BODY OF MURDERED MAN FOUND BY ROAD SIDE

PITTSFIELD, Mass., Aug. 15.—What appears to be a case of murder was disclosed today when a small pile of earth was removed from a bundle wrapped in a blanket beside a road in Stearnsville. Inside the blanket was the body of a man, apparently a laborer and a foreigner, with a stab wound through the right breast and several other cuts. He appeared to be about 25 years old. The medical examiner stated that the body was probably placed there last night.

NEW CLUBBING OFFER TO STAR COMPETITORS

Extra Votes Will be Allowed on Groups of Subscriptions to the Value of $12 or Over—Read Carefully and Profit

Have you read the announcement on another page of the bonus offer in The Sun and St. John Star prize voting contest? If you have not, stop reading right here and turn to the page advertisement.

Commencing Monday, August 16th, we will make clubbing rates to all contestants, whereby each one may, with any number of subscriptions, the sum total of which amounts to $12, receive 10,000 extra votes in addition to the published schedule for subscriptions amounting to $20 you will receive 15,000 extra votes, and for subscriptions amounting to $30 you will be allowed 20,000 extra votes. This does not mean that you must have a two, three or five year subscription, so long as you bring in the required amount before 10 o'clock on Saturday night, August 28th. Out of town candidates can mail subscriptions to reach the contest department in the mail Monday, but such subscriptions must bear the post mark of Saturday, August 28th to receive the bonus.

Wise candidates will not let an hour of this precious time be lost. Their friends will take great pleasure in subscribing in their favor when they see how greatly each subscription adds to the candidate's chance of success. "Bonus days" will prove to be the harvest days for the ambitious candidates.

Remember, without your aid the eager, hopeful candidate can do nothing. It is not every day that one finds an opportunity to do a kindly act that at the same time is beneficial. You certainly have some favorite among them. Make them happy. Give them your votes. Renew your subscription to The Sun or Star or begin by taking the paper. It means so much to the contestants, and they have to their hearts on winning one of the many handsome prizes.

We are just in receipt of word from one of our contestants that he had been approached by another contestant's friend, trying to find out what he would be willing to pay for a certain number of votes, as he would drop out of the contest. If the inducement was large enough, we wish to respectfully call the attention of every contestant that the votes issued in one contestant's name are not transferable to another. Every certificate issued by the contest department has "not transferable" printed on it. This should be sufficient evidence that they cannot be sold, and if when the final counting is made any certificates showing that it has been tampered with or changed in any respect will be thrown out and not accounted for. This is final and conclusive. No votes will be transferred from one contestant to another under any circumstances.

BRIDGE COLLAPSED, KILLING ONE AND INJURING SEVERAL

G. T. P. Trestle Near McGivney Jct. the Scene of the Tragedy

—Was One of the Largest in New Brunswick—Workmen Had Narrow Escape From Death.

FREDERICTON, Aug. 15.—Six spans of one of the largest trestles on the New Brunswick section of the Grand Trunk Pacific collapsed on Saturday afternoon with the result that one workman was killed and several others had miraculous escapes.

The accident occurred at 2:20 o'clock at the trestle over Mullins Brook four miles west of McGivney Junction where the G. T. P. crosses the Canadian Eastern division of the Intercolonial.

The dead and injured are: John McMullin, of Cape Breton, instantly killed. John Patterson, engineer, badly bruised. Four workmen injured but not seriously.

The trestle over Mullins Brook comes on a curve and is 1,400 feet long being about 50 feet high. The fill contains upwards of 40,000 cubic yards of rock and the cars filled with rock were taken out on the trestle by a small locomotive and the rocks then dumped over the trestle. The work of making this fill had been in progress for some time without accident. Suddenly on Saturday afternoon six of the twelve foot spans of the wooden trestle were hurled to the bottom of the gully, a distance of about 10 feet. Six timbers cracking like pieces of kindling wood.

When the crash happened John Patterson, the engineer in charge of the locomotive, stuck to his post, not having time enough to jump and with four of the others he came out of the accident with some painful bruises and other injuries, which, however, are not serious.

Soap That is Best for the Baby's Bath

Baby's skin is very sensitive to soap; some soaps soothe and nourish, while others inflame and irritate. It is of the utmost importance that you know what soap to use, and to do this you must know what is in the soap.

So let us explain how we make Infants' Delight. We first go for pure vegetable oil to France. There we pay often double what we might pay. But the oil we get is pure enough to use on your table.

Then we go more than 12,000 miles to the isle of Ceylon for pure coconut oil. Both oils are carefully tested by chemists and doubly boiled.

Next they go through our own special milling process and fall like flakes of snow into enormous bins. Then they are crushed under a weight of 30 tons to press out the moisture.

Finally they pass through granite rollers and come out in miles of silky ribbons. Then they are dried eight times and stamped into oval cakes that just fit the hand.

Isn't it worth while to have soap like this for your baby? Why risk using common soaps when this excellent kind costs no more than others?

This lovely soap leaves the baby's delicate skin as soft as velvet and as smooth as silk. Even the baby knows the difference in this delightful soap—so we call it Infants' Delight.

Baby will like the perfume too. It is so dainty and fragrant—only the exquisite scent of the rose. If this soap is pure enough for the baby's skin it surely is best for your own. Try one cake—you owe it to baby and yourself.

How to Bathe the Baby

Rinse the body with clear, warm water and then rub in a rich lather of Infants' Delight. Then rinse off the lather with a cloth dipped in lukewarm water and wrung out over the skin. Pat the baby's skin dry with a cloth but never rub with a towel for it coarsens the texture of the skin.

WOMANS SUFFRAGE WILL RECEIVE NEW IMPETUS

Men Who Know Practical Politics Enlist in Mr. O. H. P. Belmont's Crusade—May Form New Political Party.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—Men who have been active in practical politics will be prominent figures at the lectures which Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont has arranged in connection with her campaign on behalf of women suffrage, for which she will open Marble House, her residence at Newport, R. I., to the public for the first time since that splendidly artistic structure was erected a score of years ago.

When Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, president of the National Woman Suffrage Association lectures in Marble House just as she will be introduced by Patrick Boyle, Mayor of Newport. On August 28, when Professor Charles Zuehlke, of the University of Chicago, delivers the second lecture, he will be presented by Aaron J. Potliser, Governor of Rhode Island. The Mayor is a democrat, and the Governor a republican, so the non-partisan principle of the effort to obtain "votes for women" will not be infringed upon.

On each occasion Mrs. Belmont will make brief, introductory addresses, and during the fall and winter she will take an active part in the speaking campaign that has been projected throughout the city. State and nation.

Wide interest has been aroused by Mrs. Belmont's decision to present the art treasures of Marble House to public inspection. On each lecture day, during the hour preceding the formal programme, subscribers to the lectures will have opportunity of viewing the lower floor apartments of the house.

Mrs. Belmont contemplates also encouraging American art by this giving to its devotees a chance for study and instruction. Applications for tickets from many quarters are being received by J. A. MacMahon, at Marble House, to whom all subscriptions should be addressed. The proceeds of the charge of $5 a ticket for each lecture will go into the fund for the extension of the suffrage crusade.

"We are going to see victory crown this campaign, too," said Mrs. Belmont yesterday before she departed from Manhattan for her Newport home. "There is no selfishness in woman's demand for the right of suffrage. Our motto is: 'Work for our country, and not for individual glorification.' The campaign is to proceed along practical lines and with that potent motive force that comes from centralization of effort."

"We ask nothing except that right to share in responsibility for government affairs which justly belongs to us. If women are capable of rearing the young and caring for the youth of the country, surely they ought to have a share in the management of the country in which they live; in other words to be vested with that responsibility which is their just due."

"We intend to wage our campaign just as men carry on their political contests. If neither of the dominant political parties of the day displays a tendency to support us and our tenets then we will have to form a third party that's all. We do not insist that we are better than men, but we do contend that the granting of the ballot to women would bring into activity a force of energy and intellect which would make for greater purity in political affairs and for the establishing of higher ideals."

"We expect confidently to be supported by the best men in this country. Such men know that political corruption exists in many places. Women are not pessimistic; they believe that such evils can be cured, and cured for good and all. We are actuated by patriotic motives, for we believe that the world today needs the effort of every brain and the energy of every human unit. If women are barred from participation in governmental affairs you are depriving the nation of the beneficent efforts that are possibly from just one-half of the people whom God created."

"The vast majority of the men of the United States, I believe, want clean politics and governmental decency everywhere," concluded Mrs. Belmont. "If the great body of women, with their influence, energy and intelligence, were asked to share the responsibility for such conditions I am certain those troubles would be effectively corrected for the good of all. Most women take life more seriously than do men. They are anxious to do what is right. If given the ballot I think they would attach more importance to the franchise privileges than do some men, for it would be the key to conditions which affect their every day lives, especially in municipalities with their great problems, more than they do men."

"We don't want to thrust man aside or take any of his rights from him. We merely ask for the franchise so we may share in responsibility for a government that controls us as effectively as it does the male citizens. If the two foremost existing political parties take the stand that they do not want to place a woman suffrage plank in their platforms, and that they do not need woman's influence and assistance, then we will form a third party, and in that event we will be supported by the best men in this country."

HYMN WRITER STARTS A CHURCH OF HIS OWN

As Memorial to His Hymn "Throw Out the Life Line"—Announces His Creed.

ROCKLAND, Me., Aug. 15.—As a memorial to his famous hymn "Throw Out the Life Line," and also to the 30th anniversary of his ordination, Rev. F. S. Safford officiated today at the dedication of the "Galilee Temple," a People's Church, built from the pastors' private funds. The exercises took place in the presence of a large congregation.

In announcing the creed of the new church, the pastor said no worldly schemes will be used to raise money, nor will any fee or honor be demanded at the church door. Implicit faith in God will be taught and the Bible will be the only guide.

Windows in memory of noted hymn writers and of Frances E. Willard ornament the church.
