THE GRANITE TOWN GREETINGS

LOCAL AND SPECIAL

For results advertise in Greetings.

If your boy needs a pair of shoes, don't forget the special sale, now on at Frauley Bros.

The new lamps, which the council ordered some time ago, arrived last week and are being placed in position.

The body of George Dalton, who was drowned some time ago at St. John, was found last week at McLaren's beach.

There are few in St. George who consider their Christmas purchases complete without a visit to Jas. O'Neill's store. Many find it necessary to make several trips there.

The old engine house is being torn down, a new siding will be put in by the railroad company and better facilities for unloading freight provided. The site of the old turn table will be filled in. R. J. Austin is in charge of the work.

Repairs are being made on the bridge over Trout Brook, at the lake. The work is under the supervision of Superintendent Austin. The condition of this bridge was very bad and the repairs were absolutely necessary.

The members of the dramatic club of Red Granite Division will present the strong play, "The Mountain Wail," before the society in O'Brien's Hall, on Wednesday the 15th. The public will later on be invited to witness the performance.

James McLaughlin, while leaving his home on Wednesday evening last, tripped and fell over a wheelbarrow, which a couple of boys had left at the door. He was considerably shaken up by the fall and was obliged to remain in the house for a couple of days.

The two legs of a man probably from the steamer Hestia were found at Sanford yesterday. Both boots were on the feet, but there was no mark of identification. It is thought the remainder of the body may be among the kelp on the shore, and diligent search is being made for it. Undertaker Sweeney will have all that is found laid beside the other graves in the mountain cemetery—Yorkmouth Times.

The funeral of the late Mrs. George Evans, whose death occurred at St. George, N. B., on Thursday last, was held this afternoon from the residence of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Soper, on Bonford St., and was well attended. The services at the house were conducted by Rev. E. B. McLatchy, pastor of the Highfield Baptist church after which the remains were conveyed to Mul Creek Baptist cemetery where they were interred. Rev. Mr. McLatchy also conducted the services at the grave. There were no pallbearers.—Moncton Transcript.

The hunting season closed last Wednesday, and Thursday morning early a lordly moose wandered through town and drank at the town pump. Local sports were nearly all successful in bringing proof of their skill, with the rifle into town. Moose meat was a drag on the market, deer not so plentiful though a large number were shot. Altogether it was the best season for years, in this to any County in the Province in the number and size of the big animals killed.

The rink association have located the rink on the O'Neill property below Grant & Morins. Last week Mr. Barton Blandford was busy there, putting in dams and levelling knolls. It is expected that this land will hold the water better than the place used last winter and so prevent the formation of shell ice—which caused a lot of trouble. The committee in charge are doing everything possible to provide the public with a rink that will be open for skating every day that the weather permits.

Eastport, Me., Dec. 3.—Owing to the extremely small quantity produced, it is considered doubtful if there will be a crop of American sardines on the market on Jan. 1st. The pack by the sardine canning plants on the Maine coast, which were closed by law at midnight November 27, was small this year, not more than 50 per cent of the usual quantity having been canned. This remarkable falling off was due to the scarcity of the small herrings suitable for canning. In fact, herrings of all kinds have been scarce this year, even the smoked herring industry suffering a shortage. In May herrings of all sizes were unusually plentiful and of good quality, but in June and July there were none at all. During August they returned, but soon disappeared again, and during the remainder of the season very few were taken and these were of small size.

Our circulation grows. Watch us.

Christmas shoppers will be interested in reading Frauley Bros. two big ads in this issue.

Two schooners are expected to load pulp and lumber for Ct. This will probably wind up the shipments for the season.

The attention of our readers is drawn to the letter to the Provincial printers published elsewhere in this paper explaining the conditions, required to participate in the generous gift of Lord Strathcona.

Frauley Bros. have a Christmas present for you, in the way of big discounts on men's and boys suits and overcoats, with boys suits at half price as a special feature.

The heavy rains of last week played havoc with the recently constructed bridge at Armstrong's. A large amount of gravel and dirt used for filling in was washed away.

James Watt has our thanks for a charming desk calendar for 1910. It bears a scene familiar to us all—the river at high freshet rushing over the falls and through the gorge below. For absent parents and residents no prettier card could be obtained as the picture is an excellent one.

At O'Neil's this year holiday buyers find a larger, more varied and more suitable stock than ever before to meet their desires. The second floor is used to display Fancy Goods and contains an exhibit of these goods that one would expect to see in much larger towns. This store has certainly left nothing undone to make a great snowing this Christmas.

Police Magistrate James O'Brien has resigned. Mr. O'Brien was appointed by the Government, on the incorporation of the town and has filled the position with credit to himself and honor to the Government that appointed him. The position is one calling for clear judgment and common sense, and the part of the appointee and care should be exercised by those recommending a successor to Mr. O'Brien. A knowledge of law embracing technical points is not absolutely essential but unbiased mind is necessary.

A dispatch from Ottawa on Tuesday says—

Hon. Wm. Pugsley, minister of Public Works, and Dr. W. F. King, chief astronomer for Canada, expect to leave on Thursday for Washington, to discuss with the United States authorities and Ambassador Bryce the boundary dispute between Canada and United States over line in Passamaquoddy Bay, which involves the ownership of Pope's Folly Island and contiguous fishing rights. It is probable that the disputed point will have to be left to arbitration.

In connection with the Maritime winter fair at Amherst on December 6th, 7th, 8th and 9th, special fares will be in effect on the Intercolonial railway, from all stations Campbellton and East. This will prove an inducement to the many persons who annually attend this fair, and it is expected that this year will see a larger attendance, than ever, for special arrangements have been made to assemble an exhibit of fat cattle that will prove great attraction to Maritime Province agriculturists. The Amherst winter fair is growing in importance each year. The special railway fares are really very reasonable and doubtless the opportunity to visit Amherst will be embraced by many business men also. The tickets are good going from December 4th to 7th and are good for return December 10th. The fare from St. John is $2.80.

Since early summer, a party of surveyors have been engaged in a survey of the international boundary line in this section, covering the territory between Joe's Point and Upper Mills and placing reference marks along the course. From these charts will be compiled for the use of Dr. King at Ottawa, Canada's representative on an international commission appointed to determine the true boundary line.

The party here was composed of C. H. Robinson, W. C. Westland, F. W. Jodry, J. Rainboth, of Ottawa, B. Coombes of Winnipeg, J. G. Bole of Toronto, Harold Lyons of St. Stephen was also employed on the staff and George Gallagher of Ottawa was their efficient cook.

During the summer they occupied tents pitched on the bank of Dennis stream and later moved to a tenement in town. They made their trips up and down the river in Fred Holt's motor boat. The labors for this year have ended and they seek their departure Saturday evening.

They were gentlemen and though their duties occupied them, they were thoroughly in the social life of the town and will be cordially welcomed by many friends in their return next year.
