

Massey-Harris Illustrated

A Journal of News and Literature for Rural Homes.

New Series, Vol. II., No. 5.] SEPTEMBER-OCTOBER, 1898. [Whole Series, Vol. XVI., No. 5.

Of the trio of grand old men who for so long loomed large in the eyes not only of Europe, but of the world, only one remains. In our last lamentation amidst which Mr. Gladstone was lowered to his grave had died away the indomitable spirit of Prince Bismarck, the architect of the German issue but one we reproduced two typical scenes in the closing years of the first of the trio to cross into that "undiscovered country from whose bourn no traveller returns." Before the echo of universal

THE LATE PRINCE BISMARCK IN HIS STUDY. THE GRAPHIC.

Empire and the greatest constructive statesman of the century, has met its Master and his mortal remains are laid to rest under the shades of his old home at Frederickshue, his son declining the