out the battle of life unon the lines of our nurture or our early cho ce, and to make the best f a pursuit that disagrees, because there is no other for which we are fitted, and it is too late to begin again. It keeps different social strata from mixing. Already at the age of 25 you see the professional mannerism settling down on the young commercial traveler, on the young doctor, on the young minister on the young doctor, on the young minister on the young commercial traveler, on the young doctor, on the young minister on the young commercial traveler, on the young doctor, on the young minister on the young commercial traveler, on the young doctor, on the young minister on the young commercial traveler, on the young doctor, on the young minister on the young commercial traveler, on the young doctor, on the young minister on the young commercial traveler, on the young commercial traveler, on the young commercial traveler, on the young doctor, on the young minister on the young commercial traveler, on the young commercial traveler, on the young commercial traveler, on the young doctor, on the young minister on the young commercial traveler, on the young doctor, on the young doctor, on the young doctor, on the young doctor, on the young commercial traveler.

Chicano Has Reached Her Zenith.

From the Chicago Daily News.

For fifty years Chicago has been skimming the cream of prosperity arising from the natural advantages of her position. Her phenomenal growth in population, her supremacy as a grain market, as a lumber. depot, as the stock yard and slaughter house of the world, have all come to her without prevision and with hardly an effort of her own. The, she has done something in railroad building, but for every unile projected and built by Chiesgo capital hundreds of unles have been built for her on account of her location.

miles have been built for her on account of her location.

Has the time arrived when the maximum of her growth is passed—when she must softle down into the "innocuous desuetude" of Cincinnati and St. Louis?

Phil Armour says Yes. "To be frank," he ways, "I think we will never do as much business as in the past. We have reached our penith and are on the other side." And what the pook king says about his business is true also of our grain business. Since the census year the average yearly receipts of flour show a loss of 5 per cent., with a corresponding decrease of shipments; of wheat the receipts last year were nearly 20 per cent. less than in 1885, and for six y-arrs there has been an average yearly loss in shipments; in corn the loss is still greater—a yearly average of 18 per cent. less shipments.

Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup stands at the head of the list for all diseases of the throat and lungs. It acts like magic in breaking up a cold. A cough is soon subdued, sightness of the chest is relieved even the worst case of consumption is relieved, while in recent cases it may be said never to fail. It is medicine prepared from the active principles or virtues of several medicinal herbs, and can be depended up on for all pulmonary complaints.
