Wealthy Brazilian In Breach Of Promise Action

FREED ON $50,000 BAIL

All Went Well and Banns Were
Published, Says New York Girl's
Complaint, Till His Mother Put
Her Foot Down

New York, Feb. 6.—Octavio Guinle, a wealthy young Brazilian and member of a New York exporting firm, was arrested here in an action brought by Miss Monica P. Borden to recover $500,000 for alleged breach of promise of marriage. He was released in $50,000.

Miss Borden lives with her mother and sister, at 608 Riverside Drive. Guinle has an office at 42 Broadway and other offices in London and Paris. The parent office is in Rio Janeiro.

Mr. Guinle is twenty-seven years old, and is the son of Eduardo Pallasin Guinle, who died about eighteen months ago, leaving a large estate. The complaint says his father left Guinle $500,000, besides $1,000,000 which was left him by a man named Gaffre, who was at one time his father's business partner. Guinle also has a large interest in the firm.

Miss Borden's complaint fills many foils pages. Justice Scudder, in Brooklyn, signed the arrest order, and Deputy Sheriff McDonald and Zeltner hustled to the Ansonia, where Mr. Guinle has been occupying a suite of rooms that cost him $600 a month. He was arrested and taken to the sheriff's office.

Wrote Fervent Letters

Mr. Guinle met Miss Borden for the first time in May last, and on July 5 he told her he could not live without her, according to the complaint. Mr. Guinle knew she was to sail for Europe on that day with her sister, Violet. Just before she sailed she got this from him:

My Darling and Sweet Mona—I am crazy. I do not know what to do without you. I have been crying since you left me alone without a soul to console me. You are the only woman I ever loved in all my life. I am willing to do anything for you. Come to me and I am sure I will make you happy. You are my love, my soul, my life. I adore you.

Miss Borden remained alone with cables and wireless messages. Miss Borden says in the complaint that she was on the earnest solicitation of the defendant.

When the steamer pulled into the dock Mr. Guinle was there to greet her and then, until October, the papers say, he showed her many marked attentions. Then he asked her, the papers say, to marry him. She accepted him and for some time after that, no matter where they went where mutual friends were, they introduced themselves as an engaged couple. A great deal of the time Mr. Guinle was with Miss Borden, and when he wasn't he wrote her fervent letters with sentences like this: "I could not live without your dear face and wonderful personality."

Banns Were Published.

On Jan. 34, the complaint says, Miss Borden went with Mr. Guinle to the parish house of the Church of Our Lady of Lourdes, where they saw Fr. Sheridan about their marriage. The banns were published. Mr. Guinle said his mother might object to the marriage, but that he intended to marry. Miss Borden anyway, because he was a man of honor.

On Jan. 29 Mr. Guinle got a cable from his mother telling him not to marry and threatening him with expulsion from the firm if he persisted. Mr. Guinle seemed to be overcome by this, but was disposed to obey his mother. He wrote her, Miss Borden says, that it was a great blow and explained how much suffering it would cause him. He also told her that it was impossible for him to marry her, and said that he would always be her friend.

This statement followed close on the heels of a cable from his mother that ran:

"Make no promises, but leave at once. We will talk it over here."

Once, while they were talking together, Miss Borden says, Mr. Guinle told her of his wealth. He said his firm was a $85,000,000 concern. He also told her, she says, that when they were married he would allow her $50,000 a year for her household and traveling expenses and for the purchase of jewelry. Also he said, according to Miss Borden, that his income was $300,000 a year.

A gang of young men, averaging twenty years of age, attacked a sleighing party last evening in the vicinity of Erin street. The children of Trinity church Sunday school were enjoying their annual sleigh drive when they were struck by snowballs and lumps of ice. One of the boys in the sleigh was struck and his eye was severely injured.

This Will Remove Hairs From Face

(Toilet Talks).

Many beauty experts have discarded the electric needle and are now using a plain delatone paste to remove hairy growths because this method is almost instantaneous and is entirely devoid of pain. The paste is made by mixing some powdered delatone with water and this is applied to the hairy surface for about 2 or 3 minutes, then rubbed off and the skin washed. This banishes every trace of hair and leaves the skin soft and spotless. Be sure to get the delatone in an original package.
