When Bishop Whittaker was in Candelaria, Nevada, recently, he took a stroll in the outskirts of the camp with a party of ladies and godly gentlemen. A man was seen laboriously turning a windlass which hoisted from a shaft a bucket filled with rock. The capt things with rock. The only thing remarkable about the man at the windlass was his hat, the crown of which was cut clean off, allowing the hot sun to pour down upon a perfectly bald head, some waggish friends having recommended this arrangement as sure to produce a crosshaving recommended this arrangement as sure to produce a crop of hair. The Bishop and his party stood watching the man toiling and grunting at his heavy labor for several minutes, and then the labor for several minutes, and then the kind-hearted clergyman spoke up with concern, and said: "My friend, why don't you cover up your head? This hot sun will affect your brain." "Brain, is it?" cried the man, as he gave the windlass nnother heavily-creaking revolution. "Great the man, as ne gave the windless another heavily-creaking revolution.
"Begob, an' if I had any brains, d'ye think I'd be here pullin' up this bucket?"

The Bishop and his party hastily retired as the gentleman at the windlass proceeded to express, between tugs and grunts, in a strong way, his opinion of men who had been born like himself with out brains.

The Bad and Worthless

The Bad and Worthless are never IMITATED or COUNTERFEITED. This is especially true of a family medicine, and it is positive proof that the remedy IMITATED is of the highest value. As soon as it had been tested and proved by the whole world that Hop Bitters was the purest, best and most valuable family medicine on earth, many imitations sprung up and began to steal the notices in which the press and people of the country had expressed the cme on earth, many imitations sprung up and began to steal the notices in which the press and people of the country had expressed the merits of H. B., and in every way trying to induce suffering invalids to use their stuff instead, expecting to make money on the credit and good name of H. B. Many others started nostroms put up in similar style to H. B., with variously devised names in which the word "Hop" or "Hops" were used in a way to induce people to believe they were the same as Hop Bitters. All such pretended remedies or cures, no matter what their style or name is, and especially those with the word "Hop" or "Hops" in their name or in any way connected with them or their name, are imitations or counterfeits. Beware of them. Touch none of them. Use nothing but genuine Hop Bitters, with a bunch or cluster of green Hops on the white label. Trust nothing else. Drugsists and dealers are warned against dealing in imitations or counterfeits.

Employment.

Rest comes from change of scene, from the use of another set of faculties, rather than from dull, and listless inaction. Hence the exhilaration felt by the tired city merchant, banker or clerk, who is fortunate enough to pass at least his Sum-mer months in the suburbs, and become interested in the culture of flowers, trees or shrubs. He plants and digs, trains and waters, among his little favorites, the leiswaters, among his little favorites, the leiswaters, among his fittle lavorites, the leis-ure hours passing pleasantly away, while his mind and body gain rest and satisfac-tion. There's nothing like familiarity with Mother Earth for strength and recu-
