

30 PERCHERONS

Also Shires, Hackneys and Clydes, have just arrived with our new importation from Scotland, England and France, of high-class stallions and mares. Many of them prizewinners in their native lands. Bred by the best breeders. Percherons, blacks and grays, weighing 1,600 to 2,000 pounds. Shires at two years old weighing 1,700 pounds. Clydes, bays and blacks, 4 and 5 years old, weighing 1,800 to 2,000 pounds, bred by the best in Scotland. Our Hackneys are bays and chestnuts, combining size, quality and breeding that cannot be beaten. We have a few first-class young stallions that we will sell at cost, to make room for our next importation; and all for sale at reasonable prices.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS. Miscellaneous.

SCRATCHES.

Can you recommend a good remedy for scratches in horses? G. T.

Ans.—Prevention consists in being careful not to overfeed with grain, and giving exercise when not at regular work. Keep the parts dry and clean, and avoid washing with warm water, unless carefully dried and bandaged immediately after. To cure a case, first give a purgative ball of 6 to 10 drams aloes and 2 drams ginger, according to size. Feed bran till purgation ceases, and very little grain till he is put to work. If the case is chronic, follow up with 3 drams nitrate of potash twice daily for a week or ten days, or with one to one and a half ounces Fowler's solution of arsenic, twice daily for a week. Local treatment depends upon the weather. Lotions, oils or ointments are generally used; lotions in warm weather, or when the patient is used on dusty roads or fields, but oils or ointments are preferable in cold weather. Sometimes they are used alternately. A favorite lotion is made of 1 ounce each of sulphate of zinc and acetate of lead, $\frac{1}{2}$ ounce of carbolic acid, and a pint of water. Perhaps the best ointment is one dram oxide of zinc to six drams lard; rub once a day. Before applying either lotion or ointment, poultice, every six or seven hours for a couple of days and nights, with poultices of warm linseed meal and a little powdered charcoal, then use the ointment or lotion two or three times daily. If the legs get wet rub them dry; if muddy, allow them to dry, and then brush. Do not wash.

COVER CROP FOR ORCHARD.

What would be the best crop to grow on an orchard, to plow in, to enrich and loosen the soil, rape, buckwheat, cow peas or clover, and when would be the best time to sow it? The trees are peach, plum, cherries and grapes. ONTARIO.

Ans.—All the above crops are good, with the exception of cow peas, which are adapted to a warmer climate than ours. In addition to the above crops, hairy vetch is unsurpassed as a cover crop for soils in need of nitrogen enrichment. Oats are recommended by not a few successful peach-growers, and for poor land, where it is hard to get a catch of other crops, rye is to be highly recommended, but be sure it is plowed under early the next spring, else it will rob the trees. Rotation of cover crops is advisable. Sow rye one year, oats the next, vetches the next, and so on, being guided in selection of a crop, however, by the condition of soil and growth of trees. If they are making excessive wood-growth, use oats or rye, instead of vetches and clover. Do not sow clover too often in a peach orchard, or an excessive amount of nitrogen may be accumulated, and too liberal fertilizing with nitrogen is not good for the peach trees, or, rather, for the peach crop. Sow the cover crop about the middle of July, whenever the soil is well-mellowed and moist.

TRADE TOPIC.

SNIDER'S BEST EARLY POTATO, advertised in this paper by Mr. Thomas Bousfield, Carlisle, Wentworth Co., Ont., should receive consideration on its merits, as the best early potato is a boon that interests all farmers and gardeners. Out of 116 varieties tested at the O. A. C., Guelph, Snider's stood best, being free from rot, yielding 300 bushels per acre, and maturing in 83 days. On page 380 of "The Farmer's Advocate," for Feb. 28th, 1907, is shown a picture of a leaf of this favorite variety that is said to have measured 6 inches in width. See the advertisement in that issue and in this, and judge for yourself as to the claims of Snider's Early.

"My dear," said the caller, with a smile, to the little girl who occupied the study while her father, an eminent literary man, was at dinner, "I suppose you assist your father by entertaining the bores?"

"Yes, sir," replied the little girl, gravely, "please be seated."
