

the Lord has been with us in the conversion of sinners, and in helping believers to a higher walk in the Christian life. We had six seekers the first night. Glory to His name. We are now nearly fifty miles from North Bay. If you were to see this country you would be contented with the sections where you are. It is an easy matter to walk on stones here. You can go to the top of a rock and look down on the village below you. There is a rock just across the river rising to the height of four hundred feet. This place is built just where the Mattawa River flows into the Ottawa. Two beautiful streams. The place has been a Hudson Bay trading fort for nearly a hundred years. The "Drivers" are a class of men who "drive" logs down the river for hundreds of miles. I think there were about twenty of them drowned the last season. We think of going towards Ottawa for the next campaign. Rev. S. Huntington is down at Pembroke attending District Meeting. We shall know more when he returns. We are in the Lord's hands. The minister here works on the line of Holiness, and his wife is a fine worker. Three-fourths of the population here are Roman Catholics.

WOODSLEE.—Bro. Tait writes: We are laboring in a small church in the country. Half of the population are Romanists. It is the smallest church and the smallest congregation we have yet had. But the dear Lord is blessing us. Old professors are getting stirred up, and about fifteen have given themselves to the Lord.

BELLEVUE, MICH.—This morning, July 20th, I felt led to write to you a few lines. On Saturday evening about 9.30 I arrived here, tired and dusty after my ride of 200 miles. Sabbath work rather hard on me after the previous day's journey. The morning service was one of blessing. Bro. Odlum spoke from the words, "They were all filled with the Holy Ghost," after which I urged the people to come out for the baptism of power. Some twenty or thirty responded by coming to the altar. In the afternoon we drove seven miles to a neighboring village, and held a service which was led by Bro. Arney, my new companion in the work. We had a glorious time. Back to Bellevue for evening. Church filled, and deep seriousness among the people. I feel somewhat lonely in the work here, but I delight to labor for the salvation of sinners.

Later.—July 27th: The work is doing well. Over twenty have sought and found Christ as their Saviour. Last Sabbath evening we had a service of great power. The whole congregation seemed to be moved. About fourteen came out for pardon, ten of whom bore testimony to the power of Christ to save. Praise God. Some of the lowest classes in the town are being reached, and are pressing their ungodly companions to come to Christ. One man came to the altar the worse of liquor, and was gloriously saved. He is now working for God. A colored man who had not been at church on account of paralysis foretold years was brought to our meetings in a carriage and was converted. The devil is getting very angry, and is stirring up the people, but Jesus leads the way for us, and we are going forward to victory. We spend half an hour in the park before service. Large crowds gather, and give good attention. Bro. Arney, my companion in the work, is alive to God, and full of power. He means business. We are praying for the work all over. We go (D.V.) to Iona to a camp meeting on August 12th, for one week, then to Albion to another camp-meeting for a week. Love to all my comrades in Canada. Tell the boys to pray for us. Yours in the work,

JOHN MURDOCH.

BLUEVALE.—We went to Kinburn on Sunday, July 10, and held three services. The Lord was present in each service, abundantly blessing and strengthening us. Came to Sunshine following Wednesday, and led two services. The Lord was very nigh unto us, and all seemed to realize the gracious presence of the Master. Sister Cook and myself go to Ebenzer to-night to take charge of some services there. Although we feel our own weakness and unworthiness, we have the precious promises of God to lean upon, and He always gives us grace to do His blessed will. We have secured some subscribers for THE EXPOSITOR.

MAGGIE COOK and NINA COOK.

CLIFFORD.—You have no doubt heard through Glen that we are fighting away here. God is pouring out His Holy Spirit. To-night I cannot refrain from saying, "Praise the Lord." My heart overflows in love to God for the victory He has given us. Oh, it is good to see the penitent form full of seekers; and many of them fathers and mothers. I never labored in a place where there were so many unsaved parents as here. But to-night I think there was only one father who did not come forward, and even he held up his hand for prayer. We
