ICE CREAM a mystery comedy that keeps the audience as mystified as it does the leading nce as mystified as it does the leading ence as mystified as it does the leading character until a few seconds before the final fadeout. The picture is "His Official Fiancee," starring the favorite Vivian, showing at the Grand for the last time today. The vaudeville bill is headed by Mile, Theo and her dandies, in a musical revue, in which they feature the balloon girl. Other acts are the Spanish Goldinis in a sensational novelty; San Tuci, wizard of the accordian; Lorimer and Carbury in high-class dance specialties, and Rice and Newton in an offering of comedy, songs and talk. A Strand comedy, the Pathe Review, Topics of the Day and the Gaumont News complete the bill.

Hundreds of thousands have read Eleanor H. Porter's joyously optimistic glad-girl stories, now blended into a buoyantly joyous comedy by Catherine Chisholm Cushing, author of successful plays for May Irwin, Henriette Crossman and Billie Burke. "Pollyanna is an orphan child, who humanizes all sorts of gloomy, despondent persons by sheer force of magnetic personality, quaint expressions and happy example. It is a play to be seen without embarrassment, and its appeal is equally strong to the young and the mature. Comedy, sentiment, romance and a thrill of the dramatic are blended in "Pollyanna."

A Good Hatch.

The first essential of a good hatch, whether under hens or in incubators is to have eggs from healthy, vigorous breeding stock. The fresher the egg the better chance of a good hatch. Select only eggs of a normal size, discarding all rough, uneven, thin shells or any peculiar or abnormal shape. Do not allow the eggs to become chilled before being set, Give the hens or incubators a fair chance with good, hatchable eggs, and under most conditions they will produce good, healthy, chicks.

Thirteen dollars a day for city work this season was asked by a deputation of teamsters who appeared before No. 2 committee of the city council last night. At present they are receiving $11 a day. No decision was made by the committee. The matter was left in the hands of the city engineer. Teamsters said if the increased price was not paid, the city would likely be short a good many teams when con-struction work commenced. City Enstruction work commenced. City Engineer Brazier replied that he was willing to take a chance on this situation.

The teamsters claimed that increasing prices of feed and the upkeep of horses necessitated an increase in their price. One teamster claimed that it cost him $136 for the upkeep of his team in March. As he lost five days' time on account of the weather his profit for the month was only $30 without allowing any wages for himself.

New Building To Be Opened by Dance Thursday Night.

The annual branch managers' convention of the McClary Manufacturing Company is now in session at the head office of the company, York street. This meeting commenced on Monday, and will continue until Saturday.

The object of this annual get-together of McClary's chief representatives from coast to coast is to bring to the conference table the tabulated results of the preceding year's business, and from these figures gather some indication of the firm's activities during that time. Tenders for 3,000 tons of steam coal to heat city schools next winter were called for by No. 2 committee of the board of education Tuesday afternoon. This includes the supply for the technical and high school.

Architect I. E. Carrothers was asked the firm's activities during that time.
The branch managers also bring with them from the various territories the practical necessities confronting them, and also their separate and distinct ideas of what policies should be adopted for the forthcoming twolve repuths. for the forthcoming twelve months.

Everything from the obtaining of the raw material to the actual selling of the finished products will be thoroughly discussed. From the wealth of these discussions the executives of the company will be in an intelligent position to formulate the company's plans for the future months.
