Intercounty. He hoped the visit would not only be a pleasant one, but that it would prove of much profit to all.
Mr. Lord went on to say that he thought the time was opportune to mention a very important subject, one they were all interested in, namely what the teachers should do for the child. He considered that, aside from the text books, there was much expected from the teacher if proper results were to be expected. Mr. Lord told briefly what some celebrated men had done by tireless study and application to their chosen line of work and Us Society. Miss Murray, of New Glasgow, favored the change.

The meeting adjourned until three o'clock when the vote on the question will be taken and will probably be carried by the necessary two-third vote.
