Girls as They Were.

Backward, turn backward, O Time in your flight, and give us a maiden dressed proper and right. We are so weary of switches and rats, Billie Burke clusters and peach basket hats. Wads of jute hair in a horrible pile, stacked on their heads to the height of a mile. Something is wrong with the maidens, we fear. Give us the girls as they used to appear. Give us the girls we once knew of yore, whose curls didn't come from a hair-dressing store. Maidens who dressed with a sensible view. And just as Dame Nature intended them to. Give us a girl with a figure her own and fashioned divinely by Nature alone. Feminine style's getting fiercer each year—oh, give us the girls as they used to appear.

PAIN IS A PUNISHMENT.—Pain is a protest of nature against neglect of the bodily health, against carelessness regarding the physical condition. It steals its abode in a man and it is sometimes difficult to eject it. Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil will drive it out in short order. Pain cannot stay where it is used, but immediately flees away.

CHOP STUFF.

The curfew rings at 9 p.m. in Wyoming, and all children under 14 must get off the street.

Stanley Nicholls accountant at Traders Bank, Strathroy, was presented with a travelling bag by the Methodist Sunday School.

Give Holloway's Corn Cure a trial. It removed ten corns from one pair of feet without any pain. What it has done once it will do again.

Miss Georgie Smith, of Glencoe, had the unusual experience of killing a blowing adder one day recently. The reptile measured about three feet in length.

The death occurred suddenly from heart failure on Friday, Sept. 1st, of John Warner, of Moss. Deceased was engaged with two other men laying a cement floor in one of the out-buildings on the farm of John Gould, Strathburn, when he fell and life expired almost immediately.

The death of E. A. Jones, a life-long resident of Wyoming, occurred at his home on Thursday last. Deceased was in his 85th year and death was due to decline. He is survived by his widow, three sons, Leonard, of Wyoming; Willard, of Regina, Mich.; and one daughter, Mrs. John Dixon, of Arkona.

A CURE FOR RHEUMATISM.—The intrusion of uric acid into the blood vessels is a fruitful cause of rheumatic pains. This irregularity is owing to a deranged and unhealthy condition of the liver. Anyone subject to this painful affection will find a remedy in Parmelee's Vegetable Pills. Their action upon the kidneys is pronounced and beneficial, and by restoring healthy action, they correct impurities in the blood.

Mrs. George Reid, wife of a prosperous farmer, was found by her son, Asher, dead in bed at their home in Maidstone township, Sunday afternoon. The head and face were terribly smashed, the body lay in a pool of blood, and an axe was nearby. The husband is missing and detectives are working on the case. Reid, it is stated, had been drinking heavy recently.

William Chase, an aged resident of St. Clair, sat down on the Rapid railway track to remove some cinders from his shoe. While he was sitting there, a car came along and struck him, the infirmities of age preventing him getting out of the way in time. His right leg was broken in two places, and several ribs fractured, and on account of his age, 80 years, his recovery is considered doubtful.

A DARING WAGER.

The Liberty Major Vaksel Took With the Eccentric Czar, Paul I.

Paul I., the eccentric Czar of Russia, assassinated in 1801, was very particular as to his dress and considered trifling matters as of supreme importance. This peculiarity was once taken advantage of by an officer of the guards, Major Vaksel, to win a wager. The major, the joker of the army, had bet several hundred rubles that he would tweak the tail of the emperor's wig on parade.

The next day, the story runs, the emperor happened to be present at early parade and, as chance would have it, took position for a moment immediately in front of the daring major. Breathless with excitement and terror, Vaksel's companions beheld that rash officer's right hand steal slowly from his side, rise to the level of the Czar's neck and give the wig's hanging tail a most decided tweak.

In an instant the emperor's face, pale with fury, was turned upon Vaksel's countenance, which, however, reflected only an expression of child-like innocence, mingled with the most deferential astonishment.

"Who dared do that?" demanded the enraged Czar, his eyes flashing evidence that his most dangerous mood was upon him.

"I did, your majesty," said Vaksel, who, however his heart may have fluttered, managed to preserve outwardly unruffled calm, together with an expression of innocent surprise. "It was crooked, your majesty," he added in a confidential undertone, "and I straightened it for fear the younger officers should see it."

Paul's countenance cleared at once. He stared fixedly, however at Vaksel's innocent-looking face for some seconds. Vaksel admitted afterward that this was the trying moment, but he had said to himself, "If I waver I am lost!" Then the Czar spoke, and spoke so that all might hear: "I thank you, colonel!"

If ever a step in rank was gained by purest effrontery it was so acquired on this occasion, and Vaksel left the field not only promoted to a coveted position in the guards, but richer by many hundred rubles as the result of the wager.

Doctors Condemn Oily Liniments

The Public are Warned to Be Careful of These Strong-Smelling Oily Liniments Containing Harmful Acids, Ammonia, Etc.

Many people have clung to the old-fashioned idea that a thick, greasy liniment is the best kind. Doctors say not—and they know.

Recently a number of these white, oily liniments were analyzed, and they were found to contain an enormously high percentage of harmful acids, and such irritating chemicals as ammonia, etc. For the moment they may cause a warm sensation when first applied, but their continued use never cures rheumatism, and only deteriorates the skin, sets up inflammation and causes endless trouble.

When a doctor warns you to quit using a white, oily liniment—do so. He knows that a thick liniment can't penetrate, can't sink through the pores and reach the seat of the pain.

When asked his opinion a few days ago, Dr. Roberts stated that he considered a strong, penetrating, pain-subduing liniment such as "Nerviline," to be superior to any of the white, ammonia liniments. In his twenty-five years of practice he had witnessed cases of rheumatism, sciatica, and lumbago that simply would not respond to ordinary treatment—but Nerviline cured them. The same physician also spoke of the great advantages of keeping a preparation like Nerviline in the house always, because of cramps, diarrhoea, stomach disorders, earache, toothache, headache, and such minor ailments. Nerviline is a first-class cure. There is scarcely an ache or a pain internal or external, that Nerviline won't cure. In thousands of homes no other pain-relieving medicine is used. Fifty years' continued success and the endorsement of the profession are proof that Nerviline is the liniment for the home.
