Yesterday the ice jammed the tug Vick up against the river bank. With some difficulty Captain Vick Robinson and his crew Geo. Reeves and James Hardaker managed to get the tug out of her precarious position and the staunch little craft tied up at Crow's dock. This morning the ice jam threatened Capt. Vick's barge the "Red Sides" and he sent his crew out to cut away the ice jam.

A large cake of ice caught between the north shore and the centre pier. The crew of the Vick got out on this cake of ice and cut it away. They had a nasty job and several narrow escapes from a wetting.

It has been suggested, and the suggestion is meeting with favor, that pictures of all the former mayors of Chatham be secured and hung in the Council Chamber, Harrison Hall. The proposal is that relatives and friends of the ex-mayors provide the pictures.

Ed. Snook and Orville Dolsen were in Detroit yesterday. They saw Mrs. Langtry play the part of the Duchess in the Cross-Ways. Mr. Dolsen says that the Jersey Lily may be an old woman but you can't tell it. "She is a beautiful woman and doesn't show any signs of age," is the North Chatham grocer's impression of the great actress.

The Chatham Manufacturing Co. are progressing under the business management of W. R. Landon. During the past year they added a large shipping room and paint shop to their factory. This year they are going to put in a new boiler and build a large boiler house. The improvements will cost in the neighborhood of $3,000. The boiler is already in position.

Messrs. O. L. Lewis, W. E. Gundy and Drainage Referee J. B. Rankin drove out to Raleigh this afternoon to inspect the Pike drainage scheme and also the pump house. This inspection arises out of the case of Bradley vs. Raleigh Township, an action for damages by reason of his land being flooded last spring.

THE FEAR OF HUMBUG

Prevents Many People From Trying a Good Medicine

Stomach troubles are so common and in most cases so obstinate to cure that people are apt to look with suspicion on any remedy claiming to be a radical, permanent cure for dyspepsia and indigestion. Many such pride themselves on their acuteness in never being humbugged, especially in medicines.

This fear of being humbugged can be carried too far, so far, in fact, that many people suffer for years with weak digestion rather than risk a little time and money in faithfully testing the claims made of a preparation so reliable and universally used as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Now Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are vastly different in one important respect from ordinary proprietary medicines for the reason that they are not a secret patent medicine, no secret is made of their ingredients, but analysis shows them to contain the natural digestive ferments, pure aspicin, pepsin, the digestive acids, Golden Seal, bismuth, hydrastis and nux. They are not cathartic, neither do they act powerfully on any organ, but they cure indigestion on the common sense plan of digesting the food eaten thoroughly before it has time to ferment, sour and cause the mischief. This is the only secret of their success.

Cathartic pills never have and never can cure indigestion and stomach troubles because they act entirely on the bowels, whereas the whole trouble is really in the stomach. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets taken after meals digest the food. This is all there is to it. Food not digested or half digested is poison as it creates gas, acidity, headache, palpitation of the heart, loss of flesh, and appetite and many other troubles which are often called by some other name. They are sold by druggists everywhere at 50 cents per package.

RAID VETERANS

The meeting of the Fenian Raid veterans last night, which was to be held in the old Town Hall, did not materialize. The object of the meeting was to provide the means to send the delegates to New Ontario to select the lands in Temiskaming and Rainy River districts.

Captain S. M. Smith, however, is out with a list and expects to secure enough names to make the cost to each veteran quite reasonable. Two delegates will likely be sent instead of three.

GARVER AT THE O. O. I.

The lecture given in the C. C. I. Hall last night by Leonard Garver, was a very interesting one indeed. It was attended by a large number of Chatham's intelligent people, who, judging from the many complimentary remarks passed afterwards, were thoroughly delighted with the evening's entertainment.

Mr. Garver lectured on Victor Hugo's great novel, "Les Misérables." He treated the career of Jean Valjean, the hero of the work, showing the workings of the man's conscience in the different phases of the life which he led, first as a boy of 17, when he undertook to support his sister and seven children, then as a convict at the galleys, where he was sent for stealing a loaf of bread to keep these seven children from starving. He then spoke of the man's struggle after 19 years of imprisonment, of the awakening of his conscience by the good old Bishop, of his attainment to influence and wealth, and also of the great struggle of his life when, after he had attained to this position of greatness and eminence under another name, he gave himself up into the hands of the law as the real Jean Valjean, although it caused him to be imprisoned again.

All through his life the struggle of right against wrong was displayed, proving conclusively that conscience is either the light that guides a man once under another name, or the scorpion that whips him into all misery.

Mr. Garver's opening was especially fine, his language chaste and the sentiment of the purest and highest. The lecture lasted through two hours and was given without reference to any note. There were places, however, where Mr. Garver permitted his voice to drop so low that he was scarcely heard, and his delivery was so rapid that his audience could not fully follow him and he failed to make the best use of the full, rich voice with which nature has endowed him. It was a most enjoyable evening, and Mr. Paterson is to be congratulated upon bringing this class of an entertainment to Chatham.

Mr. Garver was introduced by Dr. A. W. Thornton, of the C. C. I. Board. During the evening also W. H. Brackin, Chatham's popular tenor, gave a number of solos. Miss Flossie Bogart acted as accompanist.

CATARH CANNOT BE CURED with local applications, as they cannot reach the seat of the disease. Catarrh is a blood, or constitutional disease, and in order to cure it you must take internal remedies. Hall's Catarrh cure is taken internally, and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure is not a quack medicine. It was prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country for years, and is a regular prescription. It is composed of the best tonics known, combined with the best blood purifiers, acting directly on the mucous surfaces. The perfect combination of the two ingredients is what produces such wonderful results in curing Catarrh. Send for testimonials.

FOREMAN & CO.

The many thrifty housekeepers of Chatham were treated to a very unique display of linens in Foreman's dry goods store a few days ago. This firm have just received a choice shipment of the very best made Scotch and Irish linens, which were tastefully displayed in the millinery show rooms. These linens are among the very finest ever shown in the Maple City, and the display was visited by large numbers of Chatham ladies who did not hesitate to express their admiration.

One cloth shown was the exact duplicate of the linen used by the Duke and Duchess during their recent trip through Canada. Another was almost the same pattern as that used at the wedding of Queen Wilhelmina.

Some very pretty cloths were shown in the Louis XIV. pattern with the coat of arms in the centre and a fancy border.

Mr. Foreman was fortunate in purchasing these linens before the recent jump in the market, so that the prices are very reasonable. A number of imperfect cloths with weaver's imperfections, are also on hand. These imperfections are very slight and these cloths are eagerly looked for and quickly bought up.

Mr. Foreman is indeed fortunate in procuring such a choice assortment of linens, and no housekeeper should fail to call and inspect his stock.
