Dear Mr. Meighen:

I was disgusted to read in the Free Press this morning an account of Heplurn's vicious attack upon you.

Surely the people of Ontario will not tolerate this man much longer. He seems bound to try to get you. Some people I suppose will applaud him as a great coward because of course a large body of public relishes a charge against a person like yourself and some people would rather believe ill than good.

I am sorry to see the Premier of Ontario attack you but I am certain that you will be able to take care of any investigation that is undertaken provided it is conducted fairly and with justice. I hate for your sake this constant sniping and hope that you will some day be able to show up that old wind bag for what he is.

Yours sincerely,
C. B. M.
