shock to our belief in the honor and integrity of mankind. It also tends to make people less inclined to give to this and similar objects, for fear their money will not be appropriated to the object of the donor's bounty. A treasurer is careless and his auditor is negligent, and after a period of fourteen results of the control of the c negligent, and after a period of fourteen years a deficit of about eight thousand dollars is discovered. This is all there is wrong with the treasurer's accounts, but will it not prove discouraging to those who have toiled and saved for years and then spared a few dollars to this worthy cause, to now find that the vestry of the church, on September 15th. dollars to this worthy cause, to now find that their gift has been diverted from its proper cause and squandered? "Bought wit is the best if you don't pay too dear for it," but it would shost arroar that this has been as would almost appear that this has been a very expensive piece of experience. It has already produced one good result, however, and that is that the new treasurer is put under sufficient bonds. So was the stable door locked after the farmen's hound had a few tons of Pure Beest.—I have on hand a few tons of Pure Beest.—I have on hand a few tons of Pure Boest.—I hav under sufficient bonds. So was the stable door looked after the farmer's horse had been stolen. It was a most unfortunate thing that any religious body should suffer the loss of any of its fundation.

Oblituary.

C. T. FORRESTER CRAIG.

This community was painfully startled on Thursday last when the announcement was made that C. T. Forrester Craig, eldest son of W. A. Craig, manager of the Bridgetown Foundry Company, had succumbed to an attack of fever of only some ten days' duration; and following, as it did, so closely upon the death of the eldest daughter, which was recorded a short time ago,—in tensified the universal feeling of deep regret prevailing. "Forrie" Craig, as he was generally called, had but reached the age of nineteen years, and there are but few of any young men in this town more esteemed and respected. For some two or three years past his services have been invaluable in the business his father represents, and of late the large warrerom in connection with the enterprise had been almost exclusively under his control. Possessing a genial, generous and warm-hearted nature, he had made himself a great favorite among the young people with whom he associated, and the religious influences and example of his parents had been so impressed upon his mind in yout that his daily walks in life were well worthy of example.

The funeral took place from the residence on Saturday morning last, the Rev. F. M. Young, pastor of the Baptist church, officiaring, assisted by Fev. R. S. Whidden and Rev. J. R. Hart and the last tribute of respect was evidenced by the attendance of many citizens and relatives from Kings county.

Appropriate and beautiful floral offerings were laid upon the handsome casket by the many friends of the family and the associates of the above goods can also don'th. of the deceased, and as the last sad rites were observed at the grave, it was unmistakably evinced that the loss was not only a very heavy one to the immediate relatives, but that it was keenly felt by the community in general. To the bereaved parents, on whom the hand of affliction has lain heavily within the past lew months, the MONITOR tenders its sincere sympathy.

The death of Dr. J. A. Coleman occurred at his residence, Granville Ferry, on Saturday evening at six o'clock, and notwith standing the fact that it had been daily expected for several weeks past, it nevertheles cast a deep gloom over the town in which he had practised his profession for the last seventeen years, and was otherwise received with deep regret by his many acquaintances throughout this and the adjoining counties.

Almost this and the adjoining counties.

Almost a year ago Dr. Coleman proceeded to Halifax to obtain the advice of experts as to his declining health, and at their suggestion he went to Boston shortly afterward, accompanied by Dr. Sponagle, of Middleton, where an operation was performed which for the time being afforded temporary relief and did much toward prolonging his life; but for the past few days a decided change for the worse was apparent to his attending physician, Dr. Smith—who had assumed his practice during his illness,—and on Saturday he succumbed to cancer of the stomach. Dr. Coleman was born at Lakeville, Kings Co., in 1840, and was a son of the late John R. Coleman. In 1868 he graduated at Harville and in a mitteresting and already the leaves are turning brown and falling off as if it were October.

—Rev. Ralph Trotter, one of the most brilliant and eloquent speakers on the Pacific Coast, will speak in the audience room of the Baptist church this evening. His subject will be added to the audience are turning brown and falling off as if twere October.

—Mr. Harry Sancton and assistants are Coleman was born at Lakeville, Kings Co, in 1840, and was a son of the late John R. Coleman. In 1868 he graduated at Harvard Univerity, and returned to the provinces, in different parts of which he practised his profession, finally settling at Granville Ferry, where he remained till the time of his demise. Some ten years ago he was united in marriage to Annie, daughter of the late William Webster, of Kentville, and a sister of Barclay and Dr. Henry Webster, now residing in that town, who still survives him, as does also one little daughter. Dr. Coleman was looked upon by the profession to which he belonged as a very successful practitioner, and the large and lucrative practice he enjoyed bore evidence that his services were in demand among the sick and afflicted. He was a prominent Oddfellow and was also a member of the Masonic fraternity. The remains were taken to Waterville on Monday's express train, from which station the funeral took place.

Hymenes!

Avery pleasing and interesting social event took place last Thursday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Young, of this town, in the marriage of their daughter, Mary A. Young, to Mr. Jesse S. Perry, of Beaver River, Yarmouth county. The ceremony was performed by Rev. F. M. Young, pastor of the Baptist church. The company was composed mostly of relatives of the families, among whom were Mrs. Mand Perry, sister-in-law of the groom, and Mrs. E. Fitz Randolph, great-aunt of the bride. The bride was prettily attired in a dress of white spouted mull, with trimmings of duchesse lace and white satin, with an elegant brocaded sash and gloves and elippers to match, the slippers being the same her grandmother wore upon a similar occasion seventy years ago. She also carried an elegant brocaded of white flowers, presented by Miss Johnston, of Weymouth. The room was very tastefully decorated with ferns and golden rod. All together the scene was an exceedingly pretty one and the ceremony interesting. The presents were many and costly, showing that the bride was a great favorite amongst her friends. After a tastily prepared luncheon the happy couple left on the "Bluenose" for Yarmouth and Beaver River, where they will spend a short time before returning to Boston, in which city they will reside. The MonNroe extends congratulations and best wishes.

WON THE MAYOR'S MEDAL.—The bicycle races at Lunenburg on Wednesday last attracted a large number of wheelmen, and the contests were witnessed by upwards of a thousand spectators. The half-mile race was won by Mr. Ralph Smith, of Windsor, in 1.22, with Nass, of Lunenburg second. The most interest, however, was centered in the two mile lap race, in which the following entered: Archibald, of Halifax, Conrad, of Lunenburg, and Messrs. Smith and Bancrott of Windsor. The competition was for a gold medal, offered by Mayor Wolfe, and was won by Mr. Bancroft; time 5.37 3-5; Smith second. Bancroft, who is the manager of the largest cycle repair establishment in the province, and who has probably placed more than a hundred and fifty wheels along the line of railway this season, was in town on Saturday, and his many friends were heartily congratulating him upon the recent victory. Nass won the three and five mile races breaking the record in each.

—The hanging of Wheeler recalls a similar event that occurred over thirty years ago at Annapolis—the execution of Norton. It was then considered legal, and allowed to be all right, for the doctors to have the bodies for dissection and study of the human system. On the day of his execution, just as twilight fell, seven different doctors, with their assistants, unknown to each other, were out trying to get possesion of the body, following on in each other's wake. The one who succeeded was Dr. Morse, of Lawrencetown, who quietly carried him off, with the assistance of his brother, J. Avard Morse and William Horner. Norton's skull and skeleton with some internal organs preserved in alcohol can still be seen at Dr. Morse's office.

—The lecture delivered by Mr. Thomas Galloway, in the Baptist church, on Sunday evening last, was listened to by a large aud-ience. Mr. Galloway related the story of his life in an interesting manner, and his lucid description of his affliction and suffer-ing, his conversion to christianity and other experiences, afforded much instruction.

—The annual services of thanksgiving for the blessing of harvest will be held in St. James Church, Bridgetown, on Sunday next. Offering of fruit, flowers, grain, etc., for the decoration of the church will be gladly accepted on Saturday morning or early in the afternoon. The special offertory at both services on Sunday next will be for cleaning and repairing the organ.

—Monday was generally recognized as a public holiday throughout the Dominion, and although several of our own business houses were open, the banks, telephone office, and other places were closed. Labor Day, as it is called, has been declared a public holiday by law, and will doubtless be more fully observed in the future than has been the case for the last few years.
