HELD UP BY A COW

St. Thomas, July 7.—The holding up of an automobile which was supposed to have taken place a few nights ago near Pinal and which was given much notoriety in the papers has been explained. Two farmers' sons were leading an unruly cow, which was tied with a rope to the back of a buggy. They had no lights and the night was dark, so a couple of neighbor lads were stationed on the road to warn motorists to be on the outlook for the cow. They stopped and warned several motor parties, but when they tried to stop an automobile driven by a woman, she put on the power and nearly ran the parties to earth, mistaking them for highwaymen.

Care of Cow and Young Calf

Kindness and cleanliness are the two chief points to observe in caring for dairy stock.
 About a week before the young calf is expected, the cow should be placed in a clean, well-bedded, comfortable box-stall. The practice of compelling cows to give birth to their calves, tied in the row, is cruelty for the cows, dangerous for the calf, and bad for the whole herd. Privacy and quietness should be the rule at this time.
 The cow should be allowed to lick the calf dry, and should be kept tied until the after-birth is removed. The two may be left together for one to three days. Some remove the calf at once, but if it is to be reared, it should be left with the dam for a short time, in order to give the young animal a good start. Leaving cow and calf together for a day or two also tends to remove inflammation from the udder of the cow.
 If necessary the cow's udder should be bathed with warm water or some form of liniment such as camellia-seed oil, or equal parts of turpentine and vinegar and an egg in one quart of the mixture.
 In case the cow and calf are all right, they may be separated in not over three days, and the cow be returned to her regular stall. The calf may be allowed to remain in the box-stall, if not needed for another cow, or be placed in the nursery along with other calves, as this will cause it to forget its "mammy" more quickly. It should receive its mother's milk for a week, whole milk for two or three weeks, then skim milk, and other suitable feeds for six months, and be kept dry and clean at all times.—Prof. H. H. Dean, Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph.

Trimming and Staking Tomatoes

This method of handling tomatoes has come into very extensive use in the past few years among the commercial market gardeners, owing to the high price of land and backyard gardens. The plants as a rule are set two feet apart each way and after planting are given one cultivation. The sticks are then set; driving them down about a foot into the ground and leaving from five to five and a half above the ground. These sticks may be made from mill edgings, saplings or anything else of a similar nature about one and a half inches square and strong enough to hold the plants when the fruit is fully grown. After driving the sticks and tying the plants to them, the ground should be covered from four to six inches thick with very straw manure, as a mulch. This mulch will keep the moisture in the ground and, at the same time, remove any necessity of the roots. In growing tomatoes on the single stem, such as is used in this method, all side branches which appear when the plant joins the main stem of the plant are removed as quickly as possible. If they are allowed to grow it will take away very valuable plant food from the growing plant. Twelve inches to the stem and eight or twelve inches to the side and when they have reached the top are cut off.—A. H. MacLennan, Ontario Vegetable Specialist.

Now doctors tell us that onions are good for the lungs. They certainly do strengthen the breath.

PLAY FAIR.

DON'T JUMP TO CONCLUSIONS.

What is the difference between remedy and cure? Any disease which is liable to recur cannot be indefinitely "cured." You may dispel the germs from the system—but that is simply remedying it.
 A man suffers for years with Rheumatism. After trying numerous treatments without success, he takes Templeton's Rheumatic Capsules, and is restored to perfect health again.
 A year or so later Rheumatic symptoms appear again. What does he immediately conclude? That it is his old trouble returned; that the medicine he took had only a temporary effect; that he will never again be well. This impression is the one we wish to eradicate—because it is entirely false.
 Templeton's Rheumatic Capsules are given a fair trial they remedy Rheumatism, Sciatica, Lumbago, Neuritis, Neuralgia, or any of their kindred diseases.
 T.R.C.'s work make you immune from the above diseases. They will remedy them and drive them from your system, but whenever you feel an attack coming on, start using T.R.C.'s again.
 Sole Agent for Glencoe, H. I. Johnston, Pharm. B. Druggist, Optician and Stationer, or if you live out of town mail $1.04 to the above address or to Templeton's, Limited, 142 King Street, West, Toronto, and Capsules will be sent postpaid.

"Mixed Farming" is the big money-maker today. Of course, grain and fruit and vegetables pay well—but beef and bacon, butter and cheese, are piling up the profits for the farmer.
 Milk more cows—fatten more cattle—raise more hogs. If you need money to do it, come to The Merchants Bank. We are glad to assist all up-to-date farmers.
