THE FIVE MINUTE RULE ENABLES THE SENATE TO GET THROUGH MUCH WORK.

The Five Minute Rule enables the Senate to get through much work.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 8.—The Senate continued today to discuss the tariff bill under what to them is a very novel proceeding, that of the five-minute rule.

Several Senators have been accustomed to arrange their speeches in a methodical and prosaic manner.

Under this rule the Senate made such rapid progress as to enable them to complete the entire free list schedule, which was under discussion.

There was a wide diversity of opinion as to the wisdom of the measure.

Several Senators were expected to speak in support of the measure.

Others were expected to speak in opposition.

The debate continued until late in the evening.

The Senate adjourned for the day.

FIRST EDITION. THE M'KINLEY BILL.

IT WILL LIKELY PROVE BAD FOR THE SOUTH.

It will likely prove bad for the South.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—The Minister H. J. Mandella, who is a close friend of Mr. McKinley, has been invited to the Council of the Liberal party, spoke to-day at the 'Outlets' feast here on the McKinley Tariff bill.

He was, he said, in relation with one of the highest commercial standing in America, both free traders and protectionists.

The measure was one of the most extreme measures of protection which was ever brought forward in any country.

It was almost an issue measure and would be most injurious to the American consumers, and what was more, it would be most injurious to the American producers.

Mr. Mandella said that the other day he had seen Mr. McKinley in the street.

MONTECAL, Sept. 8.—The strike of laborers employed in unloading the Allan steamships is causing much inconvenience.

It appears that one of the laborers absented himself a few days ago without leave and his place was filled by the stevedores in charge.

He returned yesterday and demanded to be reinstated. This was refused and all the men numbering some three hundred quit work.

The strike is said to be ordered by the Knights of Labor. The crews of the vessels are doing what they can to unload the cargo.

The man says that he was not notified.

Another laborer told.
