Happily, in Australia there is a wide-awake and energetic Catholic press. It had heard of Chiniquy. It was familiar with his whole life, from his miserable days in Illinois down ton to the period when he converted his thousands and tens of thousands in Montreal, on the approved Protestant missionary plan, which finds results for missionary reports in a very remarkable manner. What is still better, it had a scrap-book, and from the New York and Illinois papers of 1859, and the Montreal papers of 1873, it gave Mr. Chiniquy facts and figures, places and dates. The result can be imagined. Even the secular papers laughed Chiniquy to treal. scorn, and the comic paper, the Sidney Punch, reported for its readers the following as Mr. Chiniquy's first oration.

brewery of Carling & Co., situated on the corners of Piccadily, Ann and Talbot streets, London, was dis overed to be on fire. In a few minutes after the alarm was sounded the members of the fire brigade in command of Chief Engineer Wastie, were on the scene und in a very short time five streams of water, from the adjoining hydrants were brought to play upon the burning structure. At one time it was supposed that the fire had been subdued, but, suddenly, an explosion took place which shook the massive walls to their very foundations. The effect of the explosion, which was caused, it is surmised, by the ignition of malt dust, was to renew the fire on a more extensive scale than before.

THE ORATION.

My name is Basil Tertullian Athanuasius Chini- lings. quy. I was the most learned, the most eloquent the most spiritual-minded priest of the Roman Church in Canada. The Pope honored me, the French Canadian bishops loved me, the people adored me-but my humility always stood in the land from Winnipeg. way of my advancement. I sought to be alone and forgotten-but great trials were reserved for me. forgotten—but great thats were restricted by a new iron power of the Roman Church, listen to my simple bridge over Smith's Creek at Port Hope, the third power of the Roman Church, listen to my simple narrative. I was, as I told you, a priest of that Church, when first the light of truth stole in upon my soul, and I began to think that a lonely penitential life in a cold country did not commend clerical celibacy to right reason, or human sympathynor the life of Gregory the Great to my admiration. I spoke to my Bishop about my spiritual difficulties ; he was the diocesan of Manitoulin, and vicarapostolic of the Sault St. Marie and Lake Huron ; "Hold your faith," exclaimed his lordship, " and we will send you with a jewelled mitre on your head among the Ottawas and the Pottawatamies." They sent me on a mission to the Mohawks of the Bay of Quinte, with six bottles of holy water, two clean shirts, and a copy of the Syllabus. I spent some months among these attractive natives, explaining months among these attractive natives, explaining to them the temperature of purgatory. Suddenly I doubted the intense heat of this region, as it is theologically described, and I resolved to satisfy my-self on the subject. I read the Fathers, in four hundred folios. One of the Mohawhs (Ambrose Jerome Augustine Gregory Mohawk was his patris-tic name) had the edition in his wigwam. I spent three or four days and nights on my knees over the Fathers, and read every line of them-and on a fine, bright morning, in the Bay of Quinte, 1 found out that the Fathers had no idea of the penal and cleansing flames of Purgatory-cared no more for sacer- last.

ATTEMPTED ROBBERY IN MCGILLIV-RAY. A WOMAN SHOOTS A MASKED BURGLAR WHILE DEFEND-ING HER HOUSE.

Some short time ago burglars entered the house of Mrs. Fogarty, who resides on the Proof Line, above Clandeboye, and took therefrom $250. No attempt was made to arrest the robbers, the Peace Officers taking not the slighest notice of the affair. Emboldened by their success, the scondrels returned on Sunday night in order to secure more plunder. They were masked as before, and had an axe to break ith her children. She had kept a revolver always with her children. She had kept a revolver always loaded since the former robbery—and this did good service on this occasion. The burglars finding the doors fastened commenced at once to beat it open with an axe. When they had made quite an openwith an axe. When they had made quite an open-ing Mrs. Fogarty, watching her opportunity, scized the head of the axe and drew it into the hall. She then at once fired through the aperture. The shot took effect and the villains fled, but the woman be-

joy. ng alone was unable to pursue them. Next morn-ng blood was observed in the snow, and traces of the same were distinguished for nearly half a mile.

Mrs. Fogarty went to Lucan to place the matter before some one of the magistrates there. We are informed that she was advised to see the village mormed that she was advised to see the vinage constable, and he would find the guilty parties. We hope, however, for decency's sake, that this is not the case.

GEORGE CORBETT WINS THE MEDAL IN THE SPEED RACE.

The third fancy dress carnival held at the we end rink on Friday evening was a most successful afiair. The attendance of maskers and spectators, although perhaps not so large as at the two previous festivals, was fair, and the proceedings of the even-ing were cf a most enjoyable nature. The ice was in good condition, the costumes, or the majority of them, were new and varied, and the scene was very interesting. The band was present and rendered at intervals, selections of music.
