OFFICERS ELECTED For Epworth League of St. James Methodist Church

OTHER SIMCOE NEWS Former Simcoe Merchant Passes at Spokane

(From our own Correspondent)
Simcoe, May 1.—A very pretty wedding took place at high noon yesterday, at Lynn River Stock Farm, the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Alex. Wallace, just north of the town, when Sarah Cornelia Mason, sister of Mrs. Wallace, daughter of Rev. Walter E. Mason, of Lobo Baptist church, was married to George Arthur Ronson, of Courland. The ceremony was performed by the bride's father, in the presence of Mrs. George Ronson, mother of the groom, the Wallace family, Messrs. Wm. E. and Wallace H. Mason, of Townsend, brothers of the bride, and other immediate relatives. The bride, becomingly robed, was led to the nuptial altar by her brother, Wm. E. Little Sarah A. Wallace, niece of the bride, acted as flower girl.

The young couple went east on their honeymoon, and will reside at Courland on their return. The bride's family are well known in Townsend, her father having formerly had charge of the Tyrrell and Bloomsburg circuits. Mr. Ronson is known as a druggist in Oshawa, and at Thompson's drug store, Tillsonburg. Epworth League Appoints Officers

Former Simcoe Merchant Passes at Spokane
Word was received here on Monday morning, by his sister, Miss Carnochan, that St. Norbert, Peter Carnochan, once a prominent dry-goods merchant here, died in Spokane, Wash., on Sunday night, in his 82nd year, after a short illness from pneumonia. Up to the last few days Mr. Carnochan enjoyed good health. He recently spent two years here and returned to Spokane to his son, about one year ago. Mr. Carnochan came to Simcoe some sixty years or so ago, a young man of integrity, and business ability. The family left here many years since. Mrs. Carnochan, since deceased, was buried in Woodhouse cemetery, at St. Johns, and thither the remains of her husband will be brought presently to be reinterred. At the passing of one of these now very few remaining members of the parent stock of business Simcoe, there is much reflection and among the older pioneers, a long eulogy of the vista of the past, and recall the whole checked way with its light and shade. A pat it was, perhaps of which we write.

According to the new dog-tax law, the time for paying the tax expired last night at 12 o'clock. All persons who to-day tender the money, paying a dog for which the tax was not paid, are guilty of a violation of the town by-law. Should any of these appear at the police office, they are by the act provided the constable with evidence Simcoe—3 prosecution, and the chief of police has no authority to settle any case by accepting the tax. It is quite similar to the water-rates collection in that those who come to pay, miss the discount. This phase of the matter has not occurred to many owners of canines in town, and through the press over one third of the owners have either destroyed the animals or ignored the town by-law. And now what? The list of tags issued yesterday is given below:—70, Mrs. E. C. Stevens, coach; 71, Mrs. R. E. Cook, fox terrier; 72, Geo. Birt, collie; 73, Bruce Green, terrier; 74, Fred Grey, fox terrier; 75, Jno Innes, collie; 76, Wm. Innes, collie; 77, W. A. Bruce, collie; 78, Thos Acomb, fox terrier; 79, Alfred Hitchcock — 80, 81, Mac Haynes, beagle hound; 82, Tracey Lyke, fox terrier; 83, Hugh Austin, Spaniel-airoide; 84, Dan McColl, fox terrier; 85, Mrs. James England, spaniel; 86, Fred Marr, collie; 87, Wm. Wilson, bull pup; 88, Mrs. Tees. Total 87. No. 80 being blank. The former portions of this convenient list will be found in the issues of Friday, Monday and yesterday. If the cur across the street is not listed, give the policeman a tip.

Press Photographs.
Messrs. H. P. Innes, K.C., and Bruce Whitsett, were in Toronto yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. McCready spent the week-end in Toronto.

Since being wounded, Morley Knowles writes to friends in town stating that his condition is not serious nor the wound even severe.

We have been requested to leave the fish offer of yesterday open for a few days and have decided to hold it good till Saturday night. Yesterday was perhaps a bad day for anglers.

WANTED—Two or three copies of the Norfolk News of April 4th. Simcoe Agency would be much obliged to any subscribers who could supply this issue.

The number of members present at the closing meeting of the Hamilton and London synod today had dwindled considerably, a large number having left for home last night, and another contingent departed on the morning train today. The speaker reminded his hearers of the prayer of the Presbytery of Paris which was transmitted to the General assembly. The overtire petitioned the Dominion and the British parliaments to abolish the wet canals for Canadian troops. The overtire reads, in main, as follows: "We beg the synod to approach and adopt this overtire to the general assembly, praying said assembly to petition the Dominion and the Imperial governments to secure as far as possible the immunity of our soldiers from the drink evil."
The speaker reminded his hearers that in supporting the overtire, they were standing with great men on this question. While the czar of Russia might be described as weak in history, it must be remembered that he had exhibited enough strength to decree a state of prohibition in that country. He is amazed that soldiers standing in the House of Commons persist in opposing this measure advocated by the King, to whom they have pledged their loyalty. Lord Roberts and Lloyd George have both urged the enforcement of this measure. The speaker declared that in standing with these prominent men, the church would be demanding the elimination of this evil, which has bonded the hands of progress and hindered successful prosecution of the war. "Who has a right to speak in this issue?" demanded the speaker. He thought that the parents and relatives of our soldiers had a right to express an opinion, and their objections and to be demanded that their boys leave a prohibition country to fight the empire's battles, and simultaneously be called upon to combat the temptations of the drink evil. The parents certainly had a right to speak on this question, but the church also possesses this privilege, because their congregations have been severely depleted of members. "Has the church no right to speak when she has given of her sons, freely as she has? I most certainly feel assured that she has," he continued. The speaker believed that the church would do herself an injustice to remain silent on such an important moral issue. Mr. Murray quoted from several leading newspapers and magazine articles setting forth the seriousness of the situation. He characterized the conditions prevailing in the Land as utterly deplorable and damnable, and that would not improve relations between Canada and the Mother Country. He cited instances of the terrible effects resulting from the drink evil, and of the diseases associated with the drink traffic. Mr. Murray was proud of what had thus far been accomplished, but he demanded what could not have been done had not the evil existed. "Our men have been heroes," he concluded, "but they have been heroes in spite of the drink evil."

The overtire was seconded by Rev. McLeod, of Ingersoll, of the synod who has had personal experience in the Land as a member of the Canadian battalion. He protested against the continuance of such an evil. He demanded that the future of the country be put in the hands of that had cut down meat, bread and sugar, and had curtailed the wages of the working people, while at the same time had contented the liquor evil. In fairness to the canter he must be said, declared the speaker, that where stronger liquor is obtainable close at hand, it is not surprising that the camps was an advantage because in the canteens some restraint must be exercised. He was, however, in favour of the overtire proposed to the wet canteen. The motion was put to the vote and carried without a dissenting voice. A resolution was adopted and passed by the Old Land and assuring them of the heartfelt co-operation of the Hamilton and London synod in their fight for the abolition of the drink traffic in England.

Numerous communications were taken up and the business concerned therewith transacted.
A vote of the appreciation to the Board of the Zion church, the massed Presbyterian chorus of the city and the press of the city. The Rev. G. A. Woodside, speaking on behalf of the church and of the Presbyterian ministers of the city, expressed their pleasure at having the synod meeting of 1917. He felt that the act of the church in contributing force and would prove a source of encouragement to the entire district.

Mr. Johnson who has been a dominant factor in the success of the synod meeting expressed his pleasure at being allowed to assist in the proceedings and said that he was glad to see the interest of the church to-day had been faced and discussed in a commendable and frank manner that was worthy of praise.
The moderator closed the synod, when the meeting will be held in the First Presbyterian Church, London.

DECISION OF RAILWAY

The chief point at issue in this matter is, who should pay for the railway. The city contends that an improvement bargain was made with the Railway Company that St. Paul's Avenue should never have been closed and that the Railway Company has not done what it agreed to do under the agreement. The agreement was made more than ten years ago. The Railway Company disputes the contention of the City with reference to its proceedings in the courts of the province. In this matter I do not see how this Board could be expected to go behind the agreement. We must consider St. Paul's Avenue as closed so far as vehicular traffic is concerned and we cannot consider the circumstances under which it was closed. That being so, no part of the construction of the subway, so far as vehicular traffic is concerned, can be put upon the Railway Company. There is a way of communication across the railway tracks for pedestrians. The Board has power to order the construction of a subway under the tracks for this pedestrian traffic and to require the Railway Company to contribute to the cost of that subway. The traffic census taken by the applicants at St. Paul's Avenue shows that on some days more than one thousand people crossed the railway company's tracks at grade at that point. As many of these are school children it is undoubtedly a dangerous spot and I think a pedestrian subway should be constructed so that this pedestrian traffic could be kept off the tracks of the Railway Company. Such a subway I am told by our Engineer could be constructed for $10,000. I think it would be fair to put 50 per cent. of the cost of a pedestrian subway on the Railway Company. Allowing a 20 per cent. contribution out of the Railway Grade Crossing Fund towards the pedestrian subway, the amount to be paid by the City and the Railway Company would be $8,000. The Railway Company's share of this would be $4,000.

If the City wishes to construct a vehicular subway at this point, which of course would include sidewalks for pedestrian traffic, I think the Railway Company might be ordered to contribute $4,800 towards the cost of the subway. I do not think the interest of the Township of Brantford or South Dumfries in this matter is such as would warrant this Board in putting any portion of the cost of the proposed subway on them.

As this is an old highway that has never been entirely closed, I think this Board should give a contribution of 20 per cent. (not exceeding $5,000) of the cost of the work out of the Railway Grade Crossing Fund.
No order will go until the City decides whether it wants a pedestrian or a vehicular subway under the conditions I have mentioned.
