Do You Know About Neponset Wall-Board?

An Artistic Boon to You if There's an Unfinished Attic or Basement Room That You Want to Decorate--Or a Partition to Put Up

"NEPONSET"—'tis the answer to all your worry when an unfinished attic must be set into order as a bedroom, nursery or studio, or a basement converted into a billiard-room or boys' playroom.

It is a wall-board that represents a very triumph in make and achievement—easy to apply to either plastered or unplastered walls, durable in wear, and artistic in appearance. For club dressing-rooms or millinery or dressmaking fitting-rooms it is admirable.

Neponset is about one-quarter of an inch thick, and may be had in sheets from 6 to 10 feet long and 32 inches wide—in white, cream white or quartered oak finish, and it may be left in its natural color or painted in any soft tone you wish. It is waterproof and light, easily cut with a sharp knife, and easily applied with a hammer and nails.

Besides its ordinary household use it may be employed with great success for offices, summer cottages, garages, window displays, clothes cupboards, ceilings, playhouses, workshops, quickly-made and light-weight chests and boxes.

In "white" finish—in reality a soft, grey cream—it may be had in 6, 7, 8, 9, 10 and 12-foot lengths, and 32 and 48-inch widths at the price of $40.00 per 1,000 square feet.

In "cream-white" finish—a warm cream color—it comes in the same sizes as the "white," and is priced at $37.50 per 1,000 square feet.

While in "quartered-oak" finish, strongly resembling seasoned oak panelling, and excellent for wainscoting, it comes in 6, 7, 8, 9 and 10-foot lengths, 32 inches wide only. Price, $42.50 per 1,000 square feet.

Make Your Rooms Fresh and Lovely With Cumberland Prints

Beautiful Chintzes in Soft or Radiant Colorings and Good Old English Designs

A PLEASANT TASK, isn't it, this choosing of fresh chintzes for your winter-worn rooms? The decorative possibilities of these flowery fabrics are so great. They transform a room from a barracks to a bower. And in the Drapery Department there is such a joyous medley of color effects that no matter what your choice it can scarcely fail to be a happy one.

Possessing a most unique charm are the well-known "Cumberland prints"—patterned all over in their velvety hand-blocked designs. The softness and subtlety of their colors and the beauty of their patterns are such that it would seem impossible to excel them.

Their variety this spring is delightful—delicate, fantastic patterns in high-keyed color schemes of green, rose, yellow and blue, to rich, substantial patterns of fruits and leaves, in tans, terra cottas and deep blue-greens.

For example:

A delightful pattern is one of full-blown roses, in a soft moonlit grey pink, with glistening white petal edges, on a black background.

Another design has sprawly flowering branches and gay birds of paradise all across it. It may be had in several color schemes of greens, roses and clear, soft blues, on white or black grounds.

Chinese pagodas peep over the tree-tops of another chintz in gay, soft tones of blue, yellow, lavender and green, while still others have huge overflowing baskets of flowers, pheasants and sundry brightly-plumaged birds, and fruit in leafy branches in a host of colors, for every room in almost every house. 32 inches wide. Their prices run from $1.00 to $1.50 per yard.

Interesting, too, are imported chintzes, 50 inches wide, and splendidly adapted for summer slip covers and hangings. One pattern is of great, wide-open roses, and leaves scattered so closely over a white ground that only glimpses of white show through. In predominating tones of rose, tan or soft mulberry. Its price is $1.25 a yard.

Another pattern is of small, neat roses and rhododendrons, with thick foliage in soft rose, fawn and green on a black ground. Its price is likewise $1.25 a yard.

MEN AT THE FRONT LIVE CLEAN LIVES

Rev. John Neil Brings Back Reassuring Message From Overseas.

Back from the very front line of Canadian trenches, where he went to convey to the members of the C.E.F. the greetings of the Presbyterian Church, Rev. John Neil D.D., moderator, told the representatives of the press yesterday his impressions of France and the Canadian boys overseas.

"The men at the front live clean lives," said Dr. Neil, referring to the rumors of misconduct which have come across the water of late. "None have resisted temptation better than our men have done. Some speak a great deal about drunkenness. I must say I did not see much among our Canadians. I was at Witley, Bramshot, other camps in England, and several camps in France, and saw very few Canadians drunk. "I purposely, without any intention of spying, went for a week to a hotel where Canadians come on leave, and I saw drinking, but very little drunkenness. There are others who have other reports, but I am convinced that many are exaggerated. I met our boys and looked into their faces, and if I can judge from their clear eyes and open faces, they are men who are living clean lives. Everyone says that there are no troops who stand up better than our men have done."

Visited Grave of Gen. Mercer. Dr. Neil paid a tribute to the high standard of the medical and sanitation service overseas. "If this war had occurred 15 years ago, it would have been a very much more dreadful thing," he said. He referred to the experience of the South African war, that disease was more fatal than bullets; but in this war typhoid and epidemics were not heard of. While in France, Dr. Neil visited the grave of Gen. Mercer, whose wooden cross is planted near Ypres. "I never saw," he said, "cemetaries kept in better condition than those where our Canadian soldiers are buried, both in Belgium and in France. I was delighted to see them kept with such good care."

On the death of Mrs. Norris the testator's daughter, Mrs. Letitia Winder will receive a piano, sewing machine and the house on Augusta avenue. Douglas P. B. The estate consists of $225 in household goods and personal effects, $6,913 in the bank $7,132 in a mortgage, $8,000 in war bonds, $4,000 in insurance and twenty shares Canadian Mortgage Investment Co., $2,000.

SHOULD BE NO APPEAL TO COURTS, SAYS MAYOR

Civic Officials Dissatisfied With Results of T.S.R. and School Board Legislation. Mayor Church is very much peeved at Queen's park and all that is there in. "It is unfortunate that there is no election next June," he said yesterday when he picked up the morning papers and read what the legislature had done to his bill to secure control of the expenditures of the board of education. "Mr. Irish seems to be the chief sponsor for the board of education," said the mayor. "His statement to the supreme court from the judgment of the railway board, the mayor said: 'The legislature appointed the railway board and yet has not enough confidence in it to accept its rulings. If it took six years to get our case thru the board, heaven only knows how long it will take us to get the appeal thru.' "It is simply another scrap of paper added to the mass of documents disobeyed by the railway company as fast as they are produced." It is probable that the anniversary of St. Julien, April 22, will be chosen as the date for the grand re-union of the first contingent men who are coming home on furlough. Although no definite plans have been made, those in charge of the arrangements think that it should take the form of a huge outdoor demonstration and picnic. Mayor Church suggests Biverdale park or Exhibition park. "The soldiers and their families can make a picnic of it, and can have bands to play while the sports go on," said the mayor yesterday. He will endeavor to arrange for a half holiday on that day. Sergeant William Turley of the G.W.V.A. favors a demonstration in Queen's park.

Veterans' Reunion May Take Place on St. Julien Day

RINKS HAD GOOD SEASON.

"A most successful season," said the parks department, referring to the winter sports season in Toronto's parks. The rinks opened on December 2 and closed on February 23 and enjoyed cold snappy weather practically all the time. There were 28 public skating rinks, 24 hockey rinks and 10 military rinks open.
