END OF BIG PRIZE RACE NEARLY HERE

"Salesmanship Club" Ends Its Campaign for Subscriptions to The World at 11 o'Clock Next Friday Night, August 29.

The end of The World's Salesmanship Club circulation campaign is in sight.

One week from tonight, on Friday. August 29, at 11 p.m., it will all be over but the shouting.

Everything is set for the final rush. Every member is more determined now than ever, and the results of the last week of the campaign, which will, of course, decide the winners of the $5,000 home, the four big automobiles and other awards, will, without a doubt, be big.

Surprises in Store.

A liberal offer of extra credits will be in effect the last week of the campaign. While, of course, not as good an offer as the "double em up" offer which just closed, it will still be large enough to count up fast, and will give every member an opportunity to put on the "finishing touches" to a wellfought campaign.

The list of standings will appear again tomorrow morning, and will be quite a surprise to many members, who may have had an idea that the results of the offer were not going to the last week will be published in The Sunday World, and the closing rules and full details as to just how the wind-up of the big prize race will be staged will be printed in Monday morning's paper.

"BETTER 'OLE" BACK PREMIER IS STILL AT ALLEN AGAIN

Fellow, "Old Bill," Returns to Toronto.

"Old Bill," the cheerful and dauntless warrior created by Captain Bairns-father, has become the central figure received in London and New York, cess of the comedy a film version has been prepared, so that a much larger public than can be accommodated in the ordinary theatres will have the opportunity of seeing the veteran en-tertaining and heartening his comrades in the trenches and relieving the horrors of the war by his bracing optimism and quaint philosophy. "Old Bill" symbolizes British pluck, tenacity and resourcefulness, and "The Better 'Ole," the play in which he is so admirably portrayed, is both a tonic and an inspiration. The play is brimful of coverlooked by the public. Bill's subtle humor, shared by his bosom friends and comrades, Alf and Bert, is in reality clever camouflage; in his heart most to help in winning it. The play gives a realistic impression of the daily life of the soldier on active service, and this feature is even more clearly also has numerous callers. and this feature is even more clearly brought out in the pictures. The film portrays the humor of our brave boys, who display the lighter vein of human nature under most tragic, appalling circumstances. Old Bill will make his return visit to the Allen next week.
