Editorial Notes

The primary object, in the publication of this journal, is to gratify the desire, expressed by so many members of the Association, to have the transactions of its annual meetings permanently recorded.

* * *

After reading some of the scientific material herein contained, which shows merit and great care in preparation (and which represents only part of the papers presented at the last meeting) it must be admitted that it would be wrong to allow such work to be destroyed.

* * *

All of the papers published in this number were prepared for, and read at the last meeting; and if the compilation of this work done by the Saskatchewan Medical Association will further stimulate the efforts of the individual members the Committee of Publication will be amply rewarded by any extra work expended in the production of this the first number of "The Saskatchewan Medical Journal."
