

“The situation in Ethiopia and in Africa presents two major challenges to Canadians and their organizations; large-scale response to identified needs and the transformation of this response into development so as to avoid further crisis.”

Jean Brodeur, Director Association québécois des organismes de coopération internationale Member of the Mission to Ethiopia