

Government can substantiate this part of their case, which it will be very difficult to do.

The Conservatives and Liberal Unionists through England and Ireland are in a rage at the stupidity of the executive, and demand the dismissal of the Crown lawyers. The difficulty of dealing with a whole nation by oppression is becoming more and more evident every day; and it is pretty generally conceded now that an army must be sent into Ireland if the Coercion law is to be enforced; and that, perhaps, a larger army than England can well spare.

A number of influential English and Scotch journals have offered the Dublin Nation the use of their offices, machinery, and staff in case of its suppression under the Coercion Act.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

No converts from Catholicism were ever obtained by the Mormons, says a former missionary in Utah.

The German Government have apologized for the shooting of the French sportsman on the frontier. It is expected that on payment of a suitable indemnity France will be satisfied.

The Catholic World for November will contain Bishop Keane's introductory article on the Catholic University. He is the rector, and he tells what connection Leo XIII. has had with this greatest event in the history of the American Church since the establishment of its hierarchy. The article is certainly of much importance and should be copied into the Catholic Press.

It has been announced that France and Spain are in harmony in regard to future operations in Morocco. It would appear, however, from the acts of both countries that they have strong suspicions against each other. Both countries are preparing for active operations in Morocco in case of expected trouble there. It is expected that in case of the Sultan's death, which is likely to happen very soon, there will be a civil war, and an immediate attempt to massacre the Christians, which these powers will endeavor to counteract.

Socialism finds but little favor in the United States. In Chicago, New York, and elsewhere, by linking themselves to the Labor Associations, they imagined that they would swell their numbers and gain influence. The Labor Party, however, has cut loose from them most decidedly, and has purged its ranks completely, not only from the Socialists, but even from those who, denying that they were Socialists, held intercourse with those who are such. The Socialists are therefore obliged to march under their own colors, as the "Progressive Labor Party." In New York they have named a State ticket. Thus they have given the public a chance to count them, and if we mistake not their numbers will be found so few that much of the terror which surrounds their name will be dissipated.

The Pennsylvania State Legislature are about to submit to the people certain amendments to the Constitution of the State whereby the voters' qualifications will be modified. Under the proposed amendments, voters must have been citizens of the United States for 30 days, and must have been residents of the State for at least one year previous to the election. Also they must have resided for at least 30 days in the election district in which they vote. Soldiers absent on actual military duty, and other absentees in the Service of the United States, or of the State, shall be deemed residents for the purposes of this law. Another Constitutional amendment is proposed prohibiting the manufacture, sale, or keeping for sale intoxicating liquors to be used as a beverage.

OWING to the difficulty of reconciling the various parties which are found in the Church of England in Canada, the Nova Scotia Synod were obliged to look elsewhere for a Bishop to occupy the See of that Province. At first the Synod looked to England to supply the want, but failing there, Bishop Perry of Iowa was elected. It remained uncertain whether he would accept, as he was absent in England at the time, and gave no indication of his intentions. A few days ago, however, he wrote to an American paper stating that he will not desert his country or leave his beloved American Church. Archbishop Gilpin of Halifax in a letter to a Halifax paper states that by leaving the Nova Scotia Synod to learn his decision through so indirect a way, he has treated the Synod, "to use a mild term, with great discourtesy." It is supposed that the Synod will now endeavor to agree upon some Canadian.

The Coercionists are not altogether indifferent to outside public opinion, or at least some of them are not. Mr. Bright was invited to attend the Centennial celebration of the American Constitution, but he regretfully declined. In his answer he takes occasion to make a bid for American sympathy with the "buckshot" party. He says: "My voice was raised at that time in favor of that American unity, which I hope may never again be endangered or impaired." Between the lines, it is easy to see that he wishes it to be inferred that Americans should look with disfavor on the attempt to secure Home Rule for Ireland, as endangering or impairing "the unity" of the British Empire. A leading Philadelphia paper, the American, seeing through the transparency, remarks on this: "The fallacy of the analogy Mr. Bright employs is a stock argument of the Liberal-Unionist, and re-appears in Mr. Matthew Arnold's last article in the Contemporary Review. It has been exposed repeatedly in these columns. If the American Union had been created and administered after the fashion of the Legislative Union of Ireland with Great Britain, the war of secession would have had a justification which it did not possess in the remotest degree. No better reply to such analogies could be found than in Mr. Alexander H. Stephens' famous speech of 1861 against the proposal that Georgia should secede from the Union. And while it is true that Mr. Gladstone's voice was not raised at that time in favor of American unity, and that he made the blunder of expressing in a famous phrase his belief that the south would prove invincible, the heart of the American people is with him and not with Mr. Bright at this juncture, because they regard his whole late career as a steady march toward justice and right. . . . For two score years, now, he has been the leader of progress in the British islands."

That the American speaks truth, it is made sufficiently clear by the resolutions of sympathy with Ireland, and of support of Mr. Gladstone, which were passed without opposition by so many Legislatures in the Union. Mr. Bright made a mistake in supposing that the clap-trap of a rhetorical flourish would convert the Americans from being lovers of liberty, into sympathizers with oppression.

SECRETARY BALFOUR MEETS HIS MATCH.

On the occasion of Secretary Balfour's last trip to Dublin to proclaim the League, advantage was taken by "Peggy Dillon," the Galway midwife, whom he slandered in Parliament, as an excuse for passing the Coercion Act, to serve a writ upon him for defamation of character. Peggy lays her damages at £500. The Secretary was taken completely by surprise; but after the first ebullition of rage, the courageous defamer of the indomitable Galway woman ordered the Under-Secretary, Sir William Kaye, to attend to it. "Appearance" has been entered to the writ in the law courts. We may expect some amusing episodes as the result of this turning of the tables, which is certain to cover the Secretary for Ireland with ridicule. The plucky Irishwoman will not stand to be his target.

It was expected by the Secretary that an effort would be made to serve the writ, and he had before evaded it, so great was his respect for the law of which he is ever talking; but the process-server was not to be foiled; yet it was only by stating that he had an important message from the Lord High-Chancellor that he gained access to the Secretary. The writ of court invariably emanate or are supposed to emanate from the Chancellor.

DIOCESE OF LONDON.

THE NEW ST. JOSEPH'S CHURCH AT CHATHAM. The preparations for the grand opening of the new Church, on Sunday, Oct. 23rd, at 10.30 a.m. are now so far advanced that we can present them to our readers, and shall add any other details which may come into our possession. In addition to an immense crowd from the town and country, large numbers will be present from the States, and complete arrangements have been made with the railway for reasonable and convenient carriage of passengers to Chatham. There will be excursions from Saratoga, Somers, and Dresden, on the Erie & Huron, and on the Grand Trunk from Detroit, Windsor, London and intermediate stations. His Lordship, Right Rev. Bishop Walsh, of London, will preach the dedicatory sermon during High Mass. A choir of sixty select singers, who have been practicing for some months, under the leadership of Mr. Marentette, will render Mozart's Twelfth Mass, accompanied by Spill's orchestra, of Detroit. The vocal and instrumental music will be of a high order. Among the noted lady solo singers from a distance will be Mrs. William Pettley, of Toronto, Mrs. M. Murphy, of Hamilton, while our town will be represented by Mrs. R. E. Gonnell, and other noted vocalists, whose names our reporter has not yet been able to ascertain. The Knights of St. John, of Windsor and Detroit, will act as a guard of honor to His Lordship during this imposing ceremony. The C. M. B. A.'s of Windsor and Detroit will be present. Branch No. 8, of C. M. B. A., headed by the Excelsior band, will meet the Knights of St. John, C. M. B. A.'s and other societies at the station and escort them to the Church. His Lordship, Right Rev. Bishop Dowling, of Peterborough, will lecture at the grand musical vespers at 7.30 p.m. Rev. Father William, O. S. F., and the building committee have worked indefatigably to make the day a grand success. The Secretary of the building committee, Mr.

J. J. Hannatty, has been exceedingly busy advertising and corresponding, and has left no stone unturned to make the 23rd of October a red letter day in the history of Chatham.—Plant.

SPECIAL TO THE CATHOLIC RECORD. CARDINAL TASCHEREAU AT ST. MICHAEL'S COLLEGE.

The visit of Cardinal Taschereau to St. Michael's College, Toronto, on October 7th, was an event unique in the history of that institution. Although it had been understood that the college would have the honor of receiving His Eminence some time during his stay in Toronto, it was not known till late on Thursday night that half-past ten on the following morning, but a short time for preparation, yet, by starting at an early hour and working with a will, everything was in readiness for the reception of the illustrious visitor. The preparations, though not elaborate, were as complete as the short time at their disposal would allow. An arch of evergreens, decorated with flags, had been erected at the front entrance, the walls of the ante-room were decorated with flags and mottoes, while the long corridors were tastefully draped with red and white bunting and carpeted from end to end.

Notwithstanding the unfavorable state of the weather, His Eminence, accompanied by Monsignore Marois and Vicar-General Laurent, arrived punctually at the appointed hour. He was received at the main entrance by Rev. Dr. Cushing, president of the College, and conducted to the reception room, where the members of the faculty were introduced. From the reception room they proceeded to the study hall at the east wing of the building, in which all the students were assembled. On the entrance of His Eminence, the College glee club sang the refrain "Vivat pastor bonus," and when the Cardinal had taken his seat on the dais prepared for him the following address was read by one of the students:

To His Eminence the Cardinal Archbishop of Quebec:

MAY IT PLEASE YOUR EMINENCE,—

The present amongst us of a Cardinal of our holy Church increases to us a deep feeling that we are at a loss to know how to give expression to the feelings of pride, gratitude and reverence that rise unbidden in our Catholic hearts.

Nevertheless, in your august person, most eminent Lord, we feel it a privilege to be allowed to bid a thrice loyal welcome to a dignitary of the Catholic Church next in rank to Christ's own viceregent on earth; and we beg to speak our gratitude for the unprecedented honor you have conferred on our college to-day. We, students of St. Michael's College, shall ever remember the day on which it was given us to see a Cardinal for the first time; and we shall feel doubly proud to remember that the first to gladden our eyes was the Cardinal Archbishop of Quebec, whom Catholic Canada has ever delighted to honor.

For, it is not unknown to us, Your Eminence, with what solicitude love and vigilant, jealous care you have watched over the interests of Catholic education in your own province; and we look upon this visit as a proof that your Eminence takes an interest also in the Catholic students of Ontario. Our opportunities for acquiring an education, Catholic to the core, and which swerves not by a hair's breadth from those high principles which the Catholic Church alone inherits, and which, whilst it is religious, is not in every branch of knowledge to keep abreast of the age, are comparatively few. We labor under difficulties unknown in the more Catholic parts of this land; but your presence here to-day, by the evidence it affords of your kindly sympathy and your fatherly interest in our welfare, will be an encouragement to us in the present and an incentive to renewed efforts in the future. We, too, will strive for that form of education, whose principles are enshrined in the motto "Fides, Religio, and Fatherland," and of which Your Eminence has ever been the zealous patron and unflinching advocate.

We feel, then, that it is an honor greater than we have deserved to be permitted to show our love and veneration for one whom the Holy Father, rewarding just merit with commensurate dignity, has chosen to raise to so exalted a rank. And while we regret that we were unable to lend our voices to help swell the hymns of joy that rang through the Canadian churches a year ago, we are glad to-day by the opportunity offered by your Eminence's presence, of expressing the same sentiments of loyalty and affection.

Assuring you, most illustrious Cardinal, that the words we have uttered but poorly express the sentiments of our hearts, and with a promise to breathe before God's altar a fervent prayer for your Eminence's health and happiness, we beg for ourselves and our college your Eminence's blessing.

THE STUDENTS

OF ST. MICHAEL'S COLLEGE.

Toronto, Oct. 7, 1887.

His Eminence replied briefly, complimenting the singers and thanking the students for their address. "You have sung for me," said he, "vivat pastor bonus in aeternum." I will in reply, noting for I am a poor singer, but say, "vivat alumnus bonus in aeternum." Yes, "alumnus prudens, alumnus obediens, alumnus pius; etenim, ut ait Sanctus Paulus, pietas ad omnia utilis est, promissionem habens vitae quae nunc est, et futurae."

At the request of one of the youngest of the pupils, who was sent forward for the purpose, the Cardinal then gave the students holidays till the following Tuesday. The announcement was received with loud cheering, in the midst of which His Eminence was conducted from the hall.

Not a day passes over the earth but men and women of note do great deeds, speak great words and suffer noble sorrows. Of these obscure heroes, philosophers and martyrs the greater part will never be known till that hour when many that are great shall be small, and the small great.—Charles Reade.

SPECIAL TO THE CATHOLIC RECORD. MIDNIGHT BURIAL.

Mount Forest, Oct. 9th, 1887. The funeral of the late Matthew Cassin, brother of Father Cassin, parish priest of Mount Forest, took place at ten o'clock, p.m., on Thursday, the 6th inst. Deceased died of typhoid fever in Cain City, Colorado, on September the 24th ult. The remains were received by his brother William Cassin of Buffalo, who went for that purpose the long and weary journey. The funeral was expected to take place early in the afternoon, but owing to unforeseen circumstances the corpse did not arrive until a late hour. The town was literally crowded all afternoon with people from different parts of the parish, who came to show their respect for their pastor in his time of sorrow. Although the day was wet and disagreeable and roads difficult to travel nearly all remained until midnight and attended the funeral. Owing to the contagious nature of the disease of which the young man died it was deemed more prudent to inter the corpse that night. The train arrived at the Grand Trunk depot at 9.30 p.m., bearing the body of the deceased. The funeral procession began about 10 p.m. to Kenilworth cemetery. A more solemn procession was never witnessed in this part of the country. Before the hearse rode the clergyman present, Rev. Father Cassin, brother of deceased; Father O'Connell, of Paris, and Father Kearney, of Arthur. Next came the pallbearers, followed by the hearse, which was drawn by two snowed white horses, and illuminated for the occasion. Above the car was erected a large crucifix which glittered mystically in the moonlight. When the procession began, as if by a divine decree, or courteous act of the angelic spirits above, now companions we hope of the dear departed one, the dark clouds of a few moments before fled and revealed the star-studded vaults of heaven gloriously lighted by an almost full moon. Onward the vast and solemn cortege moved through the silent streets out into the broad country. As far as the eye could reach the road was dark with vehicles. The cemetery was reached at about 11.30 p.m. when the line came to a halt, and all gathered round to see the star-studded vaults of heaven gloriously lighted by an almost full moon.
