LOCAL NEWS.

Roy A. Davidson will leave on Wednesday for Montreal to attend McGill University.

A meeting of the city laborers will be held in their rooms Sutherland Hall this evening at eight o'clock. All members are requested to attend.

Forty-eight Italians passed through the city this morning from Boston to Campbellton, where they are going to work on the Intercolonial Railroad.

A meeting of the firemen's tournament executive committee was held last evening and a number of bills were passed. A full meeting of the department will be held in a few days when a final statement will be made.

The funeral of Mrs. Mary Quinn, widow of the late Edward Quinn, took place this morning from her late residence Marsh Bridge. The body was conveyed to Upham, Kings Co., where interment will take place.

The funeral of the late George Hope was held this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, from his late residence Union Alley, Rev. Mr. Johnston officiated at the funeral services. Interment was in Fernhill cemetery.

On Sunday last Rev. E. M. Fletcher, of the Charlotte street Baptist church, West End, baptized seven converts at Dipper Harbor and four at Chance Harbor. The field has been supplied during the past summer by Mr. Clifford Clark, a student and son of Mr. D. C. Clark, of the West End, and the result of his work has been very encouraging.

The Star today enters upon its eighth year. Since its establishment in September, 1899, it has won a very large share of popularity in St. John and surrounding districts. It has grown to be a valuable advertising medium, which fact is appreciated by many of the larger houses. As a record of the day's news it has been received with gratifying favor, and no stronger proof of this can be found than in its circulation books.

W. B. Howard, district passenger agent for the C. P. R., returned from Montreal where he attended a meeting to arrange the winter time tables. Mr. Howard said that the time table would be practically the same this year as it was last year with the exception that the Boston and Montreal trains will be brought in and sent out separately. The Montreal train will leave at 6 o'clock p. m. and the Boston will go out as soon afterwards as possible.

A break in the old water main was discovered in Fernhill Cemetery this morning and waterworks men are now trying to make good the damage. While the rupture is not a serious one, and is located near the central fountain, it flooded the avenue roundabout to quite an extent. Several Fernhill directors and other citizens in speaking of the matter today very much regretted the occurrence as it indicates how uncertain the old pipes are in that particular location, a spot where extensive excavations would be attended with especially undesirable features.

A GAY OLD WINTER OF BIG PRETTY HATS

Trailing Wings, Bobbing Plumes, Huge Flowers

Millinery Openings Tomorrow Forecast Some Stunning Chapeaux—An Outline of the Style Tendencies.

Tomorrow will be opening day in the large wholesale millinery houses, and already there is a stir and hurry in M. R. A.'s, Ltd., Brock and Patterson, Ltd., and the London House. Every train and boat inward bound is bringing soft-throated headwear articles to the fair, and before another half day they will be vying with one another for the choicest wares exposed for sale at the demonstrations.

It would be hard indeed to convey an adequate idea of the hat which is to prevail from now until next spring. Of course for the first few weeks of the new season the tailored felt hat will be popular. There are two very good reasons for this—one, that it is ready-to-wear and handy to buy; the second, that it is moderate in price and sums up the new modes in a very happy manner.

But when it gets down to buying a swaggar chapeau for dress occasions—afternoons, "high days and holy days"—due attention will be given the very elaborate models and their immense wealth of decorations. The premiere hat for cold weather will be unusually large; it will be decked in striking flowers and long trailing wings, or fluffed and gillowed with stretch plumes. Shapes will have a decided drooping tendency and will extend downwards at the back; if anything an exaggeration of spring models in this regard. They will be high or long, and never chosen, and give ample space to pile on the lavish trimmings as prescribed by the chart.

Therefore even a well-dressed lady walks out on a calling tour with a very large hat on which a big chou of silk or velvet, immense trailing wings and huge roses or clusters of violets are tastefully arranged it will not be considered too much of the good thing, for Madame Fashion so decrees it.

Purple is running strong in the favorite color class, and is known as "Crocus Purple." It is being combined with brocade, deep green tones, etc., which is another rather rude shock to people who insist on "matching" everything. By no means are these mixtures distasteful; indeed they are quite smart and stunning. Shot, or iridescent effects in silk are on the programme as well, and tan or leather colors will be much seen on everything millinery.

Silk bows, wide long conspicuous affairs, are booked for much favor and will be worn in nearly every case directly in front of the hat. Ornament makers have evolved a new line of hat jewelry, introducing dull or antique effects, gems and some unique pins. There are other novelties.

Because large hats are to predominate, it does not mean that small headwear will not be worn, for hundreds of ladies will stoutly adhere to their beloved turbans and toques whatever comes or goes. Matrons, particularly, will enjoy a wide range of new ideas along these lines of hats, and colors, etc., will be made to coincide with style tendencies.

At the wholesale houses above mentioned elaborate exhibitions of show shapes and trimmings are being made, and a bewilderingment of materials and accessories will cause tomorrow's throngs to think deeply in choosing between this or that. In a word it's going to be a gay old winter in millinery.

THE SAD SUICIDE OF WILLIAM TODD

Respected Resident of the Narrows Passed Away.

Despondent Through ill Health He is Supposed to Have Taken Paris Green

Word reached this city last evening of the sad death of William Todd, of the Narrows, Queens County, by suicide on Sunday morning last. Mr. Todd has been in poor health for some months past, and has been quite despondent. It was thought if he could go away from home for a little trip that he would soon come around all right, and consequently about a month ago he was prevailed on to visit some relatives in another part of the province. Feeling much better he returned home a short time ago, and it was thought he would be all right, and on Sunday morning his people went out to church leaving him in the house alone. To their horror on returning home they found him lying unconscious. A can of Paris Green had been opened and it was supposed that, again becoming melancholy, he had decided to put an end to himself by taking Paris Green.

Dr. M. C. McDonald was at once summoned, and although he used every means possible it was too late to save the man's life. The sad affair has had a gloom over the whole community, as Mr. Todd was one of the leading citizens of the place, being very highly respected by all who knew him. He was about 58 years of age and an active member of the Baptist church. The deepest sympathy goes out to Mr. Todd's relatives in their sad bereavement.

Mr. Todd was well known in this city being a frequent visitor here. He was a brother-in-law of D. C. Clarke, the contractor.

REFUTING ONE RUMOR OF MISAPPROPRIATION

Henry King Makes a Statement About Funds Entrusted to Rev. W. C. Gaylor

A. H. Hanington, the legal advisor of Rev. W. C. Gaylor, has been investigating the rumors which have been spread against his client and wrote to James King, the treasurer, whose money it was reported that Father Gaylor had misappropriated. Mr. Hanington asked Mr. King about the rumors and asked to have a statement favoring him regarding their truth or falsity. The following statement was made yesterday by Henry King and is self explanatory: "I am a brother of James King, and wish to state that when I came here about four months ago, my brother, James King, informed me that Father Gaylor held a large sum of money belonging to him out of his earnings that he had paid him firm time to time, and my brother requested me in his interests to ascertain how the account stood—how much was due. "I then called upon Father Gaylor, and asked him to kindly give me a statement of my brother's account, which he did, and I handed that statement to my lawyer and after considering the matter over, he told me to let the matter drop and no more was said about it. "I have not said anything to make the stories about Father Gaylor. I mentioned that my brother told me Father Gaylor owed him, but I have not authorized anyone to make any statement about it." Mr. Hanington added that Father Gaylor had an auditor examine Mr. King's account from time to time and that the statements were submitted to Mr. King. The amount now on credit for Mr. King is $1281 and of course can be secured by Mr. King at any time.

CANNOT GET ENOUGH MEN TO DO THE WORK

Foreman Plasterer on the Royal Bank Complains—Men Reported for Working Without Licenses.

The foreman plasterer working on the new Royal Bank building, King street, was in the police court this morning to answer the charge of ten of his men working without license. He explained that Mayor Sears was willing to accept a dollar a week from each of the men until each had paid his $7.50 license, providing the contractor would give a bond that all of the amounts would be paid. The contractor or foreman of the job that already a couple of the men had left on account of the tax, and all but one refused to pay it. The only reason he brought the men from outside districts was that he could not get men enough in the city to work and those now working threatened to leave if forced to pay license. The foreman was excused and Sgt. Campbell instructed to notify the plasterers to appear in court tomorrow morning.
