

A sad presentiment our lesson fills
With a deep consciousness of coming ills,
Nor dimly shadow'd ; a distressing day
For Nova Scotia is not far away,
Less from the shoals and breakers seen ahead
Than from the skipper's competence we dread ;
Self-confidence but little can avail
Among rough billows and an adverse gale.